Preface.

The two heraldic Visitations of Staffordshire comprised in this volume, and made respectively by Sir Richard St. George in 1614, and by Sir William Dugdale in 1663 and 1664, are here printed from transcripts in the William Salt Library, made in 1840 by the Rev. William Hadfield, then Curate of Biddulph, and afterwards Perpetual Curate of Cleator in Cumberland.*

His transcript of St. George's Visitation was made, he tells us, "from the copy in No. 1439 Harl. MSS., Brit. Mus., collated with another copy in No. 1173 Harl. MSS., and the copy in the College of Arms;" and Dugdale's Visitation was copied by him from the MS. marked C. 36 in the College of Arms, being the official copy delivered into the College by Dugdale himself, and thus entitled:

> The Visitation of Staffordshire, begun in A° 1663, and finished in A° 1664, by William Dugdale, Esqr, Norroy King of Armes.

The copy of the Visitation of 1614 contained in the Harl. MS. 1439 is in nearly every respect the counterpart of that in the College of Arms. It is in the handwriting of Sir Richard St. George's son, Henry St. George, who, being then Bluemantle Pursuivant, probably accompanied his father on his circuit. "Three leaves of this manuscript (says the Harleian Catalogue), whereof two are fastened between pages 68 and 69, and the other between pages 76 and 77, are all of Sir Richard St. George's hand, and the descents therein are marked with the word "Entred;" with this difference, that the two first have the word "Derb." likewise added, shewing that they were entered into the Visitation Book of the county of Derby, which was made by this Sir Richard St. George A.D. 1611. These leaves therefore are to be esteemed as fragments of the original Visitation Books of these counties."*

Of Dugdale's Visitation, there are in the College of Arms two copies; the one being his original autograph MS., and the other the "Office Copy," marked C. 36, before referred to; which latter, we learn from his 'Diary,' was delivered into the Office by Sir William on 31st May 1666,† together with his Visitations of Cheshire and Shropshire, "all fairly bound up in russet leather with clasps." The original, or "first copy," was, as appears from a memorandum in C. 36, "produced in evidence at the Court of King's Bench, before Lord Chief Justice Mansfield, Sir Richard Aston, Knt., and Judge Wills, in the Barnesley case, 27 April 1776." Writing to Ashmole on 24 May 1667, Dugdale refers to it as lying in the shelf above the table in his study, "not bound up, but in loose sheets and in a pasteboard cover," as were also the original MSS. of his Visitations of Salop, Cheshire, Notts, and Derbyshire. On 30th June 1669 he records in his 'Diary' that he delivered into the College the originals of all his Visitations, "wch were sticht up in pastbords in foure volumes."

Sir William (then simply "William Dugdale, Esqr") commenced his Staffordshire circuit at Lichfield on 30th March 1663. He was accompanied by his clerk, Gregory King (afterwards Rouge Dragon Pursuivant, and subsequently Lancaster Herald), who had entered his service at the latter end of December 1662, being then "only fourteen years complete and a fortnight over." King's inclination (as he tells us in his Autobiography‡) leading him to drawing, he made such proficiency therein that Dugdale, dispensing with the services of a professional draughtsman, "contented himself with this his clerk's tricking of the arms into his Visitation of Staffordshire that now remains in the Office." It is true, he adds, "it is but too meanly done for the public office, being very short of the tricking which this clerk performed in the subsequent Visitations."

* The Staffordshire pedigrees marked entred are Astley, Braddock, and Moseley.

† The fact of the Office Copy, C. 36, not being lodged in the Heralds' College till the year 1666, will account for dates occurring in it subsequent to the official entries. In the Cotton pedigree, for instance, we find mentioned a son of Charles Cotton "born since the Visitation." The official date of the Weston pedigree is 25 April 1664, yet it is stated therein that Symon Weston died in October 1664. Several additions have been made to the Birch pedigree; and the descents of Carey, Gilbert, Rode, Skrymshire (of Johnson), and Stonyer were not recorded till 1665.

‡ Life of Gregory King, printed in the Appendix to Dallaway's 'Heraldry,' 1793.

The MS. C. 36 is a fair specimen of King's ability and skill. Besides the pedigrees and the "tricks" of arms, it contains church notes, copies of monumental inscriptions, and other memoranda, and is enriched with pen-and-ink sketches of church monuments and public buildings, some of which Shaw has reproduced in his 'History of Staffordshire.'

Comparing the Visitation of 1583 with that of 1663-64, the reader will not fail to be struck with the inferior social status of some of those who were admitted to registration by Dugdale. For the first time we find a number of what may be called the lesser gentry appearing before the visiting Herald—persons elevated by commerce, successful lawyers—in short, all who had achieved the position of gentlemen hastened before Dugdale, and placed on record as much as they knew about their ancestors and connections, even though in some instances they claimed no arms. Some of these were cadets of good families belonging to other counties, but many were either novi homines or the descendants of those who had been disclaimed at previous Visitations; and a large proportion could adduce no satisfactory proof of their right to arms. I think one great merit of Dugdale's Visitation is the exhaustive nature of his enquiries, so far as numbers are concerned. We miss, it is true, some great names;* but this was no doubt the fault of the then representatives of the omitted families who were unable or unwilling to present themselves for registration. On the other hand, we find a long list of persons, of then newly acquired importance, whose immediate ancestors, but for this Visitation, could not at this day be easily traced.

It may be interesting to note that, out of the upwards of 240 families registered by St. George and Dugdale, only the following are recorded in the 'Modern Domesday Book' as landowners in Staffordshire: Amphlett,† Bagot, Broughton, Chadwick, Chetwode, Congreve, Dyott, Eld, Fowler (-Butler, of Pendeford), Giffard, Gough (Lord Calthorpe), Mainwaring, Okeover, Sneyd, Whitgreave, Wolseley, Wrottesley, and Yonge of Charnes. Most of these possess the same estates and inhabit the same mansions as they did in 1663. To these may be added Anson (Earl of Lichfield), Coyney, Kynnersley of Loxley, Wolferstan, and others, who have inherited the estates and adopted the surnames of their maternal ancestors. Male representatives of numerous other families no doubt exist, but their names are not now to be found on the roll of Staffordshire landowners.

* Notably Lane of Bentley, Noel of Hilcote, Littleton of Pillaton, and Skeffington of Fisherwick.

† Clent being now in Worcestershire, Amphlett will be found noticed under that county.

Dugdale takes credit to himself for his great care and diligence in the exercise of his office when Norroy, as (he says) "the books of his Visitations of the several counties under his charge, now remaining in the College of Arms, will sufficiently manifest." He claims to have taken "exact notice of all collaterals," viz., uncles, aunts, brothers, and sisters, in the descents by him entered; and he particularly insists upon the zeal displayed by him in "faithfully registering the arms of all such as could manifest any justifiable right thereto," and also in "publicly disclaiming such as took upon themselves the titles of Esquire or Gentleman without just right."

Of the families whose descents were recorded by him, the arms of upwards of thirty were respited for proof, and in almost every instance it is added that "no proof was made," or that "nothing further was done therein." This suggests the question, What did he consider a "justifiable right," what sort of evidence was deemed satisfactory? The Gaywoods, who had been disclaimed in 1583, and who in 1614 entered a pedigree without arms, were allowed to bear what Gregory King declares was the coat of Malpas,* on the strength of such a coat being represented in an old window in Eccleshall Church. Similar evidence appears to have been accepted in the case of Woodhouse; while Stonyer was equally successful in obtaining official sanction to the arms he used, though all he (apparently) had to offer in support of his claim was his great-grandfather's picture "on which these arms are." On the other hand,

* See King's note (p. 145), in which he states that the coat represented in Eccleshall Church was a chevron between three pheons—the very coat, it may be added, quartered at the Visitation of 1614, for Malpas, by Peshall.

Richard Amphlett of Clent seems to have been treated somewhat harshly,—though it would appear, from the absence of any trick of his traditional coat, and the note that respite was given for shewing as well as proving the arms, that he did not comply with Norroy's order to 'bring with him such arms and crest as he then used and bore.' Nothing, it is added, was performed therein. But it appears, from a correspondence preserved in the College of Arms between Mr. Amphlett and one of the officials, that the coat he exhibited was Argent, a fesse between three lozenges azure, and that it was objected to as being the arms of a family named Hastings.* Mr. Amphlett's reply was that he would furnish the necessary proof at Easter then next, when he contemplated visiting London. But no evidence exists that this was ever done, and consequently the Amphletts, in common with several other families of equal antiquity and importance, are still regarded by the Heralds as "ignobiles:" for the "Law of arms," like that of the Medes and Persians, "altereth not."

"It will strike an examiner of pedigrees to which no arms are attached (writes Dallaway)† that the families so degraded were not unfrequently of high ancestry, and of extensive property in those counties in which they were registered; and that the escutcheon disclaimed in a former was allowed and confirmed in a subsequent Visitation. This circumstance depended entirely upon the individual representative, who in some instances treated the Earl Marshal's summons with contempt, or at least with neglect. Their descendants are therefore excluded from armorial claims, unless they are recognised by new concessions allowed by the Officers of Arms, who in such cases are directed by precedent; and the decisions made in the last (seventeenth) century can not now be controverted, but repealed by a new act of the heraldic body."

Notwithstanding the disallowance by Dugdale, many—I may almost say most—of those who made no proof continued the use of the arms they claimed, and displayed them without

* William de Hastinge bears the coat in a Roll of Arms compiled between 1278 and 1285, printed in the 'Genealogist,' pp. 216, 261, from a copy in Harl. MS. 6137.

† 'Inquiries into the Origin and Progress of the Science of Heraldry in England.' By the Rev. James Dallaway, A.M. (Earl Marshal's Secretary), 1793.

scruple upon their seals, their furniture, and their funeral monuments.*

While it must be admitted that Dugdale's Visitation contrasts favourably with that of his predecessor St. George in supplying more full and exact information, it is nevertheless disfigured by occasional inaccuracies, and by those unaccountable sins of omission of baptismal names, and in a few instances even surnames, of which the Heralds' Visitations are all more or less guilty. For example, it would seem that Daniel Watson of Burton-on-Trent did not know the christian name of his own father; while Richard Best, Zachariah Babington, Robert Comberford, John Gough, James Port, and others, could surely have furnished the baptismal names of the several gentlemen whose daughters they respectively married. William Barnesley must have known the surname of his sister Elizabeth's husband, and Edward Harewell could have supplied the christian names at least of his own sisters, even if he could not recollect those of their seven husbands. Again, Peter Bonne was apparently ignorant of his mother's maiden name; and Gerard Skrimshire of Aqualate seems neither to have known the christian name of his first wife, nor that of his second wife's father!

Of course these omissions must be ascribed to the imperfect information supplied by the individuals who, strange to say, certified, by their signatures, the accuracy of what they handed in for registration. But when we find Dugdale registering descents at the rate of thirty a day,† we cannot avoid the conclusion that he really had no time to procure the exact information which was so necessary to the efficient fulfilment of his duties as a visiting Herald.

With the sole exception of Mr. Hadfield's transcript, there is, it is believed, no complete copy of Dugdale's Visitation outside the College of Arms;‡ and the only MS. in any Public

* In the margin of the county map in Plot's 'Natural History of Staffordshire,' published 1686, the following unproved arms are engraved: Amphlett, Badduley, Edge, Wolferstan, Justice, Hopkins, etc. And also the arms of the following disclaimers: Bosvill, Burgh, Bott, Jackson, and Jorden.

† He entered 32 pedigrees at Lichfield on 30 March 1663, the first day of his Visitation.

‡ A copy of the Lansdowne MS. No. 857 (B.M.), containing the arms "taken in the Visitation of the County of Stafford made in anno 1663 et 1664," was contributed by me to vol. ii., part 2, of 'Staffordshire Collections.' It is right to add Library purporting to be a copy is that in the Harleian Collection numbered 6104.

This manuscript, which was privately printed by the late Sir Thomas Phillipps, Bart., in 1854, has the following title: "The Visitation of Staffordshire taken in the year of Our Lord 1663 by William Dugdale, Esq., Norroy King of Arms; reviewed in 1664." So far, however, from this MS. being a copy of the Visitation, it only contains about 100 imperfect and inaccurate* pedigrees. By whom and when it was written I have not ascertained, but there is a strong family likeness between it and "Degge's MSS." as quoted by Harwood in his notes to Erdeswick, and by Shaw in his 'History of Staffordshire.'

Some few of the pedigrees in Mr. Hadfield's copy of Dugdale's Visitation were furnished to him by the late Sir C. G. Young, Garter King of Arms, and bear his signature and certificate as York Herald; but the greater part of the MS. is in Mr. Hadfield's own handwriting. Some portion of it is so hastily written as to be in places difficult to decipher—when it is borne in mind that it consists solely of proper names. Under these circumstances I sought and obtained permission to collate the fair copy of the MS. which I had made for press with the original in the College of Arms. By this means I have been able to correct errors, and to supply omissions. Mr. Hadfield's copy of St. George's Visitation has also been compared by me with the Harl. MS. 1439, and with the copy in the College.

Several of the pedigrees registered in 1663-64 being continuations of those entered in 1614, I have in such cases combined the two, distinguishing St. George's entries from those of Dugdale by printing the former in italics. And where information supplied by Glover's Visitation of 1583 is repeated by St. George, I have here omitted it, referring the reader to that that I was at that date unaware of the existence in the William Salt Library of Mr. Hadfield's MS., and the few remarks with which I introduced my paper now require correction. On page 24 I stated that Chetwynd did not record a pedigree in 1663. This, it now appears, is incorrect; as are also the statements that the pedigrees of Ashmole, Astley of Woodeaton, and Smith of Newcastle, which are to be found in Harl. MS. 6104, do not appear in the original Visitation.

* One of the pedigrees in Harl. MS. 6104 purports to be the descent of a family named Yardley, but it is really that of Coleire of Yarlet. In like manner, Hinton of Lichfield is throughout written Huet.

Visitation (as printed in 'Staffordshire Collections,' iii., part 2), and thus avoided useless repetitions.

While faithfully following my originals in the spelling of proper names, I have not thought it necessary in other cases to preserve the quaint and often uncouth orthography of the seventeenth century. For "sonne and heire" I have substituted s. and h.; for "dyed w^th^out issue" I have written ob. s.p., etc., etc. In what is essentially a book of reference, I fail to perceive the utility of a rigid adherence to the style and language of a bygone age.

It is hoped that the notes which I have been able to append to a fair proportion of the pedigrees will be found useful. A thorough investigation of the history and genealogy of every family here noticed would have demanded more time and labour than I was able to afford. Consequently, my annotations are partial and unequal. For some of the information embodied in them I am indebted to friends, particularly to Mr. W. F. Carter, who has enabled me to amply annotate the three Fowler pedigrees; to Mr. John Amphlett, to whom I am indebted for notes illustrating his own family and that of Cox; and to Mr. Brooke Robinson and the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, who have supplied notes on the Persehouse, Keeling, and some other families.

Finally, the best thanks of the Society are due to Mr. Tucker, Somerset Herald, for permission to inspect the two Visitations in the College of Arms, and to Mr. Amphlett for the very excellent and almost too elaborate Index compiled by him and appended to this volume.

Ashenhurst of Ashenhurst.*

ARMS.—Or, a cockatrice, the tail nowed and terminating in a serpent's head sable, the comb, wattles, and head gules, in the beak a sprig vert.

CREST.—A cockatrice as in the arms.

Ralphe Ashenhurst of Ashenhurst in the parish of Leeke, co. Staff., Esq. Ob. circa 1624. = Elizabeth, eldest da. and coheir of William Berd of Berd in the parish of Glossop, co. Derby.

- 2. Edward Ashenhurst of Walton Grange, co. Stafford. = Katherine, da. to Sir Richard Darley of Buttercomb, co. York, Knt.
- 3. Francis† Ashenhurst of Maxfield, co. Chester. = Anne, da. to Edmund Jodrell of Yeardsley, co. Chester.

- Elizabeth, da. to Sir John Davenport of Davenport, co. Chester, Knt. 1st wife. A
- 1. Randle Ashenhurst of Glossopdale, co. Derby, æt. 77 ann. 13 Aug. 1662. = Mary, natural da. of Edward Revell of Carlingthwait, co. Denbigh, Esq. Married 6° Julij a° 1633. 2d wife. B

* This Pedigree is copied from Dugdale's Visitation of Derbyshire, in which county the then head of the family resided in 1662. For the earlier descents see the Staffordshire Visitation of 1583.

† Francis Ashenhurst was Mayor of Macclesfield 1642-3; his first wife Amy (not Anne) was buried at Taxall, co. Chester, 26 Oct. 1636, and, according to Mr. Sleigh ('History of Leek'), he afterwards married Jane, daughter of Ralph Whitticars of Adlington, co. Chester. Mr. Sleigh suggests that he was father of the Rev. Francis Ashenhurst, D.D., Archdeacon of Derby, and Rector of Kingswinford, Staffordshire, who married Anne, daughter and coheiress of John Whitehall of Park Hall, and died in 1704, aged 61, leaving issue. Possibly Mr. Sleigh is correct, and he adds within inverted commas (as quoting from some document), "nephew to Ralph Ashenhurst of Ashenhurst." But I find at Somerset House (Coke, 156), the will of an Edmund Ashenhurst of Old Park, Sedgley, gent., dated 29 Nov. 1669. The testator mentions his son Francis, his wife Mary, his daughters Penelope, Mary, Margaret, Elizabeth, Damaris, and Rebecca, and his grandchildren Dudley Ashenhurst Bagley and Francis Bagley. Administration with will annexed was granted 8 Dec. 1669 to Francis Ashenhurst, brother and guardian of Rebecca Ashenhurst, the executrix, who had died a minor. It appears from two deeds dated respectively 1653 and 1688 that a Dudley Ashenhurst Bagley was in 1688 son and heir-apparent of John Bagley of Sedgley, who, in 1635, was executor (with his brother Samuel) of the will of his father John Bagley, deceased.

- Elizabetha, ux. Joh'is Wrotesley de Wrotesley in com. Staff.

* "Elias sonne of Mr Thomas Ashmole" was baptized at St. Mary's, Lichfield, 2 June 1617. He informs us in his diary that he was "the son and only child of Simon Ashmole of Lichfield, saddler," and that he was born 23 May 1617. He married 3rdly, on 3 Nov. 1668, Elizabeth, daughter of Sir William Dugdale, and died 18 May 1692.

† The pedigree entered in 1614 is (except as above) a copy of that entered in 1583, commencing with Thomas de Astley, who married Elizabeth Beauchamp. In the Harl. MS. 1439 there is a shorter pedigree, marked "Entred," commencing with Thomas Astley, who married Mary Talbot. The only additional information supplied by it is that John Astley, younger son of the said Thomas and Mary, "maried the da. of Hord." In other respects the two pedigrees agree, the previous generations, taken from the Visitation of 1583, having no doubt been added when the pedigree was fair copied into the Visitation Book.

* This pedigree is copied from Mr. Hadfield's MSS. in the William Salt Library. There is nothing to shew from what source it was derived; possibly it is the compilation of Mr. Hadfield himself. The Vicar of Tardebigg (who died s.p. 21 Jan. 1845) never actually proved his right to the title of Lord Aston, though he presented a petition in 1819, praying that he might be officially declared Baron Aston of Forfar. There is a pedigree brought down to date in Berry's 'Pedigrees of Hertfordshire Families,' but it is not nearly so complete as the above, and is not supported by dates of baptisms, marriages, and burials.

* The 'Gentleman's Magazine' for 1751 records the death, "at his seat in Staffordshire," on the 24th of August, of "Lord Aston, Baron of Forfar in Scotland." This was James, 5th Lord Aston. He died without male issue, and as it is alleged that the peerage was conferred upon Sir Walter Aston and the heirs of his body, with remainder to the issue of William Aston of Milwich, the title is stated to have descended to this Philip as heir-at-law of the said William.

† In the 'Annual Register' for 1761 is the following: "It is said that by the death of a Scots nobleman, who died lately a Roman Catholick priest, the title descends to a man cook that lived with a General Officer in England, who, in regard to his cook's present dignity, could not think of employing him any longer in that station, but very generously raised a subscription for his support, and that on the affair being represented to his Majesty, he had ordered a pension of £200 per annum." In the same periodical for 1763 we read, "Died March 25, Lord Aston, Baron Forfar of Scotland. He was a few years ago cook to Sir . . . . Mordaunt, Bart., when the title descended to him. He is succeeded by Mr Walter Aston, a watchmaker."

* She was da. of Richard and Isabel Brettell, and was bapt. at Kingswinford 21 Dec. 1614. She was married there to George Bague 5 Nov. 1645. The will of her father, Richard Brettell of Brettell (who describes himself as "very aged"), is dated 6 March 1649, and was proved in London by Isabel his relict and executrix 1 July 1653. He mentions his eldest son Richard, and his children Richard and Sarah; his son-in-law George Bagg, and his children Jeremiah Bagg and Susanna Bagg; his son-in-law Roger Addenbrooke, and Samuel, Jeremiah, and Elizabeth, children of the said Roger. Roger Addenbrooke and Anne Brettell were married at Old Swinford, co. Worc., 8 Oct. 1639.

* A Nehemiah Bague was Churchwarden of West Bromwich in 1685.

† Jeremiah, son of George and Elizabeth Bagg, was bapt. at Kingswinford 12 May 1649. In 1697 he was a glass maker at Brettell, and in that year filed a Bill in the Court of Exchequer against Ananias Henzey and Paul Henzey, broad-glass makers, for breach of contract. A pencil note in the Visitation book states that he married Isabel Brettell.

‡ She was bapt. at Kingswinford 19 Sept. 1646.

§ Hannah Bague was married to John Hodgetts, by whom she was mother of a son John, born 1677, whose grandson, John Hodgetts, of Shut-end, Kingswinford, married the heiress of Foley of Prestwood, and had issue an only da. and heiress, Eliza-Maria, married to the Hon. Edward Foley, grandfather of the present H. J. W. Hodgetts-Foley of Prestwood, Esqr.

|| The arms attributed to this family in the Harl. MS. 1570 are Sable, three mullets of six points argent within a border ermine. According to the illuminated pedigree of Erdeswick, attested by Glover in 1586, and now in the British Museum (Add. MS. 5410), these were the bearings of Humphrey Jordan, husband of Joan, da. of Hugh Erdeswick (which Hugh died 17 H. 7). "Flotesbrook, vulgo Flashbrook," writes Erdeswick (Edit. 1844, p. 126), "was, 24 E. 1, the seat of Ricardus de Pulesdone, who had issue Jordanus de Pulesdone, who had issue Thomas Jordane, in whose race, by the surname of Jordane, it continued till about Henry the Sixth or Edward the Fourth's time, when one, Browne, who was barber to Henry, Duke of Buckingham, and thereof took the surname of Barbour, married (as I take it) to Jordane's daughter and heir." The arms borne by the Pulestons of Emral, etc., are Sable, three mullets argent.

ARMS.—Sable, a cross between four roses argent, a mullet for difference.

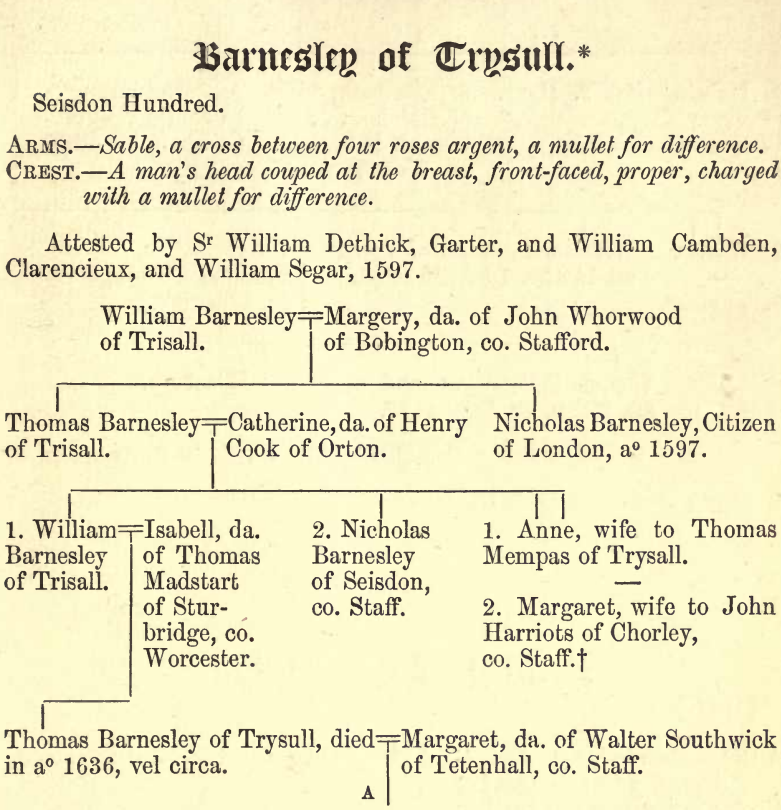
Attested by Sr William Dethick, Garter, and William Cambden, Clarencieux, and William Segar, 1597.



* The pedigree of this family was entered in the College of Arms in 1597, and was attested by Dethick, Garter, and Camden, Clarenceux, 15 February 40 Elizabeth. They claimed to be a junior branch of the Barnesleys of Barnesley Hall, Worcestershire, and were allowed the arms of that family differenced by a mullet. The pedigree then recorded shews that the William who heads this pedigree was son and heir of John Barnesley of Trysull, by .... dau. of ..... Wollaston of Trescott, and that he had three brothers and two sisters, viz., Humphrey, George, and Richard, who all died s.p., Joan, marr. to .... Barnett of Trescott, and Ellen, wife of .... Gewyn (probably Jevon) of Sedgley. Besides his two sons named above, William Barnesley had by Margery Whorwood two daughters, Anne, wife of Hugh Southall of Bemyshall, Salop, and Elizabeth, wife of John Cresswell of Wolverhampton, merchant of the Staple. Nicholas, the younger son of William and Margery, was a citizen and grocer of London. He married Jane, dau. of John Travers, or Trevis, of London, and died 15 April 1608 (M.I. at Wolverhampton), leaving issue one son, William (who appears to have died s.p.), and three daughters, viz., Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Cresswell of Wolverhampton; Margaret, married to John Bedell, "Registrar to Mr. Barker in the High Commissioners' Court;" and Susan, unmarried. William Barnsley of London, draper, stating himself to be "2 sonne" of William Barnsley of "Trisle in com. Stafford" by Isabel his wife, entered his descent in the Visitation of London 1633-4. He married Frances, dau. of Ralph Coppinger of Allhallows in Kent, and had an "eldest sonne," John, three quarters of a year old in 1633.

Symon Biddulphe,† a younger son of the house of Biddulphe in co. Staff. — A

* Underneath a trick of these bearings in the Harl. MS. 1173 is the following:—

"The Armes and Crest of Michaell Biddulfe of Elmhurst in the countie of Stafford, sonne of Simon Biddulfe of Elmhurst aforesaid; wch Simon was sonne and heire of Simon Biddulfe, a younger sonne of the house of Biddulfe of Biddulfe, branched out since their marriage with the daughter and heire of Greneway, whose antient Coate is here quartered; and the kindred acknowledged by John Biddulfe, Esqr, now living A.D. 1635.

"JOHN PHILPOTT, Somersett Herald.

"Admitted in the Visitation of London 1635
by Henry St George, Richmond."

† In the registers of St. Michael's, Lichfield, is the following entry: "Symon Byddell, mercer, buried 13 Jan. 1579;" and in the same church is this M.I.: "Here lyeth the bodies of Symon Biddulph, gent., sen., and Margaret his wife. Anno Domini 1570" (Shaw, i., 340). It appears from the registers of St. Mary's that "Mrs Margaret Byddull" was buried Dec. 1st, 1569. Simon was warden of the Lichfield Guild in 1546, and Bailiff of that city in 1553, 1562, and 1575. According to the old pedigree compiled by Vincent, and that recorded at the Visitation of 1614, he was son of another Simon, who was younger brother of Richard Biddulph of Biddulph; but this is certainly "not proven." The pedigree given by Shaw (i., 352) is grossly inaccurate. He makes Simon, the mercer, a younger son of William Biddulph by Ellen Greneway, and brother of Richard, who was dead in 1454. The mercer, he states, was father of Simon of Elmhurst, buried 29 July 1596, who married Mrs. Cicely Whitmore in 1571, and by her was father of a third Simon, who by Joyce Floyer had issue Michael, who died in 1657, aged 80. Now if Michael was 80 at his death in 1657, he must have been born about 1577, just six years after his grandmother's marriage. The registers of St. Mary's, Lichfield, record the marriage on April 30, 1571, of "Mr Symon Biddull" to "Mrs Cicely Whitmore;" and in St. Michael's registers is this entry: "1596, July 29, Symon Bidull, son of Symon Bydull, gent., was buried." As Margaret, wife of Simon, the mercer, died in 1569, it is possible that Cicely Whitmore was the old man's second wife, but it is more probable that she was the first wife of his son Simon. As to the Simon who was buried in 1596, it is clear from his parentage being named in the register that he was the son of a Simon then living; and I take him to have been a young son of the man who married Joyce Floyer, and who died 26 Oct. 1632, as recorded in the registers of St. Mary's. Simon, the mercer, had a daughter, Margaret, who was married as "Margaret Biddull" to Mr. Michael Lowe at St. Mary's, Lichfield, 2 Jan. 1570-1. Mr. Lowe was an attorney, the second son of Humphrey Lowe, descended from a family of that name at Cakemore in Hales Owen. In the pedigree of Lowe in Harl. MS. 6128 Margaret is called daughter of "Symon Bedell of Lichfield." She was buried at St. Michael's, Lichfield, 1 April 1584, and her husband, Michael Lowe, at Elford, 4 Aug. 1593.

By a Certificate from Thomas Birch of Birch in the parish of Manchester in com. Lanc., this family of Birch is avowed to be descended of that house.

* "Mrs Geies Biddle, widow, bur. 5 Feb. 1634." (St. Michael's Registers, Lichfield.) Michael, her eldest son, died 28 Jan. 1657-8, aged 80 (M.I.), and was buried at Stowe 1 Feb. Elizabeth, wife of Michael, died 30 Aug. 1657, aged 69, and was buried 1 Sept.

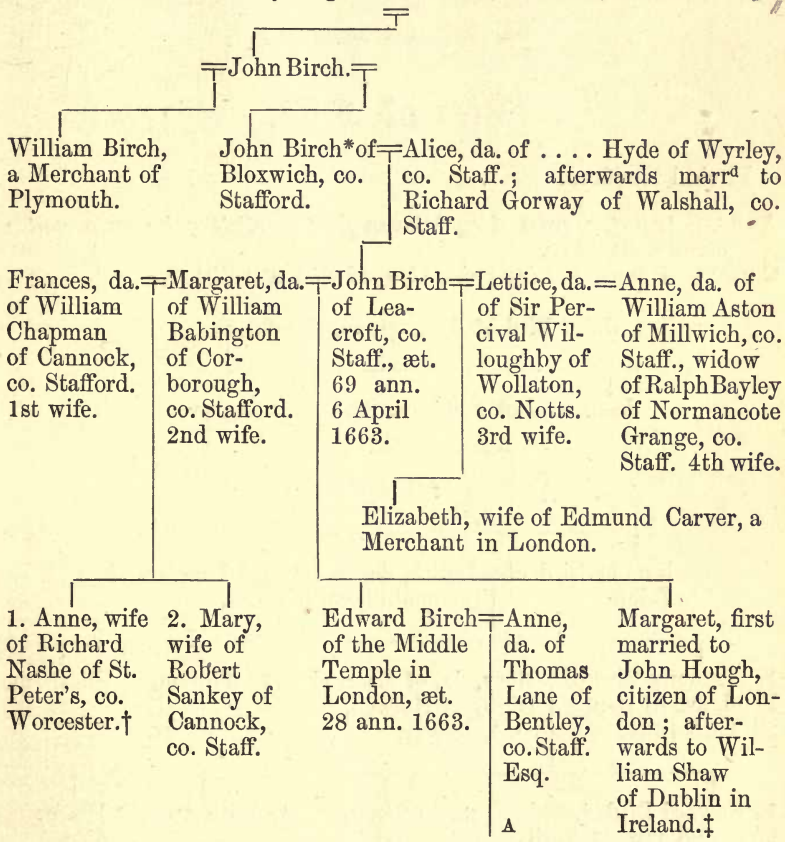
† He was bapt. at Elford 6 Nov. 1610, and was buried at Stowe 3 Nov. 1666, s.p.

‡ Theophilus Biddulph, who was a mercer in London, was created a baronet 2 Nov. 1664. He married at Morden, Surrey, 10 May 1641, Susanna, dau. of Zachary Highlord, Alderman of London, and was ancestor of the present baronet.

The proofe of the Armes is respited. Afterw^ds entred with the distinction of a canton argent on receipt of the Certificate above ment^d.

[Several additions have been made to this pedigree in a contemporary hand since its original entry in the Visitation Book. They were probably made from information supplied by John Birch when he produced the Certificate of Thomas Birch of Birch and was allowed arms.]

William Birche, a younger son of Birch of Birch, co. Lanc.



* Anne Alport, widow of Ralph Alport of Cannock, in her will, dated 25 March 1637, mentions her eldest daughter Alice, wife of John Birch of Leacroft; and Richard Alport of Cannock, in 1649, mentions his cousins John Birch, gent., and Robert Sankey.

† Anne, wife of Richard Nash, gent., "and daughter and heiress to Mr. John Byrch of Cannock," died 20 April 1651 (M.I. in St. Peter's Church, Droitwich).

‡ John and Margaret Hough were the parents of John Hough, D.D. (born 12 April 1651, died 8 May 1743, aged 93), Bishop of Worcester 1717-1743. His handsome monument in Worcester Cathedral was erected at the expense of his executor, Mr. John Byrch.

* According to the pedigree entered in the Visitation of Derbyshire, 1662, by Sir Will. Boothby, Bart. (son of Sir Henry above named), this William married Judith, daughter to Thomas Austin of Oxley, co. Stafford. She was married secondly to William Bassett of Blore, Esq., and thirdly to Sir Richard Corbet of Morton Corbet, co. Salop. The Boothby pedigree was also entered in the London Visitation of 1633-4, by Henry Boothby, afterwards Baronet, and there William Boothby's wife is stated to have been "Dame Judith Corbet, dau. of Mr Austin of the Graunge nigh Wolverhampton, and relict of Sir Richard Corbet." By her second husband William Basset (it is stated) she had issue a daughter and heir Elizabeth, married to William, Earl of Newcastle. The abovenamed Thomas Austin of Oxley died 9 April 1601, aged 63 (M.I. at Tettenhall). He had two wives—1st, Mary, dau. of Richard Cresswell; and, 2nd, Eleanor, dau. of Edward Sebright of Blakeshall, Wolverley, co. Worcester. This Eleanor was baptized at Wolverley 6 July 1553, and married there to "Thomas Austin of Bushbury" 21 Nov. 1576. The arms of Austin, as in Tettenhall Church, are, Argent, a chevron between three bear's paws erect and erased sable; but William Austyn of Oxley was "Ignobilis" in 1614.

† He died 23 Aug. 1623, and is described on his brass in Bodington Church, Northamptonshire, as "sonne of William Boothby of London, haberdasher," and of "the lady Judith Corbet of Clattercut." (Bridge's 'Northamptonshire,' 112.)

N.B. The pedigree of this family entered in 1614 is little more than a copy of that recorded in 1583, the then representative being John Bowyer (afterwards Sir John, son of William and Anne), who was aged 26 in 1583. Like that pedigree it differs from the above in styling the heiress of Knipersley daughter of Thomas, and in making William Bowyer (who married Margaret Trubshaw) father of another William, who was father of the Thomas who (according to the above pedigree) married Jennet Cotton. According to Lord Hatherton's MS. copy of the 1583 Visitation, this William married a dau. of .... Erdeswick of Sandon, which is corroborated by the old Erdeswick pedigree printed in Howard's 'Miscellanea,' vol. iii., p. 6, where Elizabeth daughter of Thomas Erdeswick, by Helena dau. of Sir Hugh Venables, Knt., is stated to have been married to "Bowyer de Knypersley." Some additions may be made to the above pedigree from the Visitation of 1583; the five daughters, for example, of William Bowyer and Katherine (Brereton) are here omitted, as also the two daughters of John Bowyer and Elizabeth (Bucknall), but they are duly given in the pedigree entered in 1614, as well as the issue of Andrew Bowyer. It may also be mentioned that Ashmole's ancestor Anthony Bowyer of Coventry, here inserted as son of Thomas, is omitted from the Visitations of 1583 and 1614. According to those Visitations Thomas Bowyer by ".... da. of .... Foxe" had issue a son William, of Heathhouse, who, by the daughter of .... Stone of London, had issue "a daughter."

ARMS.—Argent, a cross engrailed per pale sable and gules, in the dexter quarter an annulet of the last.

Sir Richard Stafford of Pipe in com. Staff. = Mawde, da. and coh. of Sir William Caumville of Clifton, co. Staff., Knt.

- Mawde, da. and h. = Sir Thomas Ardern of Elford, co. Staff., Knt.

A

* Mr. Hadfield adds that he married, 10 July 1665, Jane, da. of William Inge of Thorpe Constantine; and it appears from a pedigree of Bainbrigge in Howard's 'Miscellanea,' iv., 247, that he had issue by her an only da. and h. Martha, m. to William Bainbrigge of Lockington, co. Derby. Mrs. Bainbrigge was living in 1728 a widow, and was then owner of Dymsdale Hall and Manor. See also Burke's 'Commoners,' iv., 55.

Sir John Ardern, Knt. = Mawde,* da. of . . . . Pilkington.

Mawde, da. and h. = Thomas Stanley, 2nd son of Sir John Stanley, Knt., Lieutenant of Ireland.

Sir John Stanley† of Elford, Knt. = Mawde.

John Stanley‡ of Elford, Esq. =

Margerie, da. and coh. = William Stanton, Esq.

Anne, da. and h. = Sir William Smith§ of Elford, Knt.

Margerie, da. and h. = Richard Huddleston, Esq.

Lucie, eldest da. and coh. = John Brooke‖ of Haseler, co. Staff.

B

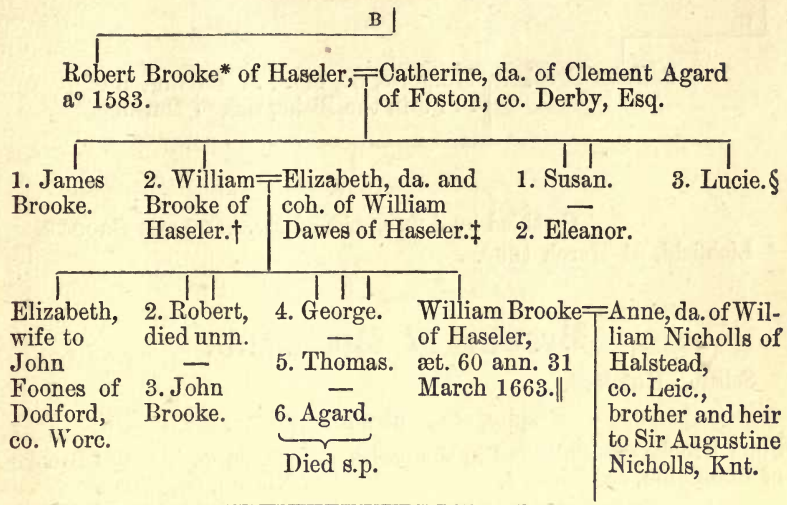
* Her true name was Margaret, and she was married secondly to Sir Robert Babthorpe, Knt. Her Inq. post mortem was taken in 2 Hen. VI., 1423; it shews that she had issue by Sir John Arderne a daughter Matilda, wife of Thomas Stanley, Esq., who was her heir and then aged 26 and more. (See Earwaker's 'East Cheshire,' i., 323.)

† He died in 1476, when John Stanley, Esq., was found by inquisition to be his son and heir and aged 30 and more. His wife Maud was daughter of Sir Richard Vernon of the Peak, co. Derby, Knt. By another wife he was father of Sir Humphrey Stanley of Pipe, who died 19 March 1504-5. (Ib.)

‡ This John was the last of the Elford line, his only son John Stanley having been accidentally killed by a blow from a tennis-ball when a youth. His post mortem inquest was taken in 1510, 1 Hen. VIII., and it was found that the said John Stanley died 21 November last past without heirs male, and that Christopher Savage, son and heir of Anne, one of the daughters and heirs of the said John, Margery, da. and heir of Anne, who was da. and heir of Margery, another of the daughters of the said John, and Elizabeth, late the wife of William Fere . . [? Ferrers], another of the daughters and heirs of the said John, were his next heirs. And the said Christopher Savage was aged 12, the said Margery was 7, and the said Elizabeth 40 years old at the date of the Inquisition. (Ib.) Of these daughters and coheirs, Anne was the wife of Christopher Savage of Elmley Castle, co. Worcester, and Margery was the wife of William Staunton. Elizabeth Ferrers in several pedigrees (and notably in Vis. War., 1619) is called Maud and made wife of Sir John Ferrers, son and heir of Sir Thomas Ferrers of Tamworth.

§ Sir William Smith died 10 January 1526. (M.I. at Elford.)

‖ "John Brooks, gent.," was buried at Elford 11 June 1571. From the same registers it appears that Alice the wife of "John Brookes, gent.," was buried



10 Oct. 1560. She was perhaps a second wife of John of Haseler, and probably the Alice, da. of John Croker of Hook Norton, Oxon, who in the Croker pedigree (Vis. Ox., Harl. Soc., p. 185) is stated to have been married to "John Broks of Stafforde." Degge says that the first Brooke of Haselour was a "serving-man," and was promoted "from the stable to his young mistress's bed."

* "Robert Brooks, gent.," was buried at Elford 23 June 1597.

† William Brooke died 22 May 1641, aged 62. (M.I. at Elford.)

‡ It is curious that the impalement for her in Elford Church exhibits the arms of Bond of Coventry, viz., Argent, on a chevron sable between three hurts as many estoiles or, on a chief gules three cinquefoils pierced of the field. "Widow Brooks" was buried at Elford 3 July 1653.

§ "Lucia, filia Joh'is Brookes de Haselover in com. Staff.," is stated in the Vis. of Warwickshire, 1619, to have married Henry Kendall of Austrey. Her eldest son Henry was aged 11 in 1619.

‖ "William Brooke of Hasler, gent.," was buried at Elford 9 Oct. 1668.

¶ Elizabeth was the wife of John Perrott of Chaddesley Corbett, co. Worcester, eldest son of John Perrott of Over Arley (a junior branch of the Perrotts of Bell Hall, Worcestershire), by whom she had issue two surviving daughters: Lucy, wife of John Bradley of Coleborne Brook, Amblecote, gent.; and Elizabeth, wife of Samuel Smart of Bromsgrove, gent. Mrs. Perrott has a M.I. in Bromsgrove Church, Worcestershire, wherein she is stated to have been born in 1645 and died in 1707. She is also erroneously called daughter of "John Brook, Esqr, of Hasleover," and the details of her descent from the Stanleys are grossly wrong.

 William Brooke was buried at Elford 25 Sep. 1672, and (Susannah) his widow on 19 June 1675. He had issue an only daughter Mary, who in a deed of 1704 (penes me) is described as the wife of Christopher Heveningham of Lichfield, gent., and "sole daughter and heir of William Brooke, gent., who was son and heir of William Brooke, late of Haslour in the county of Stafford, Esquire." For their issue see Harwood's 'Erdeswick,' ed. 1844, p. 42.

Genealogia de Burton de Lindley.

Tutburia in agro Staffordiensis, oppidum antiqui nominis, florebat sub regno Saxonico positum super ripam fluminis Dove, quod Will'us Rex Conquestor dedit Hen. de Ferrariis, qui castru' nunc eminens et monasteriu' jam dissolutu' ibi fundavit. In hoc oppido sedes erat multar' familiar' gerens splendore notarum; inter quas, familia de Burton manebat, nomenq' sedis in hanc usq' diem Burton Hall appelatur. Hæc familia dedit nomen diversis terris et pascuis vicinis etiam nunc remanens, vidz., Burton Bache, Burton Holmes, Moorshill, etc. Ex his, Jacobus Burton, miles, officio scutiferi fungebatur Regi Ric'o 1° in bello sacro, in terrâ s'tâ, in obsidione Cipri, et alibi, ut patet p. literas patentes suas; hunc postea H. 3 rex fecit magistru' forestæ de Needwood in com' Staff', et diversa privilegia concessit ei, adherebant familiæ Lancastriensi ut constat per facta veria ubi elegibantur officiarii eisdem Ducibus, inter quos Oliverus tempore R. 2 electus senescallus honoris de Tutbury per Joh'em Gandanensi duce Lancastriæ contra quem Ric'us, frater dicti Oliveri, arreviavit assisam novæ disseisinæ et recuperavit versus dictum Ducem Lanc. hereditat' suam, ut apparet per dictum breve. Nihilominus, filius ejus Will'us dicta' familia' sequebat ei inter bellum intestinum inter E. 4 et H. 6. Creatus erat ab H. 6 rege vexillariu', ut plane apparet per manuscript' suum in fronte veteris libri de statutis Angliæ. Dum manebant apud Tutbury, ibi verias libertates et tenuras habuere, inter quas notissima est tenuria de Moreton nunc in possessione de Alcock in Coton in com. Staff., qui

* In the first volume of the Second Series of Dr. Jackson Howard's 'Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica' will be found some valuable information relating to this family of Chetwode, including two pedigrees, the one compiled circa 1650 by Randle Holme of Chester, and the other by Stephen Tucker, Esq., Somerset Herald. These genealogies are of course far more copious than the above Visitation pedigrees, but so far as it goes that recorded at Dugdale's Visitation appears to be correct. The earlier descents, however, as recorded at St. George's Visitation in 1614, are not quite accurate. It was Roger (not Richard) Chetwode, son of John, who married Margaret (or "Margerie") Crewe, and their son was Thomas not John. The wife of this Thomas was Margaret Sound, and their grandson Thomas (son of their son Roger by Ellen Ree or Reis) was twice married, the mother of his successor being his first wife Ellen, da. of Thomas Beresford of Bentley, co. Derby. The pedigree compiled by Mr. Tucker commences with Roger Chetwode who married in 1522 Ellen Masterson, and died 27 H. 8.

* It appears from Shaw, i., 177, and the documents there cited, that Elizabeth, wife of Roger Chetwynd, was the da. of Sir Robert Malvesyn, and that she married secondly Sir John Carwarden.

† Johanna is an error. Her true name was Thomasine, and she was married to Richard Chetwynd in 21 R. 2, in which year the wardship and marriage of the said Richard were acquired by William de Frodsham. In the same year is a charter of Thomas de Frodsham granting certain tenements in Stafford to Richard de Chetwynd and Thomasine his wife. (Calendar, etc., ut supra.)

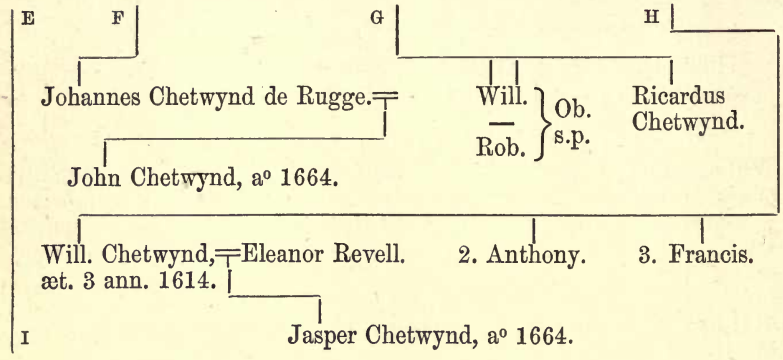
* Alice, wife of William Chetwynd, was, according to a note by Mr. Hadfield, da. of .... Egerton of Wrinehill. The Visitation of Cheshire in 1580 (Harl. Soc. edit., p. 98) makes Alice, da. of Hugh Egerton, "who builded Wrenehill, and died aº 1505," wife of "Robert Chetwin of Ingestre."

† In the chancel of the church of Alvechurch, Worcestershire, says Nash ('Hist. of Worcestershire,' i., 32), "lieth a fair stone inlaid with brass, on which is engraven the portraiture of a man all armed, saving his head, his hands joined. In the left corner a chevron between three mullets, quartering—1, A cross florette, in a dexter quarter a lion's head erased; 2, Three fusils in fess; 3, Two lions rampant; and these empaling three spur rowels (or else three spur rowels within roses), quartering a fess between lions rampant. At the base of the stone are, on the dexter side, the arms empaled, and on the sinister the chevron with three mullets quartering the three coats as before. The inscription: 'Of your charity, pray for the soule of Philip Chatwin, gentleman-usher to King Henry VIII., which decessyd 26 day of Sept. A.D. 1525, on whose soul Jesus have mercy.'"

‡ Katherine, wife of Anthony Chetwynd, was the eldest daughter of Ralph Thickness of Balterley. (See Thickness ped. in the Vis. of 1583.)

§ The pedigree of the Rudge or Ridge branch is thus continued by Walter Chetwynd of Ingestre, in his MS. collections for the Hundred of Pirehill in the W. Salt Library:—



Joh'es Chetwynd de Rugge.—Maria, fil. Hum. [should be Richard, see Vis. 1583] Welles de Hore-cross.

Joh'es Chetwynd, obiit 1674.—Susanna, fil. Johanis Broughton de Whittington.

Anna, ux. Walteri Aston de Milwich.
2. Brian — 4. Will. s.p.
3. Walter. — 5. Thomas.
Joh'es Chetwynd de Rugge, 1680.—Lucia, fil. Rob. Roane de Tolworth, co. Surrey.

1. Walter. 2. Joh'es. 3. Will'us. Lucia.

The following extracts from the parish registers of Ashley will illustrate the above:—

1591, May 3. William, son of John Chetwind of Rudge, gent., bapt.
1592, Sept. 9. John, son of same, bapt.
1632, Jan. 21. John Chetwind, senior, of Rudge, Arm., buried.
1651, Jan. 5. Walter, son of John Chetwinde de Rudge, par. Standon, gen., and Susanna, bapt.
1657, Mar. 24. Jane Chetwind, generosa, buried.
1674, Nov. 25. Mr John Chetwind of Rudge, gen. et senex, buried.

William, the eldest son of John and Mary (Welles), is omitted from the above pedigree, probably because he died s.p.? He was undoubtedly the William Chetwynd who is mentioned in the Giffard (of Water Eyton) pedigree as the first husband of Margaret, wife of Francis Giffard, and who was buried at Penkridge 8 Dec. 1619. John has a memorial in Ashley Church, whereon he is called "second son" of John, of Rudge; he was born, it is stated, 6 Sept. 1592, and died 23 Nov. 1674, having had issue by Susanna his wife five sons and two daughters. Of the children of John and Lucy, their daughter Lucy was married to Edward Yonge, Bath King of Arms; and Walter, the eldest son, succeeded to Ingestre on the death of his kinsman Walter Chetwynd, Esq. In 1717 he was created Viscount Chetwynd of Ireland, with remainder, in default of male issue, to the male heirs of John his father. He died s.p., and was succeeded by his next brother John, who likewise died without surviving male issue, his only surviving child Catherine having carried the Ingestre estate in marriage to the Talbot family, who still possess it. William, the third son, succeeded as third Viscount; he died 3 April 1770, aged 87 (M.I. at Ashley), and from him the present Viscount Chetwynd is descended. The following further entries (which I am unable to appropriate) occur in the Ashley registers:—

1601, May 11. Thomas Short and Katherine Chetwind married.
1618, Nov. 17. Athalanta Chetwind buried.
1629, Aug. 19. Clara Chetwin buried.

Gostlett. Gives to his son Edward Chetwind "my watch, my ring with my coate of arms, my father's picture, and my own after my wife's death." Residue to his daughter Jane Chetwind. His son Edward to be sole executor, and Mr. Thomas Knight and Mr. Robert Smith the elder, of the parish of Temple, to be overseers. In a codicil, or rather postscript, to his will he desires that "if Mrs Sarah Oliver, daughter of Mr Samuel Oliver, clerk, hath any child or children now living," such child or children was to have £5. It appears from the Visitation of Gloucestershire, 1682-3, that the sister Elizabeth Gostlett was the wife of Benjamin Gostlett, who "died at Bath circa 1663," and that she had issue by him three daughters, Ellena, wife of John Harrington of Kelston, and Mary and Elizabeth, both living unmarried in 1683.

* The will of John Chetwynd "of Ridgeley alias Rugeley," co. Stafford, gent., is dated 7 Feb. 1649, and was proved in London by Elizabeth his relict and sole executrix 9 Sept. 1652 (234 Bowyer). He refers to an indenture made 1 April 22 Charles, A.D. 1646, between him (the testator) of the one part, and Christopher Horton of Catton, co. Derby, Esq., John Birch of Cannock, gent., and Robert Sankey, also of Cannock, gent., of the other part, whereby he had settled his estate upon himself and wife for life, with remainder, in default of heirs of their bodies, to the heirs of Thomas Chetwynd, Esq., deceased, his father. He mentions his brothers Philip Chetwynd and Ralph Chetwynd; makes his wife Elizabeth sole executrix, and his "loving brother" Christopher Horton of Catton, Esq., and his "loving kinsman" Samuel Trist of Culworth, co. Northampton, Esq., overseers. John Chetwynd's wife Elizabeth was the daughter of Thomas Tyringham of co. Bucks, and sister of Parnell, wife of Christopher Horton. (See Berry's 'Bucks Pedigrees,' p. 20.) The wife of Samuel Trist of Culworth was also named Parnell, but her parentage is not given in Baker's pedigree of the family, 'Northamptonshire,' i., 752.

† The will of Walter Chetwynd of "Ridgley," gent., dated 10 Sept. 1652, was proved in London 9 Sept. 1653. To my loving sister Mrs. Dorothy Chetwynd £300, to my loving sister Mrs. Elizabeth Pursell £100 (see Purcell pedigree), and if either die before receiving their legacies, then to William Chetwynd one of my executors, and if he die then to "that Chetwynd which shall be heire unto my brother John Chetwynd, deceased." To my cousin Edward Chetwynd, son to my late brother Mr. William Chetwynd of Bristol £100 when 21. To Mary Chetwynd the youngest da. of my brother William, lately deceased, £100 when married or 21. To my sister Dorothy Chetwynd, widow, late wife of Thomas Chetwynd my brother, £5. To my brother Mr. Philip Chetwynd £100, and to his wife £10. To my brother Master George Chetwynd £100. To my cousin Walter Chetwynd of Ingestrey, Esquire, 40s. to buy him a ring, and to my cousin Master Thomas Chetwynd, his brother, £10 and "the best horse or mare that I may dye possessed of." To Thomas Norris, "my clarke at Bromley Forge," £10. Residue to my nephew William Chetwynd, son of my brother William, deceased, and he to be sole executor.

* She was the da. of Francis Congreve. (See that pedigree.)

† This Thomas Milward was third son of Sir Thomas Milward of Eaton, co. Derby, Chief Justice of Chester. The Visitation of Derbyshire taken in 1662 states that he married "Anne, dau. of .... Chetwynd of Haywood Park, co. Stafford."

‡ Lady Katherine was widow of Sir Edward Unton of Wadley, Berks. She died 25 May 1638, aged 81. (M.I. at Ingestre.)

§ Walter Chetwynd died 19 April 1669, aged 72, and Frances his wife on 16 Nov. 1686, aged 81. (M.I.) They were m. at St. Dunstan's, London, 2 July 1632.

‖ Thomas, "second son of Sir Walter Chetwynd of Grendon, Knt.," was admitted to Gray's Inn 15 May 1618. He died unmarried 23 Oct. 1674, aged 75. (M.I. at Ingestre.) The Peerages of Lodge (1754) and of Burke and Foster ignore him altogether, and in his place insert a John, whom they style "of Rudge," and make father of the three Viscounts. This erroneous statement has been repeated by Canon Bridgeman in his "Account of Church Eaton" (Staff. Collections, iv., part 2, p. 19). But it is perfectly clear that John, father of the Viscounts, was the John of Rudge who married Lucy Roane, and who, as Walter Chetwynd himself asserts, had issue Walter, John, William, and Lucy.

* This was the famous Staffordshire collector whose MSS. are so frequently referred to by Shaw and others. He was born 1 May 1633, and died s.p. (his only child Frances having died in her infancy) 21 March 1692-3. "As he died without male issue," writes Shaw, i., 389, "he gave all, or the greatest part, of his estate to Capt. John Chetwynd of Mare and Rudge in this county, on whose family it was entailed by William Chetwynd, Esq., in 1641." His will, wherein he is described as of Ingestre, co. Stafford, Esq., is dated at Grendon, 28 May 1692, and was proved in London by John Chetwynd, Esq., the executor, 4 April 1693. He desires his body to be buried in the vault of the new church at Ingestre "close to that of my dear wife," and his executor to "cause a plain stone to be laid over us both with our names inscribed upon it." Gives £400 for six new bells to be hanged in the new steeple at Ingestre. To my Lady Gerard, wife to Sir Edward Hungerford, 20 guineas to buy her a ring in remembrance of me. To my little kinsman Edward Hungerford, Esq., son to the said Sir Edward by the said Lady Gerard, £100. To my cousin Mary Chetwynd of Rugeley ten broad pieces to buy her a ring. To John Congreave, Esq., son to Capt. John Congreave, £100. To Mrs. Mary Baker, my housekeeper, £100. To my beloved godson Walter Chetwynd, son of John Chetwynd of Meare, Esq., all that my manor or lordship of Bould alias Booth, with the lands, etc., etc., and all that my moiety of the manor of Haselour to him and his heirs for ever. To my beloved godson Walter, son of Richard Chetwynd of Rugeley, my manor and lands of Brocton. To Francis, younger son of the said Richard Chetwynd of Rugeley, lands at Swepston, co. Leicester. To my beloved godson Walter, son to John Chetwynd of Ludlow, co. Salop, gent., my household stuff at Grendon, etc. States that he had by certain deeds settled the manor of Mutton alias Mitton and the manor of Reule upon Sir Walter Bagot, Bart., and Thomas Whitbey of Haywood, co. Stafford, gent., for four score and nineteen years in trust to pay, etc., such sums as by any deed or by his last will he might order or bequeath. He therefore appoints that they shall pay an annuity of £40 to Charles King, student of Christchurch, Oxford, his chaplain; also an annuity of £40 to John Wedgwood, gent., his servant; and sundry other annuities. Gives to his kinsman John Chetwynd of Ludlow, son to Charles Chetwynd, Esq., my mortgage of the lands of Edward Slaney, lying in Baxterley and in Bentley, co. Warwick. To Mrs. Frances Phillips, wife to Capt. Thomas Phillips, and sister to the said John Chetwynd, ten guineas for a ring. To Thomas Phillips, son of the said Capt. Phillips and Frances, £100. My loving kinsman John Chetwynd of the Mear, co. Stafford, Esq., to be sole executor. (44 Coker.)

† This is the place and date given in the Visitation Book, C. 36, but the pedigree itself is dated 1664. It appears from Dugdale's Diary that on 4 April 1663 he went "at night to Ingestre, Mr Chetwynd's," and that he went to Stafford, no doubt from Ingestre, on the 6th.

The following note by Gregory King, at the end of the Visitation book, no doubt refers to some pedigree of the Barrington family. For according to a pedigree of Barrington in the Visitation of Essex, 1558 (Harl. Soc. edit., p. 22), a Nicholas Barrington is stated to have married Agnes or Eleanor, d. and h. of William Chetwynd, son of Richard de Chetwynd, who died 5 H. 5.—"Chetwynd, fo. 99. Agnes, filia et hæres Gulielmi Chetwynd, mil., uxor Nic. Barrington, circa temp. Edw. I., soror Philippi, Adami, et Johannis, et Will'i Chetwynd, milit. Vide E 7, f. 86. Qu.: If it be not a mistake to call her dau. and heir; and how could she be sister to these four knights and dau. of a William? Three of the four being mentioned in the pedigree of Chetwynd, and made the sons of John. G. K."

In the William Salt Library is a Calendar of the Chetwynd Chartulary. It is a small quarto volume bound in vellum, and formerly belonged to Rev. John Homfray of Merton College, Oxford. If this MS. is correct, there is a serious fault in the above pedigree. It asserts as follows:—"Sir Philip de Chetwynd, Knt., who died without issue in 23 H. 6, 1445, gave all his lands to Joane his wife during her life, but ye inheritance of them fell to William de Chetwynd of Aspath, in co. War., which William was descended from Sir William Chetwynd of Ingestre, as appears by the following deeds." The deeds in question shew that Richard, son and heir of Sir William de Chetwynd, Knt., was living 1 H. 4, 1400; that the said Richard had a brother John, 12 H. 4, 1410-11; that in 30 H. 6 Thomas Chetwynd of Alspath, co. Warw., Esq., was dead, leaving a widow Elena and a son William; that in 33 H. 6, 1454-5, the said Elena was the wife of Bartholomew Knight; that in the same year Robert, son of John Chetwynd of Alspath, granted certain lands to Thomas Littleton and Joan his wife, relict of Sir Philip Chetwynd, Knt. In 14 E. 4, 1474, is a grant from Thomas Littleton (then one of the Justices of the Common Bench) and Joan his wife to William Chetwynd, "consanguineus et hæres Phil. Chetwynd, mil.," and son (apparently) of Thomas and Elena. Then follows a covenant of marriage, dated 5 H. 7, 1489, between William, son of William Chetwynd, and Elizabeth, daughter of Sir John Ferrers, "that William shall wed and take to wyff Elizabeth dau. of Sir John and Mawde by the feast of St. Michael." These charters entirely confirm Dugdale's version of the Alspath or Mereden branch, but they seem to shew that William son of Thomas and Elena did not die s.p. as stated, but was really the William "occisus* 9 H. 7," who in the above pedigree is made grandson of Philip. The post mortem inquest on Joan Littleton, Sir Philip Chetwynd's widow (who died aged 80 on 22 March 1505), was taken in 21 H. 7. Bishop Lyttelton states (see Collins's 'Peerage,' edit. 1779, vol. vii., p. 433) that she held for life half the manor of Grendon, with the advowson of the church, the whole manor of Ingestre, and divers lands in Rule, Rudge, Breredon, Grotwich, etc., "all by grant from Robert Chetwynd of Aspath in Warwickshire."

* He was murdered on Tixall Heath. Dugdale, in his 'Warwickshire,' gives the following account of this affair:—"William Chetwynd, one of the gentlemen ushers of the chamber to King Henry VII., became so much envied by Sir Humphrey Stanley (then of Pipe in com. Staff.), one of the knights for the body to the same King, and sheriff of that countie in 9 H. 7, as that by means of a counterfeit letter in the name of Randolf Brereton, esquire, delivered on Friday night before the feast of St John Baptist's nativity, requesting his meeting with him at Stafford the next morning by five of the clock, being allured out of his house at Ingestrie; and passing thitherwards accordingly with no more attendance than his own son and two servants, he was waylayed upon Tixhall Heath by no less than xx persons, whereof seven were of the said Sir Humphrey's own familie, some with bows and others with spears, all armed with bregandines and coats of mail, who, issuing out of a sheep-cote and a dry pit, furiously assaulted him, saying that he should die, and accordingly killed him; the said Sir Humphrey at that time passing by with at least xxiii persons on horseback, upon pretence of hunting a deer. All which the petition to the king made by Alice his wife, wherein she craves that the same Sir Humphrey and his said servants might answer for it, doth manifest. But what was done therein I have not seen."

* There is a copious pedigree of this family in Berry's 'Pedigrees of the County Families of Berkshire.' The Congreves represent, through coheiresses, Champion, Stretton, and Weston of Weston. Robert le Champion of Little Sardon married Agnes the widow of Sir Richard de Stretton, who was dead 1 E. 1. Robert's nephew, William le Champion (son of his brother William), married Alice the eldest of the coheiresses of Stretton, and is styled lord of Stretton in 18 E. 3. Thomas le Champion, son of William and Alice, married one of the coheiresses of Sir John Weston of Weston, and their da. and heir Catherine married Geoffrey de Congreve, who is styled lord of Stretton in 45 E. 3. (Ex inf. Gen. Wrottesley.)

* John Dickins was also of Great Malvern, and entered his descent at the Worcestershire Visitation of 1634. He died 25 April 1656, aged 78 years and 6 months, and was buried at Malvern. (M.I.) He married a third wife, Elizabeth, daughter of Herbert Westfaling, Bishop of Hereford, and widow of Robert Walwyn of Newland. Her will, as of Newland, co. Worcester, widow, was proved in London in 1659. (418 Pell.) She mentions her sons Herbert Walwyn and William Walwyn; her daughter Elizabeth, "now wife of Thomas Dickins, Esq."; and her grandchildren Anne Dickins and Elizabeth Dickins. N.B. This family also possessed the manor and advowson of Churchill, near Kidderminster, co. Worcester. Thomas Dickins of Bobington occurs as lord of Churchill 7 H. 6, and the same Thomas presented to the living in 1434 and 1459. In 1540 and 1571 Hugh Dickins of Leaton occurs as lord, and in 1584 William Dickins presented to the church. (See Nash, 'Hist. Worc.,' i., 192.) The parish registers of Churchill shew that a branch of the family was established there down to the commencement of the last century, the first mentioned in the registers being Thomas Dickins, who was surety to a child baptized in 1553. Philippa Dickins was surety to a son of Richard Wallis bapt. 1557; and several children of Thomas and Philippa Dickins were baptized: inter alios, Richard on 3 Feb. 1561, Elizabeth on 15 March 1563, Alice on 4 Jan. 1564, Anne on 16 Dec. 1566, Thomas on 28 Nov. 1568, Francis on 10 June 1571, and Susanna on 22 June 1572. Thomas Dickins was buried 3 March 158.., and on 9 April 1623 was buried "Philippa Dickins, widow, sometime wife to Thomas Dickins." I next find the baptism of a son of Thomas and Cecily Dickins, viz., Thomas on 15 June 1624; and the burial on 30 Jan. 1640 of "Cesilie Dickins, wife of Thomas Dickins." A Thomas Dickins of Churchill (apparently the Thomas bapt. 1624) married Mary, daughter of William Penn of Harborough Hall, Hagley, and sister of Thomas Penn, in whose will, dated 1651, she is mentioned with her two children Thomas and Mary. The Churchill registers record the baptism on 5 Aug. 1649 of Thomas, son of Thomas and Mary Dickins, and of another son John in 1653, who died in his infancy. Further entries are the burial of Thomas Dickins, senr., on 14 Sept. 1651; the baptism and burial of William, son of Thomas Dickins, deceased, and Elinor his wife in 1664; the baptism on 5 Dec. 1676 of Mary, da. of Thomas and Catherine Dickins; the marriage on 21 April 1694 of John Cox of Belbroughton to Mary Dickins; and finally the burial on 28 March 1709 of Thomas Dickins.

† She had issue an only son Matthew Ducie Moreton, who was created Lord Ducie, Baron of Moreton, co. Stafford, on 9 June 1720, and was ancestor (through his daughter Elizabeth, wife of Francis Reynolds, Esq.) of the present Earl Ducie.

‡ Her nuncupative will, dated 3 July 1629, is set out in the "joint and severall answeres of Thomas Duddeley and Henry Jevon," two of the defendants to a bill filed in Chancery 23 May 1631 by Dud Dudley of Tipton, gent. It is as follows: "The said Elizabeth, being visited with sickness whereof she afterwards dyed, did by word of mouth only, without writing, will and declare how and in what manner her said personal estate should be disposed of after her decease, which was to this purpose and effect following, that is to say: She did will and bequeath to her five daughters all her wearing apparel. And also she did will and bequeath to Edward Bagley, son of John Bagley, £30, and to Dudde Bagley his brother £30, to be paid so soon as her executors could pay the same. Also to Thomas Bagley and to Robert Bagley, sons of the said John Bagley, 20s. apiece; and to the poor people of Dudley all the money to her belonging which was then in the hands of her son Dudd Dudley. And further she willed that Gilbert Gyllyan and Ann Rodes should be paid all that which was then by her due to them. And further she willed that her son, the now complainant, should not see her writings, because, as she then said, he might do somebody wrong. And all the rest, etc., she gave and bequeathed to her eight children to be equally divided amongst them. And of the same her will and testament the said Elizabeth did then ordain and make these now defendants Thomas Duddeley, her son-in-law, and Henry Jevon, her servant, executors, and shortly afterwards died." The defendants add that they have not yet proved the will, but are willing to do so "when they shall be thereto by the Ordinary lawfully called." They had called together the children of the testatrix "at her house in Tipton" and arranged for a division, and they had paid certain debts of the deceased to Richard Smalman, John Smalman, Selman Wilkes, Elizabeth Huntbach, Edward Jevon, and others. Besides these sums of money paid, there were other sums demanded from the defendants as executors as due to them by the testatrix, viz., "Mr. Geffrey Duddeley £14, Mr. Rob'te Duddeley £40, and the complainant himself." Dud Dudley, in his bill, alleged that he is or ought to be possessed of lands, ironworks, and works of stone and coal in Tipton, Sedgley, Kingswinford, Rowley-Regis, and Oldbury. Also of Tipton Park and Parkfield, "which were purchased by Elizabeth Tomlinson, late mother of your orator," and conveyed to him and his heirs. Also of a farm called Priory lands in Sedgley, heretofore demised by Edward, Lord Dudley, to Richard Perkshouse, Esq. Also of Green's farm in the parish of Womborne, demised by the said Lord Dudley to Robert Dudley, "brother of your orator," in trust for your orator. Also certain waste ground called Pensnet Chase, containing 2000 acres, heretofore demised by the said Lord Dudley to one John Smallman. Had erected at great costs and charges, furnaces, etc. He then goes on to say that his late mother Elizabeth Tomlinson was possessed of a great personal estate in money, plate, etc., amounting to £600 or more, and that, having other children who were all provided for, she by deed about seven years past gave her said goods, etc., to "your orator." That the said Elizabeth died about two years ago, and since her death one Thomas Dudley and Henry Jevon, by the procurement and instigation of the said Edward, Lord Dudley, have given out that the said Elizabeth had made a will and thereby given her personal estate unto her other children, contrary to the said deed; and that she had made Dudley and Jevon her executors. That, notwithstanding that Dudley and Jevon had not proved the will, they had under colour thereof possessed themselves of the said estate, intending to defraud and defeat your said orator. And the said Edward, Lord Dudley, Thomas Dudley, and Henry Jevon had "in a violent and outragious manner" entered upon the land and premises and expelled your orator out and from the same, and have also, about a year ago, wrongfully entered into the dwelling-house of your orator at Tipton and possessed themselves of all his deeds and evidences. And also forcibly carried away all your orator's stock of ironstone and coals, and his tools and implements, and at sundry times have dangerously assaulted and beaten your orator.

It appears from the report of the Charity Commissioners (sub Dudley) that the money in the hands of Dud Dudley which Elizabeth Tomlinson gave to the poor was by a decree, made in pursuance of an Inquisition taken on 24 Sept. 1638, ordered to be paid to Richard Foley the elder, and by him invested for the benefit of the poor; and it was agreed that a certain horse of the testatrix should be sold in order to make up the amount to £50.

* Dud Dudley would be about 64 years of age at the date of the Visitation, for he informs us in his 'Metallum Martis,' pub. 1665, that he was "fetched from Oxford, then of Bayliol Colledge, anno 1619, at 20 years old, to look and manage 3 iron works of his father on Pensnet Chase." He was married to Eleanor Heaton at St. Helen's, Worcester, 12 Oct. 1626. By her he appears to have had no surviving issue. She was buried at St. Helen's 3 Dec. 1675, and he on 25 Oct.

1684. He is described in the parish register as "Colonell Dodo Dudley." On his monument in St. Helen's Church (now illegible) he is called "Dodo Dudley chiliarchi nobilis Edwardi nuper domini de Dudley filius." The monument is surmounted with the arms of Dudley (without the sinister bendlet) impaling Heaton, viz., (Argent,) six trefoils slipped (vert), 2 and 1, 2 and 1; and two crests—1st, A lion's head in a ducal coronet, for Dudley; and 2nd, A pelican vulning, for Heaton.

* The will of "Robert Duddeley alias Tomlinson" of the parish of Dudley, Esquire, is dated 28 Jan. 1652, and was proved in London 29 July 1653. He directs his body to be buried "near unto my father" in St. Edmund's Church, Dudley. "Whereas my brother Edward Duddeley alias Tomlinson, deceased, had an estate tayle of and in divers lands, etc., in Tipton alias Tibbington, co. Staff., to him and the heirs of his body, and for want of such heirs to mee and the heirs of my body; and the said Edward having died without issue, and the said estate belonging to me, I give and devise all the said lands in Tipton to my son William Duddeley alias Tomlinson, and to my daughters Elizabeth Porter, Alice Jennens, and Jane Duddeley alias Tomlinson, and their heirs." To each of his other children 20s. apiece. The interest he had in the house in which he then lived called "Carye's Lodge," and also the interest he had in certain lands in Meriden, co. Warwick, "lately settled on me for 99 years by a decree in Chancery," he gives to his "dear wife Ann Duddeley alias Tomlinson," and appoints her sole executrix. Signed "Robert Dudley," and witnessed by John Manning, Robt + Dudley, Rob. + Brookes, and Edw. Parkshouse. It seems from a marginal note in 357 Brent that Ann, the widow, also made a will of which her son Edward was executor; and on 10 May 1681 Eleanor, widow of the said Edward, obtained administration de bonis non. Walter Dudley alias Tomlinson and Jane Male, children of Robert, are named in the administration. The son Edward was of the parish of Kingswinford, yeoman. He died intestate, and administration of his effects was granted at Lichfield on 11 Feb. 1677 to Eleanor Dudley alias Tomlinson, his relict. His inventory was made 28 Sept. 1677 by Edward Wannerton and Thomas Coxe of Stourbridge, co. Worcester, locksmith. Robert Dudley appears to have had a first wife named Margaret, for "Margret wife to Robert Dudley, gent.," was buried at Dudley 24 Jan. 1619-20. I have also notes of the following entries in the Dudley registers:

Her son-in-law Richard Keelinge to be executor. Witnessed by William Keelinge, Elizabeth Hincks, and Joseph Hincks. The inventory was made 10 Dec. 1675 by Jeremiah Whitehouse.

† This Thomas Wilmer was, I take it, the eldest son of Thomas Wilmer of Budbrooke, co. Warwick, barrister-at-law, by Anne or Agnes, only daughter of Edward, Lord Dudley, by his first wife Katherine, da. of John Brydges, Lord Chandos, and grandson of Thomas Wilmer of Staverton, co. Northampton, who died in 1580. The said Thomas and Anne or Agnes are stated to have had issue Thomas, John, Mary, and Ursula. "Old Thomas Wilmer, Esqr," was buried at Dudley 9 Oct. 1629; and the Dudley registers shew that a "Thomas Wilmer, Esq.," and a "John Wilmer, gent.," lived at Dudley in the seventeenth century. The former was the husband of Martha Dudley, and he had issue by her: Elizabeth, bapt. 11 Aug. 1623, wife of Gilbert Gellians; Anne, bapt. and buried 1625; Anne, bapt. 4 Feb. 1626-7, m. to Thomas Brettell; Martha, bapt. 17 Sept. 1629, m. at Dudley 5 Jan. 1658-9 to the Rev. John Taylor, Vicar of Dudley; and Mary, bapt. March 1631-2, buried 4 Oct. 1636.

* "Edward Dyson, gent.," was buried at Enville 6 July 1659, and "Mrs Mary Dyson, widow of Edward Dyson, gent.," on 18 Oct. 1698. In 1659, shortly after Edward's death, an Exchequer Bill was filed by Gravenor Dyson, an infant (by his next friend Thomas Bache, his maternal grandfather), Henry Dyson, John Dodgson and Jane his wife, William Apperley and Tabitha his wife, Abigail Dyson spinster, and Hester Dyson spinster, against the Attorney-General, as to the sub-committee for taking accounts of all persons who had received any money or goods in the county of Worcester for the use of the Commonwealth; of which committee Henry Dyson, deceased, father of the plaintiff Henry and grandfather of the plaintiff Gravenor Dyson, had been Chairman. Depositions were taken by commission at Bromsgrove on 18 Oct. 1659.

† On 24 Oct. 1664 a licence was granted at Worcester for the marriage of Grosvenor Dyson of the parish of Enville, aged upwards of 20, and Mary, daughter of Francis Bromwich of Bewdley, gent., aged about 24. There is also a licence at Lichfield dated 1691 for the marriage at St. John's, Lichfield, of Grosvenor Dyson and Mary Bache. The following occur in the Enville registers:

Erdeswick of Hartley Green.

Seisdon Hundred.†

ARMS.‡—Argent, on a chevron gules five bezants.

Sampson Erdeswick of Sandon, co. Staff. = Elizabeth, da. of Humphrey Grey of Enfield, co. Staff., Esq.

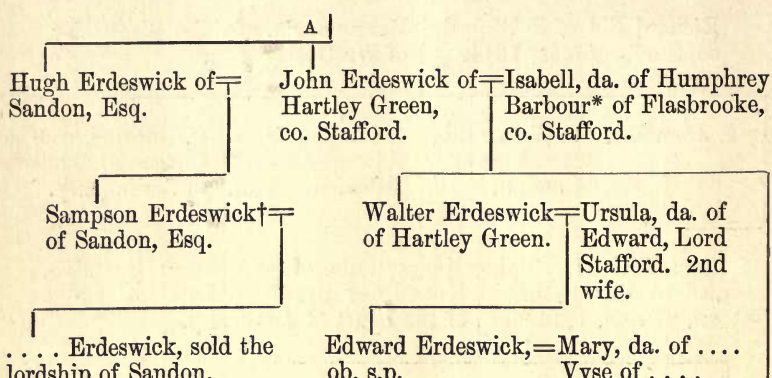
* He married secondly Mary, da. of Stocket Lutwich, and had further issue, for which see Lutwich pedigree.

† Sic in orig., but Hartley Green is in the hundred of Pirehill and parish of Gayton. It is no doubt the "farm in Gayton" which Erdeswick (p. 54) informs us was purchased by John Erdeswick, "second son of Sampson Erdeswick, who had issue Walter and John, both now living 1596."

‡ In Plot's map the arms of Erdeswick of Hartley Green, Gayton, are, Argent, a bend sable—a more ancient coat of Erdeswick; the chevron and bezants being really the coat of Stafford. In the Harl. MS. 2113 is the following: "Mr Sampson Erdeswyke his Armes—Quarterly—1, ERDESWYK, Or, on a bend azure three eagles displayed argent; 2, LEGHE (?), Argent, a chevron between three eagle's heads erased sable, beaked or; 3, OLDINGTON, Quarterly vert and gules, a lion rampant argent; 4, STAFFORD, Argent, on a chevron gules five bezants;



5, VERNON, Or, a fesse azure; 6, BARO DE WICH MALBANC, Quarterly or and gules, a bend sable. His crest a demi-egle ar. out of a crowne or. At Bradwall in com. Cestr., Sept. 14, 1580, Mr Philip Oldfield his howse." This is, I believe, in the handwriting of Laurence Bostock, a noted Cheshire antiquary. The bend charged with three eagles is also tricked in the Stukeley MS. (W. Salt Library) as the coat of Hugh and Sampson Erdeswick of Sandon; but as I had never before met with it as an Erdeswick bearing I conceived it to be a mistake, and so stated in a footnote to the Visitation of 1583 ('Staff. Coll.,' iii., pt. 2, p. 9). It is clear, however, from Bostock's note that the coat really was used at one time by Sampson Erdeswick. In the Visitation of London, 1568, published by the Harleian Society, Richard Erdeswick of London, a member of the Sandon family, bears the chevron and bezants, quartering five other coats; and for crest, Out of a ducal coronet gules, a boar's head per pale argent and sable.

* Should be John Barbour. See that pedigree.

† This was the celebrated author of the 'Survey of Staffordshire.' His mother was Mary, da. of Roger Leigh of the Ridge, co. Chester. Sampson Erdeswick was twice married—first to Elizabeth, second da. and coheir of Humphrey Dixwell of Church Over, co. Warwick; and secondly (on 24 April 1593) to Mary, da. and h. of Francis Neale, and widow of Everard Digby of Tilton, co. Leicester. By his first wife he had issue five daughters, viz., Margaret wife of . . . . Francis, Helen wife of Thomas Coyney of Weston Coyney, Elizabeth, Mary, and Margery; and by his second wife he was father of Richard (his heir), Matthew, and Jane. Erdeswick died in 1603, apparently intestate, for there is a note in an old "Act Book" at Lichfield that on the 1st July 1603 administration of his goods was committed to Simon Digby (?), "ad opus et usum Margeriæ Erdeswicke, Mariæ Erdeswicke, et Margaretæ Frauncis, filiarum natural' dict' defunct'." His son and successor, Richard, was under age at his father's death. He sued out his ousterlemain in 6 Charles I. The warrant of the Court of Wards and Liveries is dated 10 Feb. 6 Charles I. (1631). It recites that on 28 June 1 James it was found that Sampson Erdeswicke, Esq., was in his lifetime seised in his demesne as of fee of and in the manor of Sandon in the county of Stafford, and of the advowson of the church of Sandon, holden of the King as of his honour of Tutbury by knight's service, and of and in divers other messuages, lands, tenements, and hereditaments in the said county, otherwise holden, amounting in the whole to the clear yearly value of £24 19s. 4d. And Richard Erdeswicke, Esq., his son and next heir, having cleared himself of all things due to his Majesty in the Court of Wards and Liveries since his full age unto the day of the date of these presents, prayeth his ousterlemain of the premises, to be holden by knight's service as aforesaid, which premises are of the clear yearly value of £21; therefore ousterlemain is granted accordingly. Signed by R. Naunton, Ben. Rudyerd, and others. (Privy Seals, etc., Chancery, 6 Car. I., No. 361, in Pub. Rec. Office.)

C

* The will of Sampson Erdeswick, described as of Healey, co. Stafford, gent., is dated 18 Sept. 1693, and was proved at Lichfield 27 Nov. 1695. He refers to his wife Elizabeth, and to his messuage and lands at Gayton. Mentions "my nephew Sampson Erdeswick, son of my brother Edward Erdeswick; my brother Matthew Erdeswick, gent.; my niece Mary Erdeswick, sister of the said Sampson; Matthew Whittall and John Hawley, sons of my two nephews Thomas Whittall and John Hawley; Thomas Mottley, son of Ann Mottley, and supposed son of my brother John Erdeswick; and my nephews and nieces the sons and daughters of my two sisters Jane Whithall and Elizabeth Hawley deceased." In the inventory (which was made 10 June 1695 by Henry Carington and John Hawley) the testator is described as of Thornhill in the parish of Madeley. His niece Mary is probably "Mrs Mary Erdeswick," the kinswoman of William Fowler of St. Thomas (see notes to that pedigree), who died 19 June 1697, the kinship being viâ Stanton and Harewell. The testator's nephew Sampson (son of Edward) was, I suppose, ancestor of Joseph Erdeswick (called in Foster's 'Lancashire Pedigrees' "of Hartley Green"), whose only da. and heir Mary is stated by Mr. Foster to have married at Wolverhampton on 30 Nov. 1775 Henry Bowdon, and to have died in 1791. In Glover's 'Derbyshire' (8vo edit., ii., 304) this lady is called "Mary, only child of Joseph Erdeswick of Sandon Hall, Esq., eldest son of Sampson Erdeswick of the same place." In a footnote Mr. Glover gives ("from the information of J. H. Bowden, Esq., 1830") the following strange story: "Sampson Erdeswick of Sandon Hall had two sons and a daughter. The sons informing their father that they did not intend to marry, he, under that impression, left Sandon Hall and its domain to his daughter, who married Lord Archibald Hamilton, who sold the same to .... Ryder, ancestor of the present Earl of Harrowby. Joseph Erdeswick, one of the sons, however, when 50 years of age, married the sister of Hugford Hassall, an eminent solicitor at Soltiwell (? Solihull), county of Warwick, and left an only daughter, who married Henry Bowden of Beighton Fields, Esq., and now of Southgate House, county of Derby." I need scarcely say that the Sandon estates had then long since passed away from the family of Erdeswick, having been sold by the son of the historian to the Digby family. As to Lord Archibald Hamilton (afterwards 9th Duke of Hamilton), he certainly had possession of the Sandon estate, and indeed built the present mansion, but he did not marry an Erdeswick, nor was the estate left to him by an Erdeswick. He inherited it, or obtained it by will or settlement, for it was acquired by his grandfather, James, Duke of Hamilton, in marriage with the heiress of Digby, Lord Gerard. Archibald, Duke of Hamilton, really married, in 1765, Lady Harriet Stuart, da. of John, Earl of Galloway, and was ancestor by her of the present Duke.

Matthew Erdeswick of Bromley Abbotts, co. Stafford, gent. Inventory dated 3 Jan. 1679. I have failed to find at Lichfield any further Erdeswick wills or administrations down to 1800; but at Somerset House (77 Tenison) is the will, dated 23 Feb. 1707, of one Thomas Erdeswick, instrument maker, possibly an obscure descendant of this ancient family. He was then "bound forth on a voyage to sea," and he gave all he had to his brother Isaac Erdeswick of London, turner, who proved the will on 29 April 1718.

* John Feake died 3 Dec. 1664, aged 64. (Hadfield.) * According to the Visitation of London in 1633-4 Richard Floyer of Uttoxeter had a first wife, "..... dau. of .... Cradock of Stafford," by whom he had (with other issue) a son Matthew, of London, merchant, father of Francis, also a merchant in London, who entered and signed the pedigree. The arms allowed to the London branch were, Quarterly—1 and 4, Sable, a chevron ermine between three arrows points downward argent; 2 and 3, Azure, a bend between six fleurs-de-lis or. Crest: A stag's head erased or, in the mouth an arrow in bend point downward argent. The quartering is for CROOKE, and the arms thus marshalled were borne by the Floyers of Floyer Hayes, co. Devon, in right of the marriage of William Floyer of that place with Philippa, da. and coheir of .... Crooke of Wilts (see Harl. Society's Visitation of Devon, p. 343), but there seems to be no proof of the descent of the Staffordshire family from that marriage. In the Harl. MS. 1439 there are two tricks: first the coat and crest of Floyer as just described (but the stag's head erminois and attired argent), under which is written, "This is the Armes and Creast of Rafe Flyar of Hints in the Countie of Stafford;" and next Floyer quartering Crooke, thus inscribed, "This is the Armes and Creast of Francis Flyar of London, beinge of the elder house of him of Staffordsheir." According to the Harl. MS. 1173 the coat and crest (with the stag's head erminois, etc.) was borne by Ralph Floyer of Hints under "a pattent dated the 4 of November 1614 in the 12 of King James, pr Sir Richard St George."

* Walter Fowler was buried at Baswich 2 Oct. 1621. He had another son, not named in the pedigree, viz., William, a Dominican, who is mentioned in the Royalist Composition Papers; and according to Harl. MS. 6128 there were also two other children, Ralph and Mary.

† Edward Fowler, Esq., was buried at Baswich 28 Nov. 1623. Of his issue, Walter was bapt. there 7 Oct. 1620, and Edward on 31 March 1622. The latter was buried as "Edward, son of Edward Fowler, Esq., deceased, and Dorothy his wife," on 28 April 1626.

‡ Mary Fowler's will was proved in London in 1649 (144 Fairfax) by Richard Canning, her brother-in-law, the executor.

§ Walter Fowler of St. Thomas, Esq., was buried at Baswich 10 March 1683-4. His will, dated 4 March 1683-4, was proved in London 9 May 1684. (57 Hare.) He describes himself as "a true member of the Roman Catholic Church," and he "renounced from his heart all errors and novelties by her rejected." Mentions his sons Walter, William, and Thomas; his daughters Gertrude Fowler, Dorothy Groves, and Magdalen Fowler; and his cousin Thomas Canning. In the Royalist Composition Papers he is mentioned as having taken an active part in the Civil Wars on the King's side, being seen "often with his sword by his side and his pole-axe in his hand. And when the Moorland men came against Sir Francis Wortley, he (a witness) saw Mr. Fowler ride forth of Stafford, having a buff coat and armour upon it, with a head-piece, sword, and pistol. And further this deponent saw the said Mr. Fowler, together with Sir Francis Wortley and others, charge the said Moorlanders." Walter Fowler's name appears in the list of intended knights of the Royal Oak, the annual value of his estate being stated at £1500. Constance his wife was buried at Baswich 29 March 1664.

* Walter Fowler died in London, and was buried in Covent Garden Church, "near his virtuous and devout friend Mr. John Austen" (Mon. at Baswich). He married Mary, da. and coheiress of Walter Heveningham of Aston, but by her, who was buried at Baswich 18 Dec. 1694, had no issue. His will is dated 6 Feb. 1695, and was proved in London 28 May 1697. (92 Pyne.) He leaves his lands and manors to his brother William and his heirs. Mentions his sister Catherine, "mistress of St. Thomas, brother William's wife," his brother Thomas, his sister Dorothy Grove, his nephew Thomas Grove, his nieces Mary Grove and Gertrude Grove, "my niece Casey" then in France, his sister Gertrude Fowler, his cousin Gilbert Whitehall, and his kinsman Mr. Thomas Canning. Of his sisters, Gertrude, Constance, and Mary died unm., and were buried at Baswich on 22 Feb. 1699-1700, 1 Sept. 1666, and 20 Jan. 1675 respectively. Dorothy m. John Grove, and Magdalen m. .... Casey. Mrs. Grove had issue a son Thomas, and three daughters—Mary, wife of .... Mitcham; Gertrude, wife of .... Brograve; and Dorothy, wife of Edmund Edwards. Thomas Grove married Rebecca Addis of Durrance, co. Worcester, and had issue a daughter and heiress married to Richard Fitzgerald. Mrs. Casey was mother of an only child married to John Betham of Rowington, co. Warwick, who entered into possession of the St. Thomas estates and thereupon assumed the surname of Fowler. He was buried at Baswich 23 Nov. 1719 as "John Fowler of St Thomas alias John Betham, Arm.," having had issue by his said wife (who was, I presume, the "Katherine Fowler alias Betham of St Thomas" who was buried 17 Sep. 1725) a da. and heiress Katherine, m. 5 Aug. 1726 to Thomas Belasyse, Lord Fauconberg.

† William Fowler was the last male representative of the Fowlers of St. Thomas. He married Katherine, da. of (? Edward) Harewell and Jane his wife, but by her, who was buried at Baswich 24 March 1711, had no issue. He died 24 Jan. 1716, and by his dealings with the estate gave occasion for the leading case "Fauconberg v. Fitzgerald," from which much of the information here given has been obtained. William Fowler erected a monument in Baswich Church in the year 1700 to the memory of Walter Fowler his father, Constance his mother, Mrs. Mary Fowler his sister-in-law, Bryan and Francis his brothers, Mary, Constance, and Gertrude his sisters, William Fowler his uncle, Mrs. Frances Pershall his aunt, Mrs. Jane Harewell his mother-in-law, and Mr. Daniel Fitter "his virtuous friend." Also another monument in the same church to Mrs. Katherine Fowler his wife, who died 20 March 1711, "Mr William Fowler her husband" who died 24 Jan. 1716-7, Mrs. Dorothy Grove his sister, Mr. Thomas Fowler his brother who died 15 March 1710-11, Mr. William Pegg his "virtuous kinsman" who died 7 Nov. 1711, Mr. Edward Giffard his kinsman who died 22 Dec. 1712, and Mrs. Mary Erdeswick his kinswoman who died 19 June 1697.

‡ Thomas Fowler married Elizabeth Clarke, and had issue Walter, who died young, and Thomas, who died a bachelor in Paris, administration of his effects being granted in 1712 to Elizabeth his mother. She was buried at Baswich 17 Feb. 1727-8, being then of Wolverhampton, widow, and administration of her effects was granted 17 March 1727 to Charles Clarke, Esq., of Newark-on-Trent, "nepos ex fratre" and next of kin.

* The will of "Walter Fowler of Pendeford, Esqr," is dated 25 July 1711, and was proved at Lichfield 17 June 1712. Mentions his sons Charles and William, and his daughters Elizabeth Wightwick, Mary widow of John Wightwick, Anne Fowler, and Catherine Fowler. He was succeeded by his son Charles (Walter, named in the Visitation, having evidently died young), who married Sarah, da. and ultimately heiress of Robert Leveson of Wolverhampton, and had (with other issue, for which see Burke's 'Commoners,' iv., 390) a son Thomas Fowler of Shrewsbury, who died in 1759, aged 63, having had issue by Barbara his wife, da. of John Newton of King's Bromley, an eldest son Thomas, ancestor of the present Lieut.-Col. Robert Fowler-Butler of Pendeford, and a younger son Charles Fowler of Shrewsbury, bapt. at St. John's, Shrewsbury, 29 Aug. 1741, who m. first in 1776 Miss Powys, by whom he had no issue, and secondly Frances only da. of Rev. Thomas Amler, M.A., of Ford, Salop, by whom he left issue at his decease on 31 Dec. 1797, aged 56 (with a son Charles, who died 31 Jan. 1800, aged 15), an only da. and heiress Frances, married 6 Sept. 1804 to Samuel Allsopp of Burton-on-Trent, by whom she was mother of Sir Henry Allsopp, Bart. Mrs. Frances Fowler married secondly Major-General Lethbridge, and died, without further issue, at Shrewsbury 17 Feb. 1825, aged 66. (Morris MSS., 'Gent. Mag.,' April 1825, p. 381, etc.)

† Elizabeth was the wife of Francis Wightwick of Wightwick, eldest son of Francis Wightwick by Elizabeth née Pyott. (See Wightwick pedigree.) He died 1695, and she 1731. (Shaw, ii., 201.)

‡ Anne Fowler died unm. Her will is dated 15 Sept. 1731, and was proved at Lichfield 14 Dec. 1732. It is sealed with Ermine, on a chief sable a griffin passant argent, being the arms of Chester of Royston, the bearings of her maternal grandmother Elizabeth née Chester, wife of Dr. Hinton. (See Hinton pedigree.) She leaves a few legacies, and appoints her "beloved niece" Anne Wightwick sole executrix.

§ Mary was the wife of John Wightwick of Farewell, younger brother of Francis, husband of her sister Elizabeth.

In his will (which was proved at Lichfield in 1626 by his only daughter and sole executrix Edith) he names the following sons: John, Henry, William, Thomas, Richard, and Francis. Henry settled at Barthomley, co. Chester, and died s.p. In his will, dated 25 July 1638, and proved in London in 1646 by Richard his brother and sole executor, he refers to his late father William, his brother John, and his nephews Abraham and Isaac sons of his brother Richard.

† The will of John Fowler of Dalbury Lees, yeoman, is dated 20 June 1639 and was proved in London in 1645. In it he mentions his wife Frances; his eldest son William; his son Joseph (to whom he gives the lands "I bought last year of my brother Henry Fowler"); his daughter Anne, wife of William Browne; his son Richard Fowler; Rebecca Fowler, "orphant of my brother William Fowler;" and his daughters Isabel, Margaret, Alice, and Judith.

‡ Richard Fowler, M.A., was presented to the Rectory of Barthomley, co. Chester, in 1617, by William Fowler of Dalbury, yeoman, "free and lawful patron by reason of the assignation of the advowson and presentation to him for this time made." In his will, which is dated Jan. 1648 and was proved in London in April 1649, he refers to his lands in Salt and Weston which he had purchased of George Walker. He mentions his sons Abraham and Isaac, and his daughters Hester, Hannah, Rebecca (who was to have £700 if she married Richard Brough, son and heir of Thomas Brough of Wyndiate), Rachel, and Abigail. Of these, Sarah was bapt. at Barthomley 18 May 1619, Abraham 16 April 1622, Isaac 3 Dec. 1623, Rachel 18 April 1625, Hester 9 July 1626, Abigail 30 June 1628, and Hanna 15 June 1630.

† The will of Isaac Fowler of Clare Hall, Cambridge, M.A., was proved in London 31 Aug. 1660. He leaves his goods to his "brother Fowler," his mother and sisters, and refers to "my debts since I have been at Stortford." His brother Abraham was to have his "realty" and was made executor.

‡ Anne, wife of Abraham Fowler, was buried at St. Mary's, Stafford, 19 June 1689. But the registers of St. Mary's also contain an entry of the marriage, in March 1659, of "Mr Abraham Fowler of Salt" to "Mrs Elizabeth Claiton."

§ The Robert Fullwood who heads this pedigree was s. and h. of John Fullwood of Little Alne by Mary his wife, "filia .... Hill de Bearley in com. War." (Vis. War., 1619.) This Mr. Hill (whose baptismal name is unknown) was the first husband of Agnes née Webbe, second wife of Robert Arden, father (by a first wife) of Mary mother of the poet Shakespeare. John Fullwood and Mary Hill were married at Aston Cantlow 15 Nov. 1561. Agnes Arden, widow, in her will, dated 1579, mentions her son-in-law John Fullwood and his children, John Hill her son, and Edward Hill her godchild. To Averie Fullwood she leaves two sheep, and she makes John Hill and John Fullwood her executors. Curiously enough there was another connection between the families. Elizabeth, the only child of Shakespeare's daughter Mrs. Hall, married Sir John Barnard, Knt., whose mother Eleanor was the eldest daughter and coheir of John Fullwood of Ford Hall, co. Warwick, which John Fullwood was grandson of John Fullwood, uncle of the John who married Mary Hill.

* "This coate is in the glass windows of the church of y^e Mineries wth out Aldgate in the City of London, and under written 'Galliardello.'" (Lans. MS. 857.)

† In the year 1629 Benjamin Galliardello, an infant, by his guardian Richard Whitchalfe of Hoggesden, co. Middlesex, Esq., filed a bill in Chancery against Alice, widow of Cæsar Galliardello, his stepmother. He states that Cæsar Galliardello of the parish of Trinity Minories, gent., deceased, his late father, being seised of certain freehold tenements in the said parish, did by his last will, bearing date 14 Sept. 1627, devise all his said freehold tenements to the said Benjamin his son; and of his said will appointed Alice Galliardello his wife, "mother-in-law to your orator," and John Tredwyn, Citizen and Merchant Taylor of London, executors, and shortly afterwards died. Alice proved the will, possessed herself of all the personal estate of the said Cæsar, and also of all the evidences and writings belonging to the said tenements, "and hath entered into the said tenements," and received the rents, etc.; therefore prays for the restitution of the deeds, and for an account, etc. Alice, in her answer, admits that Cæsar Galliardello, father to the complainant, gave by his will the aforesaid tenements to Benjamin; but states that he charged the property with an annuity of £10 for life to her the said Alice. Shortly after the death of the testator, the complainant, being then about 19 years old, appointed Benjamin Cosyn, "his uncle on the mother's side," to be his guardian, and with the said Cosyn's consent one of the tenements was let for £10 per annum, and Cosyn was contented that she should receive this £10 for her annuity. The other tenements were let for terms yet unexpired by the testator in his lifetime. She then proceeds to give an account of her disbursements, among which were "twoe paire of shooes" for the complainant, "a falling bande for hym," and altering and mending his apparel. Among the deeds and evidences in her possession were, (1) Letters patent, dated 13 Jan. 6 E. 6, to Henry Duke of Suffolk and his heirs of certain lands in the Minories; (2) A patent, dated 1 June 10 Eliz., "for the making of Marke Anthony Galliardello a free denizen;" (3) A deed of bargain and sale, dated 10 June 11 Eliz., from John Wetherhill unto Marke Anthony Galliardello and his heirs of two messuages and two gardens in the Minories; (4) An indenture of fine in Easter term 12 Eliz. acknowledged by John Wetherhill and Elizabeth his wife to the said M. A. Galliardello; (5) A pair of indentures of feoffment, dated 18 Dec. 22 Eliz., from M. A. Galliardello to John Jones and Henry Evans, etc., of a messuage, etc., in the Minories to the use of Henry Troches and Lucrece Galliardello and the heirs of their bodies to be begotten; (6) An indenture of bargain and sale enrolled in Chancery, dated 2 April 2 Jacobi, by Ralph Hope and Elizabeth his wife, and Jacob (elsewhere called James) Troches and Johane his wife, unto Cæsar Galliardello and Elizabeth his wife, and to the heirs of the said Cæsar, of two messuages, etc., in the Minories; (7) A pair of indentures from Cæsar Galliardello and Elizabeth his wife to Rowland Rowbridge and John Tredwyn, dated 1 June 13 Jacobi, that they the said Cæsar and Elizabeth should levy a fine of the said messuages, etc., to Rowbridge and Tredwyn to the use of the said Cæsar and Elizabeth and their heirs for ever; (8) An indenture, dated 29 . . . . [obliterated], between the said Cæsar of the one part and John Tredwyn and Edward Norgate of the other part, of, etc., to the use of the said Cæsar for life, and after to the use of Benjamin Galliardello his son, then to the first son of the said Benjamin, etc., with divers remainders over. Mark Anthony Galliardello was undoubtedly the father of Cæsar. He was an Italian musician, and his burial is thus noted in the registers of Holy Trinity, Minories: "Mr Mark Anthony Galliardello, musician and sarvant to ye Queen's Majestie, was buried in good name and fame and most godly respect of all his neighbours, ye 17 day of June 1585." In a Subsidy Roll of 21 James 1 (1623), under Peckham, occurs "Cæsar Gallierdelo in bonis vj^li xvj^s"; and at Camberwell, on 18 Nov. 1599, "Susan dau. of Gallard Cæsar" was baptized.

* The name of Humphry Gilbert of Frodley appears in the list of persons disclaimed in August 1664 given in the Lands. MS. 857, but not in that given in the Visitation Book C. 36 in the College of Arms. It was no doubt expunged from the list on his recording the above pedigree in April 1665. As to his arms, it is curious that Blome in his 'Britannia' (pub. 1673) engraves them as "on a chevron between three leopard's faces as many roses," which (according to Papworth) is the coat of the family of Gilbert of Woodford, Essex, of which Shaw says (i., 131) this family was a branch.

† Sarah was married at Alrewas 23 Dec. 1672 to William Goring of Kingston. He died in 1701, aged 51; and she in 1707, aged 52. (M.I. at Alrewas.)

* See extracts from the parish registers of Alrewas in Shaw, i., 137, for the baptisms of his numerous children. Most of them died young or unmarried; and his son Henry, bapt. 21 July 1687, appears to have succeeded to Frodley. According to Burke ('Commoners,' i., 629) Henry left issue an only da. and heiress Frances, married in 1768 to Morgan Thomas, Esq. In the same work (i., 388) is a very incorrect account of this family of Goring, in which it is stated that the William who married Sarah Gilbert was son of Henry Goring, a brother of George, Earl of Norwich.

Greisbrooke of Shenstone.

[There is no official entry of the descent and arms of this family in the Visitation Book of 1663-4; but the following autograph letter from the then head of the family is preserved, with Dugdale's original MS. of his Visitation, in the College of Arms. It was no doubt handed to Sir William when at Lichfield in March 1663, but, as Dugdale would express it, "nothing further was done therein." The arms borne by the Middleton (Warwickshire) branch of this family, as allowed at the Visitation of Derbyshire in 1634 to Samuel Roper of Heanor, Esq. (Dugdale's friend and "cousin"*), for a quartering (in right of his mother Anne, da. and coheir of Alverey Greisbrooke or Greysbrooke of Stoke Hall, Middleton), and again allowed by Dugdale himself at his Visitation of the same county in 1662, were Argent, three coneys gules. Robert Greysbrooke of Middleton (great-grandson of Robert, brother of the said Alverey) sealed with the same arms in 1668; and they are also tricked as the arms of "Gresbrooke" of Warwickshire in the Harl. MS. 1563, in a series of shields preceding a copy by Mundy of the Warwickshire Visitation of 1619.]

* Dugdale constantly speaks of Samuel Roper (who was a Barrister of Lincoln's Inn and a Colonel in the Parliamentary Army) as his "cousin;" and a letter from him to Dugdale, dated circa 1654, is signed "Your loving cousin, Sam. Roper." (See Hamper's 'Life and Correspondence of Sir William Dugdale.') In his autobiography (written in the third person) Dugdale says that "his inclination to the study of antiquities was not a little encouraged by Samuel Roper, Esq., with whom, by reason he was cousin german to Mr. Richard Seawall, who had married his (Dugdale's) sister, he had first acquaintance about the year 1615." This is the only connection I can discover between the families. Richard Sewall was the younger son of Henry Sewall, or Shewell, Alderman of Coventry, by Margaret his wife, eldest daughter and coheir of Alverey Greysbrooke, and sister of Anne, second wife of Thomas Roper of Heanor and of the Inner Temple, mother of the said Samuel. Alderman Sewall was one of the "supervisors" of the will (dated 1575) of Alverey Greysbrooke. He died 16 April 1628, aged 84, and was buried in St. Michael's Church, Coventry. His eldest son Henry, bapt. at St. Michael's in 1576, emigrated to New England, and was grandfather of Samuel Sewall, Chief Justice of Massachusetts, whose interesting 'Diary' has been published by the Massachusetts Historical Society.

Harman of the same place (ob. 1528), and nephew of John Harman alias Vesey, Bishop of Exeter. The will of Raphael Yardley "of Awcote in the countie of Warr., gent.," is dated 29 Nov. 1614, and was proved at Lichfield in June 1615. He mentions his wife Amye, and "my children," but gives no names.

* The writer's maternal grandmother was a Harman (see preceding note). The name of his paternal grandmother (wife of Robert Greisbrooke of Shenstone) was Margery, but as yet I have not been able to discover her family name. She proved her husband's will 18 Sept. 1613, and died soon after, for administration of her effects was granted 19 Jan. 1613-14 to Alice, wife of James Hodgkinson, her daughter. This last-named Robert Greisbrooke was the second son but testamentary heir of his father, also named Robert, who in his will, dated 2 Dec. 1569 and proved at Lichfield 31 July 1570, bequeaths "unto John Gresbroke, my oldest sonne, yf he be nowe lyvynge, foure pounds of lawfull money of Ingland, upon condicion that the sayd John shall release unto Rob'te Gresbroke, my yonger sonne, all hys right, interest, tytle, clayme, and demande that he hath, or shall have, in or to all suche messuages, lands, ten'ts, medowes, lesowes, pastures, rents, reve'cons, p'mises, and herydytaments whatsoever, whiche be, or were, of thenherytaunce of me the said Rob'te, or of John Gresbroke my father, sett', lyeing, and beyinge in Shenston foresayd, or ellswhere within the realme of Ingland. And yf the sayd John refuse so to do, then I wyll that the sayd foure poundes shalbe bestowed and imployed in defendynge of the right of the said Rob'te my yonger sonne, and to the use of the poore people in Shenston aforesayd." He refers to "Anne my nowe wyffe," to Roland and William "my toe yongest sonnes," and to Elizabeth, Ellen, and Margaret his daughters. The short will of his father John is dated 1541. He wills that his debts be paid and the residue divided among Elizabeth his wife and his children. The Greisbrooke family is said by Sanders ('Hist. of Shenstone') to have come originally from Gresbroke (now usually written Greasbrough) near Rotherham, co. York. The first of the name at Shenstone was Bartholomew de Gresbroke, who had a grant, temp. H. 3, from Robert de Grendon of all that his house with messuages, etc., which the Lady Alicia de Braye formerly held of him in Senestan as of her dower, with house-bote and hay-bote in the woods of Senestan. (Shaw, ii., 32.) This Bartholomew (who was alive in 26 H. 3, and dead in 3 E. 1) had by Edith his wife two sons Adam and Robert. From this date the name is constantly found in connection with Shenstone, the last of the family having been Robert Greisbrooke, gent., who died s.p. in 1728, leaving his estate in Shenstone to his nephew Greisbrooke Cramp, son of Thomas Cramp of Longdon, gent., by Sarah sister of the said Robert.

† Robert Greisbrooke, the writer, was buried at Shenstone 26 May 1681, and Sarah "Grazbrook," widow, whom I take to have been his second wife, on 14 Aug. 1703. In 1633 he lived at Little Packington, co. Warwick, and he married there 3 Nov. 1629 Sarah, da. of Thomas Race of that place, their marriage settlement being dated 14 Sept. 5 Charles 1. He had two children William and Elizabeth, baptized at Little Packington in 1634 and 1636, the former of whom died an infant. In Shenstone Registers I find Susanna, da. of Robert Greysbrook, bapt.

1 March 1656; and Robert, who was certainly the successor and no doubt son of the said Robert, appears to have been born about 1649, as in his marriage allegation papers 1672 he is described as "ætatis 23 aut de circiter." This Robert married, 18 July 1672, Jemima, da. of the Rev. William Grace, Vicar of Shenstone, and was father of Robert, who died in 1728, mentioned in the preceding note. Robert Greisbrooke was buried at Shenstone 24 Dec. 1718, and administration of his personal estate was granted 31 Dec. 1718 to Jemima his widow. Some dozen years before his death (as appears from a deed of 1707) he lived at Hawkeswell in Warwickshire, his son Robert (in the deed styled his "only son and heir apparent") occupying the family "mansion house" in Shenstone.

* Henry, Lord Grey, was nephew and male representative of Henry, Duke of Suffolk, father of the ill-fated Lady Jane Grey. His eldest son John (who died vitâ patris) was father of Henry, created Earl of Stamford in 1628, ancestor of the present Earl.

ARMS.—Quarterly—1 and 4, Azure, a garb or between three bezants [GROSVENOR]; 2, Argent, a bend sable between three mullets gules [CLAYTON]; 3, Argent, on a fesse cottised sable three escallops of the field [BUSHBURY].

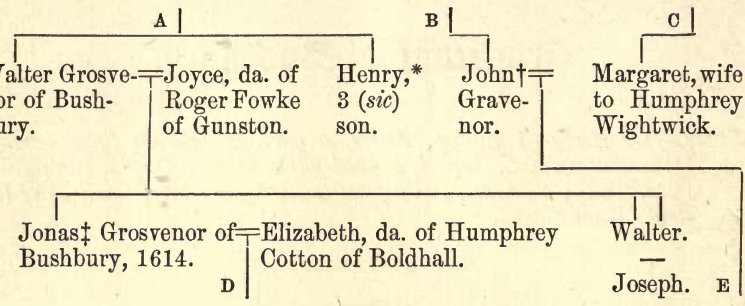
* William Grosvenor, here styled "of Eaton," was really of Broughton in the parish of Claverley, co. Salop. He was the son of Thomas Grosvenor, and grandson of John Grosvenor; which John was a younger son of Thomas Grosvenor, or Gravenor, of High Gravenor in the parish of Claverley. "Richard Sharesmyth de Penne," father of Margaret the wife of William, attests a Penn charter of temp. H. 6, and was one of the collectors of the Staffordshire subsidy in the same reign. Humphrey Grosvenor, son of William, was of Farncote in Claverley parish in 22 E. 4 (1482) and 16 H. 7 (1500). In the former year his father William settled upon him and Joice his wife a messuage and lands in Farncote. See an elaborate pedigree compiled from documentary evidence by the late Joseph Morris of Shrewsbury in the 'Herald and Genealogist,' v., 33 et seq., where the alleged descent of this family from the Grosvenors of Eaton, as asserted by the Heralds, is shewn to be erroneous.

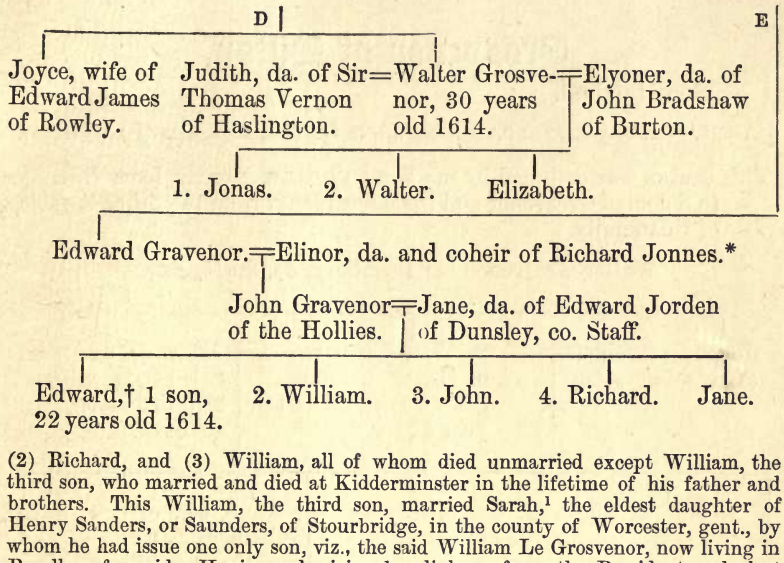
† Rose was da. and coheir (with her sister Ellen, wife of William Leveson) of John Clayton of Harwood Parva, co. Lancaster, by Rose his wife, da. and heir of Richard Bushbury of Bushbury. In 5 H. 8 John Gravenor and Rose his wife grant a messuage in Seisdon to Henry Barnesley, and in 4 E. 6 Rose Gravenor of Tettenhall, widow of John Gravenor, releases to Thomas, son of Henry Barnesley, all right to a messuage in Seisdon, late the lands of Humphrey Gravenor and Joyce his wife. (Shaw, ii., 208; Dugdale's 'Warwickshire'; and 'Herald and Genealogist,' v., 42.)



* According to the Visitation of 1583 this Henry was fourth son of John and Rose, and died s.p. In some pedigrees he is stated to have married Alice Whitgreave of Burton; but see the pedigree of Grosvenor of Hungersheath.

† According to the original Visitation of Herts in 1572 (G. 17, Coll. Arm., fo. 31b) John Grosvenor "of Enfield" had issue three sons, viz., Edward, son and heir; 2, Robert; and 3, William. Robert, the second son (who entered and signed the pedigree), was of Wade's Mill, Herts; he married Elizabeth, da. of .... Farnfold of Sussex, and had issue Jane, Mary, and Elizabeth. In 1578 Robert Grosvenor of Wade's Mill and Richard Farnefold were defendants in a Chancery suit brought by the collectors for the poor of the parish of Steyning. It appears that Jane Waller, the defendant Grosvenor's mother, left the rents of certain lands for charitable purposes, and directed her son the said Robert Grosvenor to make distribution of the same after her death for the benefit of the said poor, but he endeavoured to avoid the same by connivance with Farnefold the other defendant. In the MS. G. 17 above named the wife of John Grosvenor, and mother of Robert, is simply called ".... da. of .... of Staffordshire."

‡ The pedigree given by Shaw (ii. 178) and that compiled by Mr. Joseph Morris assign two other sons, Thomas and Edward, to Jonas and Elizabeth Grosvenor. Thomas, the second son, was the alleged ancestor of a personage who styled himself "William Le Grosvenor," a licentiate of the College of Physicians, of Bewdley, co. Worcester. In the year 1776 Dr. Grosvenor printed a pamphlet, now extremely rare, in which he claimed to be the "head and heir-male" of the Grosvenors of Eaton, in right of his descent from William Grosvenor who, he says, "is registered in the Heralds' College as William Grosvenor of Eaton," and who must therefore have possessed that estate. He gives the descent from Humphrey to Jonas from the Visitation pedigree. Jonas Grosvenor, he says, had by Elizabeth née Cotton three sons, Walter, Thomas, and Edward. "The male issue of Walter, the eldest son, became extinct after three generations, viz., in the year 1732 by the death of John Grosvenor, or Le Grosvenor, of Wolverhampton, Esqr. Walter Grosvenor, or Le Grosvenor, the grandfather, Jonas the father, and Jonas and Archibald the two eldest brothers of this John lived chiefly at Newbridge, at or near Tettenhall, though they sometimes resided at Wolverhampton, and sometimes at Bushbury." Shaw informs us that the Bushbury estate was sold in 1721 by Archibald Grosvenor, great-grandson of Walter and Eleanor née Bradshaw. This Archibald married Frances Hale, who, in one of Hadfield's MSS. in the William Salt Library, is stated to have been granddaughter of Lord Chief Justice Sir Matthew Hale. Archibald Grosvenor, after he had sold his estate at Bushbury, resided at Hale Hall, near Cheadle, a house which he built and so named in honour of his wife. He died s.p. in 1725, and she in 1736. "Thomas, the second son of the before-mentioned Jonas (continues the Doctor) married, and settled at a place called 'The Stockings' in the parish of Codsall, ... and had issue William Grosvenor of the Stockings, gent., his son and heir, who married Elizabeth, sole daughter and heir of Richard Marshall of Codsall aforesaid, by whom he had issue William Grosvenor of the Stockings, gent., his son and heir, who in the year 1685 married Mary, sole daughter and heir of Thomas Cherme of Withington, in the county of Salop, gent., by whom he had three sons, all born at Withington, viz., (1) Thomas,



(2) Richard, and (3) William, all of whom died unmarried except William, the third son, who married and died at Kidderminster in the lifetime of his father and brothers. This William, the third son, married Sarah,[1] the eldest daughter of Henry Sanders, or Saunders, of Stourbridge, in the county of Worcester, gent., by whom he had issue one only son, viz., the said William Le Grosvenor, now living in Bewdley aforesaid. He is a physician by diploma from the President and elect Fellows of the Royal College of Physicians, London.[2] It appears clearly to him and others that he is the heir-male of the before-mentioned Gilbert Le Grosvenor, and of the famous Sir Robert Le Grosvenor, and of Ralph Le Grosvenor and Joan his wife, the heiress of Eaton; and therefore he cannot but be of opinion that he hath a right to call himself, and be called, by the name and appellation of William Le Grosvenor, and to bear the Grosvenors' arms pure. . . . . In consequence of his being an orphan at about five years of age, by the loss of his father at Kidderminster, he has been privately surrounded by an infernal crew of villains and wolves in sheeps' clothing, who have found means to rob him of his property, to get possession of, and to withhold from him the greatest part of his inheritance, and to obstruct justice while he was using his best endeavours to obtain it, particularly with respect to the Stockings estate. Some of these villains have formed many schemes, and made several attempts to deprive him of his life; and they have lately burnt down his house and barn at Codsall. The Stockings, Withington, and Bushbury estates have been withheld from him; and in the opinion of many people he hath a better right to the Eaton estate than Lord Grosvenor, its present possessor. He is the undoubted heir-male of the Grosvenor family of the Stockings, Withington, Tettenhall, Newbridge, and Bushbury, and, with submission, he is also the heir-male of the Grosvenor family of Eaton, near Chester."

* There is a pedigree of the Jonnes family in the Harl. MS. 6128. It appears that Richard Jonnes of Dudley (son of Roger and grandson of John Jonnes, both of Dudley) married Clare, da. and h. of Cornelius Coleborne, and had issue by her (with two sons, Henry, who died s.p. 12 July 1557, and Geoffrey, who likewise died s.p.), three daughters and coheirs, viz., Eleanor, wife of . . . . Gravenor of Enville; Katherine, wife of Richard Shawe; and Elizabeth, wife of Richard Bendy of Kingswinford.

† See Dyson pedigree, ante p. 120. In the Visitation of Shropshire, 1623, Ellen,

[1] William Grosvenor (who was an Apothecary) and Sarah Sanders were married at Oldswinford (Stourbridge) 5 Aug. 1751. She was of the same family as the Rev. Henry Sanders, author of the 'History of Shenstone in Staffordshire.' See the Introduction to that work.

[2] He was admitted an extra Licentiate of the College 8 Aug. 1770. (Munk's Roll, ii., 45.)

da. and coheir of Francis Farmer of Endon Burnell, is stated to have married "Edward Grosvenor de Hollis, co. Staff.," but Jane, wife of Edward Gravenor, was buried at Enville 1653. He probably had two wives, but he certainly died s.p. I have not been able to discover how he was related to Robert Gravenor who entered his descent in the Visitation of London in 1634, and is there described as brother of John Gravenor, and second son of "William Gravenor of Hollis in the parish of Enville in com. Stafford," by Frances, da. of Edward Clarke. Robert Gravenor m. Joan, da. of Richard Nichols of Hendon, Middlesex, and had issue Robert, Mary, Sarah, and Elizabeth.

* The will of Walter Grosvenor of Hilton, gent., is dated 24 March 1689. He gives his lands in trust to John Huntbach of Fetherston, gent., and William Peak of Bushbury, clerk. Mentions his wife, his two daughters Sarah and Elizabeth (then under 21), and his son Solomon. Gives £50 to "my sonn Walter, to be raised as soon as he shall be adjudged fit to be put apprentice, in case he shall not receive the lands devised to him by my aunt Rogerson's will." He also mentions "my younger children." Administration, with will annexed, was granted at Lichfield to Elizabeth Grosvenor the relict, John Huntbach "the only executor" having renounced. The inventory is dated 24 and 25 April 1696, and amounts to £163 9s. 4d. The testator's "aunt Rogerson" was probably Dorcas Rogerson of Hilton, spinster, who in 13 Charles II., 1661, was defendant in an Exchequer suit with Solomon Grosvenor and John Worsey of Rushall as to a tenement in Hilton. It appears from the proceedings that Dorcas Rogerson then had a considerable estate in Hilton and Essington.

* Randolph Grosvenor married Anne, da. of William Charlton of Apley, co. Salop. He was son of Randle Grosvenor of Bellaport, by Margaret, da. of Randle Mainwaring, and grandson of Thomas Grosvenor of Drayton-in-Hales, co. Salop, by Isabella, da. and coheir of Sir Richard Peshall of Chetwynd; which Thomas Grosvenor was a younger son of Sir Thomas Grosvenor of Holme, co. Chester, and brother of "Rawlings vel Radulphus" Grosvenor, ancestor of the Duke of Westminster. A complete pedigree, continued to the year 1867, has been registered in the College of Arms, and will be found, in extenso, in the 'Herald and Genealogist,' vol. v., p. 504 et seq.

† Thomas Grosvenor. He married Mary, da. of John Cotes of Woodcote, co. Salop, who by Ursula his wife, da. of Francis Charlton of Apley, had issue a son William, who married Anne, da. of John Shirley of Stanton Harold, co. Leicester, and died in June 1641 without surviving issue. ('Herald and Genealogist,' v., 322 and 505.)

‡ In Lord Hatherton's MS. copy of the Staffordshire Visitation of 1583 Alice, da. of Robert Whitgreave of Burton, is stated to have married "Henry Gravenor, a younger brother of Bushbery;" and in the Vis. of Warwickshire in 1619 (Harl. Soc., p. 387) Henry Grosvenor, (there called second) son of John Grosvenor of Bushbury, is stated to have married "Aliciam filiam Rob'ti Whitgrave de Burton," and to have died s.p. Vide ante, p. 160.

John Hale* of Compton, co. Staff.=

* I have not been able to discover how John Hale of Compton was related to Thomas Hale "of Hollyse," who heads the pedigree recorded in 1663; but having been favoured by the Rev. John Hodgson, F.S.A., Vicar of Kinver, with a list of every entry of the names Hale, Hall, etc., in his registers from their commencement in 1560 to the year 1672, I here append such of them as have not been used in annotating these two pedigrees.

* The following children of Edward and Anne Hale were baptized at Kinver: Elizabeth, 10 May 1579; Joyce, 20 May 1582; Jane, 28 March 1585; John, 21 April 1588; Margaret, 13 Dec. 1590; and Margery, 23 Feb. 1594-5.

† A pedigree of the family of Longmore of Over Arley was recorded at the Visitation of Essex in 1612 (Harl. Soc., xiii., 234). It is there stated that Ann, da. of Henry Longmer of Arley, "Esquier," married "Edward Hall of Compton, co. Stafford, gent." She was sister of John Longmore of Baddow Magna, co. Essex (who died s.p. in 1615), and of Henry Longmore of Arley, who had issue an only da. and heir Margery, married (it would appear from Vis. Worc., 1682-3) to Samuel Toye of Arley.

‡ Richard and Elizabeth Hale had the following children baptized at Kinver: John (Hull), 4 March 1612-3; Anne, 2 April 1615; Elizabeth (Halle), 28 Dec. 1617; Richard (Hall), 14 Feb. 1618-9; Edward, 21 Dec. 1620; William, 13 Oct. 1622; and John, son of Richard and Elizabeth Haule, 14 July 1625. There was also a daughter (name not given) of Richard Hale and Elizabeth his wife buried 7 Dec. 1616.

§ The arms used by this family as engraved in the margin of Plot's map were, Gules, three arrows, 2 and 1, points to the base or. Crest: An arm embowed in armour proper, in the hand an arrow or. See also Lans. MS. 857.

‖ Thomas Hale, "a young man," was buried at Enville in 1632. In 1627 Thomas Hale the elder was buried, and in 1629 Thomas Hale was buried.

ARMS.§—Or, on a bend engrailed vert cottised sable, three bezants.

CREST.—Out of a mural coronet sable, a demi-lion rampant or, charged on the shoulder with a trefoil slipped gules, supporting with the fore-paws a battle-axe gold.

These bezants upon the bend were assigned to Francis Hanbury of Wolverhampton in com. Stafford, gent., for a distinction of his arms from the other branches of this family, 25 April 1664, by me, WILL'M DUGDALE, Norroy King of Arms.

* William Hale and Anne Cole were married by licence at Kinver in 1635. On her M.I. at Enville she is stated to have been married to William Hale, gent., on 1 March 1635, and to have died 27 March 1676. She lies "between her two eldest sons, Thomas, buried 30 April 1660, and William, buried 2 Feb. 1657." It appears from the Enville registers that Thomas, son of William and Anne Hale, was bapt. 1637, and Mary, da. of the same, in 1644.

† At Kinver were baptized the following: Thomas, son of Edward Hale, 8 Oct. 1655; Marie, da. of Edward and Isabell Hale (born 1 Sept.), 19 Sept. 1659; and Elizabeth, da. of same, 10 May 1661. Thomas, son of Edward and Isabell Hale, was buried 1662-3; and on 23 June 1671 Isabel, wife of Edward Hale, was buried.

‡ He was probably father of John Hale, gent., who died 27 Sept. 1745, aged 51 (M.I. at Enville), and who appears to have been father, by Elizabeth his wife, of John, Thomas, Elizabeth, and Mary. John, son of John Hale of the Hollies and Elizabeth his wife, was bapt. at Enville in 1724, and Thomas, son of the same, on 30 July 1730. The latter has a M.I. at Enville, in which he is described as son of John Hale, gent. He died 10 Aug. 1753, aged 23, and was buried on 12 Aug. On 28 May 1749 Mr. William Kaye of Wolverhampton was married at Enville to "Mrs Mary Hale of this parish," and on the same day "Mrs Elizabeth Hale" was married to Thomas Robins. On 20 Feb. 1794 Mr. Corbett Hale (who I believe was the last of the family) was buried. There is also at Enville a M.I. to Elizabeth, one of the daughters of John Hale, gent., and Joice his wife, who died 5 Nov. 1687.

§ These arms (without the bezants) were confirmed and the crest granted by Camden, Clarenceux, to John Hanbury of Pursell Green, co. Worcester; which John Hanbury was (according to the fourth edition of Burke's 'Landed Gentry') M.P. for the city of Gloucester, and a stanch Parliamentarian high in the confidence of Oliver Cromwell. He recorded his descent at the Visitation of Gloucestershire in 1623, and was ancestor, by Anne his wife, da. of Christopher Capel, Alderman of Gloucester, of the Lords Sudeley and of the Hanburys of Pontypool.

* This Robert is presumed to be identical with Robert, son of John Hanbury, who was bapt. at Elmley Lovett, co. Worcester, 26 Sept. 1549. If so, he was a younger brother of Richard Hanbury (bapt. there 21 March 1548), father of John, of Pursell Green, referred to in the preceding note.

† John Hanbury was buried at Wolverhampton 28 April 1636. Rachel his daughter was bapt. there 14 June 1606, and John and William his sons on 2 July 1609 and 17 April 1614 respectively.

‡ Robert Hanbury was buried at Wolverhampton 9 April 1651, and Lettice his first wife on 22 Jan. 1639. His son Francis was bapt. there 1 Oct. 1637, and his da. Elizabeth on 5 Aug. 1647.

§ Richard Acton of Dunvall was second son of Robert Acton of Aldenham, co. Salop, and uncle of Edward Acton, created a baronet in 1643. He married Margaret, da. of Michael Lister of Rowton, and had issue two sons and five daughters, Elizabeth being his second daughter. (See Betham's 'Baronetage,' ii., 14.)

‖ The name of "Francis Hanbury, gent.," appears in the list of subscribers to Plot's 'Natural History of Staffordshire,' and his arms are engraved in the margin of the map of Staffordshire in that work with a reference to Norton under Cannock. Shaw says that the Hanbury family owned two-thirds of the manor of Norton, and that one of them sold the same about 1730 to Christopher Wood (ii., 57). Francis Hanbury died 26 Feb. 1703, having had issue (with others) by Elizabeth his wife a son Robert, bapt. at Norton 9 Sept. 1675, and buried there 8 May 1740, who married, at the Abbey Church, Shrewsbury, 1 April 1704, Frances, da. of William and Sarah Moseley of Walsall (she was bapt. at Walsall 8 Nov. 1671, and buried at Norton 16 June 1728), by whom he had issue a son Robert Hanbury, bapt. at Walsall 7 Nov. 1704, who succeeded. This last-named Robert was buried at Norton 30 Dec. 1746. By Anne his wife, who was also buried there 16 Dec. 1742, he had issue three sons and three daughters, of whom John was of Froghall (bapt. at

‡ "The Judge" in the Visitation of 1614 is an error. She was the daughter of William Fitzherbert, fourth son of the Judge, by Elizabeth née Swinnerton. (Vis., 1583.)

§ She was second wife of Sir Henry, and was buried at Elmley-Lovett, co. Worc., 15 July 1635.

‖ "Nicholas Heveningham, Esquyer, and Elizabeth, da. of Sir John Bowes, Knt., married the 18th January 1608." (Elford Registers.)

¶ It is recorded in the registers of St. Mary, Lichfield, that Margaret, da. of Walter Heveningham, was baptized by the midwife 12 Oct. 1591; and in the registers of Alrewas is this entry, "1610 Christopher Horton de Catton et Margarita Heveningham nupti fuerunt in monasterio Lichfieldiæ 10 April."

 The wife of Simon Heveningham was Catherine, da. of Thomas Alport of Newton Regis, co. Warwick, by Catherine his wife. The latter, in her will, dated 6 Nov. 1681, refers to her granddaughter Dorothy Heveningham. According to Harwood's 'Erdeswick,' p. 42, Simon had issue two surviving children, Christopher and Dorothy. Christopher married Mary, da. and heir of William Brooke of Haselor (see that pedigree), and had, with other issue, a son Christopher Heveningham, baptized at Elford 6 Dec. 1698, who had issue a son Edward, born (says Harwood) 21 April 1721, "whose heir is in the United States," and a daughter Mary, wife of the Rev. Daniel William Remington, Canon of Lichfield. Christopher Heveningham (last named) was a currier at Lichfield. In his will, dated 8 Oct. 1747, and proved at Lichfield 25 April 1748, he mentions "my eldest son Edward, now in the army," and "my three children Mary, Joseph, and Arabella." It is possible that the heir of Edward may be in the United States, but it is believed that there are descendants of him still existing in this country.

* "1608, Oct. 29. Walter, son of Mr Nicholas Heveningham, baptized in the Pipe Hall by Mr Christopher Gill, sexton." (Registers of St. Michael, Lichfield.) His age is therefore incorrectly given in both Visitations.

† Her will (in which she is styled "Mary Heveningham of Aston, near Stone, relict of Walter Heveningham, Esq.") is dated 8 April 1692, and was proved at Lichfield 11 Aug. 1701. She leaves all her personal estate to her son-in-law Sir James Simeon, Bart. (husband of her daughter Bridget), and appoints him sole executor. The elder daughter Mary married Walter Fowler of St. Thomas.

‡ Hugh is correct. His signature is attached to the pedigree entered in 1583. According to a M.I. formerly in Lichfield Cathedral, given by Shaw, i., 255, he was son of John Hill by a second wife Jane, daughter of John Francis of Foremark, co. Derby. The first wife Isabel Ellys, it is stated, ob. s.p. in 1559.

* The pedigree given by Shaw erroneously makes Margery Yarde a second wife of John the father. There is a pedigree of Yarde in the Visitation of Leicestershire, 1619 (Harl. Samuel, the second son, was a citizen and woollen draper of London, and then æt. 47; by Susan his wife he had issue, Samuel æt. 17, Edward æt. 11, Bridget æt. 18, Jane æt. 15, Elizabeth æt. 13, and Susan æt. 7. The third son, Charles, was aged 46; he was a mercer in London and a J.P. for the city and liberties of Westminster. ‡ John Hoo was a member of the Bar, and afterwards a Serjeant-at-Law. About the year 1710 he purchased the manor of Wednesbury. In the parish registers of Bilston (which contain numerous notes of a similar nature) is the following memorandum: "John Hoo, Esq., Serjeant-at-Law, was buried in the south chancel of Wolverhampton 1st March 1719-20, aged 62. He was the eldest son of Mr John Hoo of Bradley, and married the daughter of .... Hanbury, Esq., of Bewdley. His heir is John Hoo, Esq., of Barr." There is also a note to the effect that the Serjeant's sister Margaret was the wife of William Bendy of Shutend, and that her daughter, the widow of .... Williamson, was married at Stafford 6 Feb. 1725 to the Rev. John Dolman, Rector of Aldridge. The wife of Serjeant Hoo was Mary, da. of Capel Hanbury of Whorestone, Bewdley. He died s.p. and was succeeded by his nephew John Hoo, Esq., who was lord of the manor of Barr in right of Frances his wife, da. and h. of Thomas Lacy and Eleanor his wife, da. and h. of Edward Scott of Barr. John and Frances Hoo had issue two sons who both died s.p., whereupon the representation of the family devolved upon the descendants of the two daughters of Margaret Bendy, viz., Margaret, wife of the Rev. * In the Harl. MS. 1332 (which purports to be a copy of the Visitation of Berkshire taken in 1556, continued and enlarged from that taken in 1623) is a pedigree of Iremonger commencing with James Iremonger of Rudge, or Ridge, co. Stafford, who married Katherine, da. of John Cozwood of Shrewsbury, and was father (inter alios) of William Iremonger of Goldingfield, Berks, Mayor of Reading in 1617. It appears from Burke's 'Landed Gentry' and Berry's 'Pedigrees of Hampshire Families' that the Iremongers, now of Wherwell, Hants, claim descent from and use the arms of this family; but their descent is traced only from Joshua Iremonger of London, brewer, whose will is dated 26 Feb. 1711 and was proved 12 Nov. 1713. The parish registers of Penkridge contain numerous entries of a family of Ironmonger, or Iremonger, the first entry being the baptism on 28 Sept. 1608 of Edward, son of John Ironmonger.

Thomas Keeling* of Newcastle-under-Lyme, co. Staff. = ... da. of . . . . Sidway in co. Staff.

A

* Thomas Keeling was an Alderman of Newcastle, and was buried there 12 Dec. 1617. We learn from the Visitation of London, 1633-4, that his wife was Thomasine, da. of Robert Sidway of Stonyloe, co. Staff. ["Mrs Keeling, sen.," was buried at Newcastle 26 April 1635], and that he was the son of John Keeling by Elizabeth Estrap of Shropshire, and grandson of Ralph Keeling of Newcastle. John Keeling was buried at Newcastle 5 April 1578. His will, in which he is described as Alderman of Newcastle, is dated 30 Dec. 1577, and was proved at Lichfield 22 April 1578. He mentions his wife Elizabeth, his son Thomas, his daughters Ellen and Margery Keeling, his cousin Nicholas Barrett, James Walthall "my sister's son," and Robert Smith "my sister's son." Richard Smith, gent., to be overseer. Ralph Keyling, of the parish of Wolstanton, made his will 16 Nov. 1569, and it was proved at Lichfield in 1570. He mentions his wife Isabell, his daughter Seales, and his daughters Elizabeth and Agnes. John Kelinge of Newcastle to be overseer. The testator owed debts to John Rowley, Thomas Rowley, the younger, of Chell, and William Kelinge of Blackwood. There were also proved at Lichfield the wills of Gralland Kelyng of Wolstanton in Oct. 1536 (he had two sons Richard and William, and two daughters Jane and Margaret); and that of Richard Kelyng of Wolstanton in 1562, whose inventory (the will is missing) was made 10 April 1561 by William Rowley, William Keyling, and another; Ralph Keyling owed him a debt.

NOTE BY GREGORY KING AT THE END OF THE VISITATION BOOK.

"They have no right to Armes, not being descended of a Gentleman's family; whereupon John Keeling, the Judge,‡ 2d son of Thomas Keeling of Newcastle by the dau. of Sidway, and younger brother to Raph Keeling of Newcastle, was obliged to sue forth a Patent of Armes Ao 1632 sibi et hæredib'; which John had issue

* Ralph was baptized at Newcastle 10 April 1582, and John his brother (who was of the Inner Temple, Esq.) 2 Feb. 1585; also eight other children of Thomas Keeling were bapt. there, of whom three died young. The survivors were: Elizabeth, b. 3 Jan. 1587 (? m. to George Oderley 10 Nov. 1607); Thomas, 7 June 1590; Clara, 16 April 1596; Edward, 26 Jan. 1598; and Mary, 9 Dec. 1605. Of the issue of Ralph: Isaac was bapt. 15 Sept. 1605; Thomas, 28 March 1613; Ralph, 26 March 1616; and Elizabeth, 10 Jan. 1618. William "Breett" and Elizabeth Keeling were married 2 Jan. 1649.

† Isaac Keeling was buried at Wolstanton 15 Aug. 1679, and Anne, his widow, on 4 July 1683. Administration of the effects of Isaac Keeling, clerk, Vicar of Wolstanton, was granted at Lichfield 30 Sept. 1680 to John Turner of Wolstanton and John Baddiley, creditors.

‡ Gregory King has here confounded John Keeling of Hackney, who was simply a barrister, with Sir John Keelinge, Knt., Chief Justice of the King's Bench, who was the son of John Keelinge by Alice, da. of Gregory Waterhouse of Halifax, and grandson of William Keelinge "of the county of Worcester." (Harl. MS. 1487.) The Judge's arms were, Argent, three scaling-ladders in bend gules. Crest: A lion sejant or, holding a scaling-ladder gules. (See Le Neve's 'Knights,' Harl. Soc., p. 150, and Harl. MS. ut supra.) John Keelinge of Hackney married Elizabeth, da. of William Croke of Chilton, Bucks, and by her, who was born 21 June 1597 (Hist. of the Family of Croke, i., 664), had issue two sons Moses and Thomas. His will is dated 19 Aug. 1633 and was proved in London 2 June 1649. He desires to be buried in the Temple Church near his wife's uncle Mr. Henry Croke; refers to purchase of lands at Blurton, Staffordshire. Much of his property he gives to his son Thomas "to bring up his children," but the bulk is devised to his wife Elizabeth and his eldest son Moses. The will was proved by his relict and his two sons; his "good brother Mr Alexander Croke" was one of the overseers. In 1651 administration of the effects of Elizabeth Keeling of Hackney, widow, was granted to her son Moses.

Moses, and he had issue John who died unmarried in 1682, so that the descendants of the Patentee are extinct; and, being granted to the younger brother, will not reach to the issue of Raphe, who was his elder brother. Vide Vis. Lond.,* C. 24, fo. 510a.

† From an old schedule of deeds relating to the Blakelow estate, I learn that their post nuptial settlement is dated 9 Nov. 1636. It is an indenture made between Stockett Lutwych of Swynnerton, clerk, of the first part; Richard Parker the elder of Audley, gent., of the second part; John Lutwych (son and heir-apparent of the said Stockett Lutwych) and Katherine his wife, John Mansell

Lyddyat of Enville and Himley.

- John Lyddyat of Wollaston in com. Wigorn.

of Bagnall, co. Stafford, gent., and Richard Parker the younger, son and heir-apparent of the said Richard Parker the elder, etc., of the third part. The Blakelow estate appears to have been purchased in 1634 by Stockett Lutwych from John Popham of Littlecote, co. Wilts, Esq. In 1680 is an indenture made between John Lutwych the elder of Blakelow, gent., and Katherine his wife, John Lutwych the younger and Edith his wife, Richard Lutwych of Snape in the parish of Stoke-upon-Trent, gent., Mary Lutwych of Blakelow, spinster, and Benjamin Thornbury, M.D., of the one part; and Thomas Mainwaring of Whitmore and Christopher Collier of Yarlet of the other part; whereby it was covenanted to levy a fine of lands in Stone and Swinnerton, which fine when levied should enure to the only sole and proper use and behoof of the said John Lutwych the younger and his heirs and assigns for ever. In 1682 the said John Lutwych the younger (described as heretofore of Blakelow, but now of the parish of St. George, Southwark, co. Surrey) and Edith his wife conveyed the estate to the aforesaid Richard Lutwych of Snape and his heirs for ever. Richard Lutwyche acquired in 1684, from William Jervis of Meaford, Abraham Fowler of Stafford, and Thomas Turton of Barlaston, the tithes of Blakelow; and in 1685 he and Elizabeth his wife sold the estate to Richard Avenant of Shellsley, co. Worcester, gent., and John Wheeler of Wollaston near Stourbridge, co. Worcester, gent., from whom it was acquired by the Feoffees of Foley's Hospital at Oldswinford, Stourbridge.

* These arms and crest were granted to John Lyddyat by Sir Richard St. George, Norroy, 19 Oct. 12 James, 1614. (Harl. MS. 1052.)

† The pedigree entered in 1614 commences with him.

‡ George Lyddyat was defendant in an Exchequer suit 1587 as to leasehold lands in Himley. Elizabeth his "now wife" is mentioned, also Hugh his father, and Thomas his grandfather; which Thomas, it incidentally appears, was living in 1524.

Lichfield, 25 April 1664. Certified by Mr. JOHN LYDDYAT.

* It appears from a bill in Chancery, filed in 1595 by George Lydeate and John Lydeate, overseers of the last will of Hugh Lydeate of Walsall, deceased, their brother, against John Lynacre and Mary his wife, that Hugh Lydeate made his will on 25 March 34 Eliz., 1592, and was then possessed of lands and tenements in Walsall and in the City of London of the annual value of threescore and ten pounds "at the least." The testator had by a former wife two daughters Mary and Elizabeth, and by his then wife Mary one only son John, then an infant "not past the age of one year." In his will he also mentions his uncle George Lydeate of Himley, his father-in-law Thomas Skrimshire, and his brother-in-law Thomas Skrimshire. He left considerable property to Mary his wife for her life, provided that she did not marry again; but, says the bill, "within six months after the death of the said testator the said Marie his relict did espouse one John Lynacre" (see Linacre pedigree), by which act she forfeited all her interest under her husband's will. Hence the proceedings on the part of the overseers, one of them, George, having taken out administration, after the second marriage, by which the goods and chattels of the said testator were committed to the said George during the minority of the said John, the son and heir of the deceased. (Proceedings in Chancery, temp. Eliz., L.l. i., 56.)

Meverell of Throwley.‡

[1614.]

George Meverell of Throwley, co. Staff. ═ Jone, da. of Thomas Babington of Dethick.

A

* Anthony Kinnersley. See that pedigree.

† Sic in original, but Dugdale was at Wolverhampton on 10th April.

‡ Throwley, writes Erdeswick (ed. 1844, p. 483), is "a fair ancient house and goodly demesne, being the seat of the Meverells, a very ancient house of gentlemen, and of goodly living, equalling the best sort of gentlemen in the shire. . . . I find that Oliver de Meverell lived 5° regis Johannis; who I suppose had issue William, and William had issue Thomas, who, 2 Ed. I., had married Agnes, eldest daughter of five, and one of the heirs of Gerebert de Gayton." A long pedigree, going back to Oliver Meverell living 5 John, will be found in Mr. Sleigh's 'History of Leek,' 2nd edition, p. 56. See also Harl. MSS. 2113 and 6128.

* The post mortem inquest of Francis Meverell, son and heir of George Meverell of Throwley, was taken at Ashborne 17 April 7 Eliz. He died 17 Dec. last (1564), and Sampson his son and heir was aged 17. (Cole's Eschæts, Harl. MS. 411, p. 19.)

† George Meverell married Constance, da. of Ottewell Allen of Whetstone, co. Derby, by whom he was father of two sons Francis and Ottewell. The latter, who was a physician in London, entered his descent in the Visitation of that city taken in 1633-4. He married Katherine, da. of Richard Ironside of London, and had issue Ottewell, Samuel, Margaret, Sarah, and Katherine.

‡ Nicholas Meverell was of Tidswell, co. Derby. He married Barbara, da. of . . . . Marshall of Tidswell, and had issue Edward, Robert, Roger, Francis, and Thomas. Edward, the eldest son, married Dorothy, da. of . . . . Elesman of the Isle of Wight, and had (with a da. Elizabeth, who died unm.) a son Cromwell Meverell of Tidswell, æt. 25, 15 Aug. 1662. Cromwell Meverell married Barbara, da. of Henry Bradshaw of Marple, co. Chester, and had issue Obadiah, æt. 1½ year, 1662, Barbara, and Rachel. (Vis. of Derbyshire in Coll. Arm.) The arms of Meverell as entered in the Derbyshire Visitation were, Argent, a griffin segreant sable, armed gules. Crest: An arm in armour, holding a sword. Thomas Meverell, "Dominus de Throwleigh," sealed a deed, dated at Frodswall 17 Edw. III., with the same coat.

§ She married Thomas Cromwell, Lord Cromwell, afterwards created Earl of Ardglass. (Vis. Derb., ut supra.)

* William was son of Francis Mountfort, Esq., of Kingshurst and of Walsall. His wife was Anne, da. of Brian Fowler of St. Thomas. (Dugdale's 'Warwickshire,' and Vis. War., 1619.) A Francis Mountfort had two children bapt. at Walsall, viz., John, bapt. 5 April 1580 (bur. 9 Oct. 1581), and Elizabeth, bapt. 9 Feb. 1592. A Symond Mountfort (parentage not given) was also bapt. there 7 Sept. 1571.

† He was buried at Walsall 14 Dec. 1610.

‡ Simon, son of Sir Edward Mountfort, was bapt. at Walsall in April 1607. As no wife is here given to him he was doubtless the "Simon Mountfort, Esqr and bachelor," who was buried in the chancel of Aldridge Church 4 May 1664. But Shaw (ii., 81), under Bescot, asserts that he had a son Edward, "the last heir male," he supposes, "of this ancient family, who died in 1691, leaving a da. and heir Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Harris, gent., as appears by an indenture, 10 Oct.

1691, between them, on the one part, and Thomas Tyer, Esq., Humphrey Persehouse, gent., Moreton Slaney, gent., and Jonas Slaney, gent., of the other part, purporting to be a deed for the uses of a fine of this Bescot Hall estate. The above Thomas Harris dying possessed of this estate, his widow carried it in marriage to Mr. Jonas Slaney, as appears by an indenture, dated 20 Jan. 1717, between the said Mr. Jonas Slaney and Elizabeth his wife, widow and relict of the said Thomas Harris, deceased, and daughter and heir of Edward Mountfort, deceased, of the one part, and Thomas Pointz, gent., of the other part, purporting to be a deed for the uses of a fine of this estate, then about 507 acres." I am unable to clear up this matter, but it appears very probable that Edward succeeded to the estate on the death, s.p., of his brother Simon, and that the heiress Elizabeth was his daughter; but, if so, Edward must have married late in life, for he was bapt. at Walsall 15 April 1613.

* The following children of "Mr William Mountfort" were baptized at Walsall: Susanna, 25 Oct. 1614; Anne, 3 Jan. 1615; Anne (sic), 8 June 1617; Elizabeth, 24 Feb. 1618; Simon, 21 Feb. 1632; and Thomas, 18 Aug. 1642. The two latter were undoubtedly sons of William and Ellen Beswick; but the others, if children of the same William, must have been by a previous wife, perhaps the "Mris Margaret Mountfort" who was buried at Walsall 25 Feb. 1619.

† "Mrs Joane, wife of Mr Simon Mountfort," was buried at Walsall July 1665. Their children were: Simon, bapt. 26 Sept. 1658; Mary, bapt. July 1660; and Edward, bapt. July 1665. According to a note in the Harl. MS. 6104, Simon Mountfort was "slaine by Ferrars," but when and under what circumstances is not stated. Mr. Edward Mountfort (who would appear to have been the son so named of Simon and Joane) was married at Walsall 16 Jan. 1689-90 to "Mrs Elizabeth Grosvenor." He is described in the registers as "of Caldmore," and he had the following children baptized: Simon, on 10 Nov. 1690; Edward, on 14 Sept. 1693; Anne, on 24 Nov. 1695; Elizabeth, on 6 May 1698; Edward, on 6 April 1700; and Mary, on 1 Nov. 1701. The entries in the Walsall registers from this date are numerous, and it is pretty evident that the ancient family of Mountfort is not yet extinct.

* Humphrey Lowe, though here called of Halesowen, was a mercer at Lichfield, of which city he was bailiff in 1556, 1567, and 1573. He was the son of Thomas Lowe of Cakemore in Halesowen, and a member of a family long settled in that parish, of whom was Humphrey Lowe of Cakemore, who was admitted to the Inner Temple in 1619. (Vide pedigree in Harl. MS. 6128.) Isabel was sister to Michael Lowe who married Margaret Biddulph. (Vide ante, p. 41.)

† She has a monument in St. Helen's Church, Worcester, on which she is called "wife of John Cotton of the Inner Temple, Esq., lineally descended of the antient family of Cotton of Bellaport, and one of the daughters of Michael Noble of Litchfield in the county of Stafford, Esqr." She died 19 Nov. 1693, aged 72.

‡ She was da. of John Brandreth. (See that pedigree, ante, p. 52.) Seeing that John Noble himself certified the correctness of the pedigree, this is a strange blunder.

§ There was a Weston Noble at Walsall in the seventeenth century. Joan, da. of Weston and Elizabeth Noble was bapt. at Walsall March 1666; Mrs. Elizabeth, wife of Mr. Weston Noble, was buried there May 1668; Weston, son of Weston Noble, was bapt. 1673. ‡ "Margareta, uxor Walteri Nowell," was the second da. of John Dod of Cloverley, and sister of Richard Dod who died in 1610. (Pedigree of Dod in Howard's 'Misc. Gen. et Her.,' i., 170.) She must have died s.p., for, according to an old pedigree in the possession of C. P. Noel, Esq. (the present representative of the family), the wife of Walter Noel and the mother of his children was Elizabeth, da. of Humphrey (? John) Wyrley of Hampstead. At Chebsey is the following M.I.: "Here lyeth the body of Walter Noel of Hilcot, Esqr, in this parish, who was buryed the second day of July 1627; and also the body of Elizabeth his wife was buryed the 23 day of November 1677." By Elizabeth he was father (with a da. Godith, wife of William Hitchcock of co. Wilts) of Walter Noel of Hilcote, Esq., who, according to Mr. Noel's old pedigree, was thrice married—first in 1640 to Elizabeth, da. of Thomas Gaywood of Bishop's Offley, who died s.p.; secondly in 1680 to Joyce, da. of John Joy, citizen of London, by whom he had "one daughter;" and thirdly in 1686 to Hannah, da. of Simon Unwin of Clough House (see Unwin pedigree), by whom he had issue: (1) Elizabeth, bapt. 12 July 1687; (2) Hannah, bapt. 30 April 1689; (3) Frances, bapt. 25 Sept. 1690; (4) Walter, bapt. 20 Sept. 1692. A memorandum by William Booth in the Stukeley MS. (W. Salt Library) states that Walter Noel was born in 1622. If so, he was seventy years old when his son Walter was born; and it appears from a pedigree compiled by Lawrence Cromp, York Herald, penes C. P. Noel, Esq., that Hannah his last wife was aged 45 in 1704. Walter Noel, the only son by Hannah Unwin, married in 1729 Elizabeth, da. of Paul Foley of Prestwood ('Historical Register,' 1729), and by her was father of Walter Noel, Esq., who married at Belbroughton, 12 May 1764, Catherine, only da. and heiress of John Perrott, Esq., of Bell Hall, Belbroughton, Worcestershire, in whose right he became possessed of the mansion and estate of Bell Hall. Walter and Catherine Noel had issue a son John Perrott Noel of Bell Hall, whose son, the late Charles Noel of Bell Hall, High Sheriff of Worcestershire in 1853, was father of the present Charles Perrott Noel of Bell Hall, Esq. It is remarkable that the Noel family did not enter a pedigree at Dugdale's Visitation, especially as Sir William records in his Diary that he "went to Hilcote, Mr Noell's," on 8 April 1663.

* Sir Stephen Jennings, or Jenyns, Knt., was a Merchant-Taylor, and "sonne" (says Stowe, ed. 1633, p. 577) "to William Jenings of Wolverhampton in Staffordshire, where he builded a free school, which is still worthily maintained by the Company of Merchant-Taylors of London." He was Lord Mayor in 1508. His wife Margaret, née Kirton, was the widow of William Buck and mother by him of William Buck, Merchant-Taylor, and of Agnes, wife of Christopher Rawson. (See Crompton pedigree.) Shaw says (ii., 162) that John Nechells, husband of Sir Stephen's daughter Katherine, afterwards married Margaret, da. of William Offley. The will of Sir Stephen Jenyns, Kt., Citizen and Alderman of London, is dated 24 Jan. 1522 and was proved 28 May 1523. He mentions (inter alios) his son-in-law John Nechell, his "cosen Johane," daughter of the said John, and his wife Margaret, then dead. William Buck, Citizen of London, in his will, proved 13 Oct. 1514, mentions "Steven Jenyns and Dame Margaret his wife my mother."

† Sir Thomas Offley, Knt., Lord Mayor of London in 1556, was a Merchant-Taylor, and, according to Stowe, "sonne to William Offley of the city of Chester." William Offley, says Shaw (i., 124), was a mercer, twice bailiff of Stafford, and also Alderman of Chester. "He was a person uncommonly fortunate in his children, having seven sons all very prosperous, and five daughters all well married." A pedigree in the Harl. MS. 6128 makes Sir Thomas son of Richard Offley of Chester, by .... da. to .... Cradock, and gives him two sisters, Margaret, wife of Stephen Kirton of London, and Isabel, married to Nicholas Leveson of London. According to Shaw's pedigree of Leveson, Margaret, da. of a William Offley, was second wife of James Leveson, brother of Nicholas, and the wife of Nicholas was Dionysia, da. and h. of Sir Thomas Badeley, Knt., which is confirmed by the (augmented) Visitation of London in 1568 (Harl. Soc., p. 18), wherein the wife of Nicholas Leveson is called "Dennis, da. of .... Bodley." In the same volume, p. 64, is a pedigree of Offley, in which Sir Thomas is called son of .... Offley, by the da. of .... Cradoke, and is stated to have died "die Mercurij 29 Aug. 1582, inter horas 2 et 3 in matutino." The will of "Sir Thomas Offley, Knt., Citizen and Alderman of London," is dated 5 Aug. 1580 and was proved 24 Oct. 1582. He desires to be buried in St. Andrew's Undershaft, near the burial-place of David Woodruffe, Alderman, where Joane my late wife lies; but if he should die in Staffordshire he wishes to be buried in the church of Madeley. He states that he was born in Stafford, and gives £100 to the poor of that town, "to follow in its dispositions the directions left by my sister Margaret for her legacy to the poor of Stafford." He mentions Margaret Kirton "my late sister," John Offley "my brother, and my sister his wife," Robert Offley and his wife, Thomas Offley and his wife, Richard Offley and his wife, Hugh Offley and his wife, William Offley and his wife, Gyles Jacob and his wife, Robert Bowyer and his wife, his cousin Thomas Kirton and his wife, and his cousin Richard Whyte and his wife. One half of his goods to his son Henry Offley, and the other half to his executors for poor maids' marriages, for relieving and helping poor students at the Universities, and for other charitable purposes. He gives to John Offley, servant with David Rogers, grocer upon London Bridge, and to his heirs, certain houses in the city of Chester; to his brother John Offley and Alice his wife for their lives a farm called "Thomas Hill," now in the occupation of the said John Offley; and to Gabriel Harries, "now dwelling with me," and his heirs, a farm in Hatfield Peverel, co. Essex. "My very good friend the Right Hon. Sir Thomas Bromley, Knt., Lord High Chancellor of England, and my brothers Robert and Hugh Offley to be my three executors." His brothers John and Richard Offley and his servant John Weston to be overseers. Of Sir Thomas's brothers, William, a Merchant-Taylor, married Anne, da. of William Beswick, Alderman and Draper of London, and by her (who was married secondly to Sir Henry Bromley, Knt., of Holt, co. Worcester, son of the Lord Chancellor, and thirdly to Dr. John Thornborough, Bishop of Worcester) had issue fifteen children, of whom (says his M.I. at St. Laurence Jewry) only five survived their infancy, viz., William, Elizabeth, Margaret, Robert, and Mary. Richard, another brother, married Jane, da. of Sir William Chester, Knt.; and Robert, son and heir of Robert Offley, another brother, married Anne, da. of Sir Edward Osborne, Knt., Lord Mayor in 1583, and ancestor of the Dukes of Leeds. (See 'The Chesters of Chicheley,' by E. C. Waters; Stowe's 'London,' etc.) The will of Margaret Kirton, Sir Thomas's sister, "late wife of Stephen Kirton of London, Alderman," also gives some genealogical information about the Offleys. It is dated 28 Oct. 1571 and was proved 5 June 1573. She mentions her brother Sir Thomas Offley and "my lady his wife," and gives black gowns to "each of my brethren and their wives, to witt: Robert Offley and his wife, Thomas Offley and his wife, William Offley and his wife, Richard Offley and his wife, and Hugh Offley and his wife. Mentions Giles Jacobb and his wife, my cousin Henry Offley and his wife, my brother John, and Mary Offley da. to my brother John. Leaves money for charitable purposes to the town of Stafford at the discretion of her cousin Matthew Cradocke, or "for lack of him" to her cousin George Cradocke or her cousin William Cradocke. Executors, her son Thomas Kirton and her brother Robert Offley.

* John Offley married Anne, daughter and at length sole heiress of John Crewe of Crewe, Esq., and by her (who died 15 May 1711, aged 62) was father (with a daughter Mary, wife of Robert Lord Kilmorey) of two sons, (1) John, who took the name of Crewe in 1708, and was grandfather of John, created Lord Crewe in 1806; and (2) Crewe Offley, M.P., who succeeded to his mother's purchased manor of Wichnor, co. Stafford. Crewe Offley married Margaret, da. of Sir Thomas Lawrence of Chelsea, and died 28 Jan. 1739, leaving two sons, who both died unmarried, viz., John, died 3 April 1784, aged 66, and Lawrence, died 1749, aged 30. The manor of Wichnor and the hall (which was built by Crewe Offley) were purchased of John Offley in 1765 by John Levett of Lichfield. Harwood, in his notes to Erdeswick, says the purchase included "every article in the house and on the estate." (Cf. Nichols's 'Leicestershire,' iv., 303; Ormerod's 'Cheshire,' iii., 163; and Shaw, i., 124.)

† It appears from a list of the inhabitants of Lichfield, dated circa 1694, in the Harl. * Died about 1623. (M.I. at Longdon.) He had a brother Thomas Orme of West Bromwich, yeoman, living 1615; and there was a Philip Orme of West Bromwich in 1535. William Orme held lands in Rowley Regis under the Abbey of Halesowen in 1499. In 1569 William Orme, "late of Greet, co. Stafford, gent.," purchased a tenement in Dudley, the deed being attested (inter alios) by "Thomas Russell of Rowleye." In 1575 William Orme of Copyhall in West Bromwich parish, gent., acquired lands in the Foreign of Dudley. William Orme of Rowley Regis, gent., is party to a deed of 1605. William Orme was buried at Rowley 8 March 1616; and on 23 Nov. 1615 Thomas Russell, "coheir of William Orme," was also buried there. Richard Jevon of Sedgley Hall is described in 1618 as one of the seven coheirs of William Orme, gent. (Nash, 'Worcestershire,' ii., App. 36; Shaw, ii., App. 19; Mrs. Willett's 'Hist. of West Bromwich;' and Original Deeds, penes me.)

† William, son and heir of William Orme of Longdon, was admitted to the Inner Temple in 1633. It is stated on his monument in Longdon Church (see Shaw, i., 228) that he was "a great sufferer for Charles I., which reduced him and his family to a ruinous condition; he lived to see the happy restoration of his lawful sovereign, and died 14 Aug. 1665 in the 51st year of his age." Anne his widow died 13 April 1696. They had fourteen children, most of whom died s.p. Of those named in this pedigree, William was an officer in the service of France, and died s.p. near Strasburg, circa 1676; Robert also died s.p.; Dorothy, m. John Hyckley, Town Clerk of Leicester; and Anne, m. William Smith (of the family of Smith of Withcock, co. Leic.), and died in Aug. 1685 (M.I., ut supra). Burke ('Landed Gentry') asserts that there was another son James, from whom the Irish Ormes are descended, but no such son is named on the monument at Longdon.

‡ Thomas Orme died 22 May 1716, aged 78; he married Eleanor, da. and coheir of William Marshall, Citizen of London, and by her, who died 20 Jan. 1692, had issue an only child William, who died in his infancy (M.I.).

"The pedigree, armes, and crest of John Pershouse of Reynolds Hall, co. † This John was thrice married—first to Elizabeth Walker, the heiress of Reynolds Hall (see note to Persehouse of Sedgley); secondly to Alice Wimbish; and lastly, at Walsall in 1572, to Anne Perrott, da. of Ralph Rudyard of Rudyard, and widow of the William Perrott of Wollaston whose daughter was married to his son John. By Anne Perrott he appears to have had issue a daughter Anne, married to Thomas Walsted of Walsted in the parish of Wednesbury. (See Walsted pedigree in the Visitation of London, 1633-4, where Anne is called "da. of John Perhowse in co. Stafford.") Thomas and Anne Walsted had issue a son Francis, of the Middle Temple, who is named in the will (dated 1631) of Humphrey Perrott of Bell Hall, co. Worcester (son of the above William), as his nephew. By Alice Wimbish, John Persehouse had issue (besides John) a daughter Joan, wife of Richard Tudman, and an elder son Richard, who had the Hurst Hill estate. This Richard married (settlement dated 28 Eliz., 1586) Elizabeth Davyson, widow, but by her (who married secondly John Underhill) had no issue. He died in the lifetime of his father, and his brother John was his heir. These particulars I gather from a Chancery suit which took place in 42 Elizabeth (one of the defendants being Humphry Perrott), at which date Richard Persehouse had been dead "some years." (Proceedings in Chancery, temp. Eliz. L.l. iv., 59.)

† She was daughter of Edward Broughton, and was married secondly to Rev. Thomas Burdall (vide ante, p. 61). William and Ellen Persehouse had issue John, Richard, Thomas, and Mary. Thomas was of St. Margaret's, Westminster, Esq.; he died 31 Dec. 1719, in his 82nd year, and was buried in Westminster Abbey 7 Jan. 1719-20. His will is dated 19 Dec. 1719, and was proved 23 Jan. 1719-20 by his son Rev. Humphrey Persehouse and his grandson Lawrence Martell, son of his daughter Elizabeth. He married first (? Elizabeth), da. of . . . . Atkinson of Daventry; and secondly Mary, da. of William Style of Beckenham, Kent, Esq. By his first wife he had issue a daughter Elizabeth, wife of Peter Martell, merchant of London; and by his second a son, Rev. Humphrey Persehouse, M.A., a minor canon of Westminster Abbey, who died 26 Jan. 1762, aged 76, and was buried in the south cloister of Westminster Abbey 2 Feb. 1762. Humphrey Persehouse married Deborah, daughter of John Rawlins of Oxford, apothecary, and had issue two sons, Thomas Persehouse and Clare Persehouse (the latter bapt. at St. Margaret's, Westminster, 20 Jan. 1709-10), and a "disobedient daughter" who had twice married without his consent, to whom he leaves five shillings per week. Clare Persehouse died unmarried, and was buried in Westminster Abbey 23 Aug. 1779, aged 70. Administration to his estate was granted 1 Sept. 1779 to his uncle Anthony Rawlins as next of kin. (See Col. Chester's 'Westminster Abbey Registers,' and Harl. MS. 1077.)

‡ This Humphrey Persehouse purchased Lynne Hall in Shenstone parish, co. Stafford. His will, in which he is described as "of Walsall, gent.," is dated 2 Feb. 1697, and was proved in London 2 July 1698 by Jonas Slaney of Walsall, gent., the sole executor. He mentions several relatives—among others, his brother Richard, his nephew John, and Esther wife of the said John, his nieces Stone, Scott, etc. He gave his house and lands at Lynne to his servant Isabel Lydiatt, and desired that his niece Jane Clent should reside with the said Isabel. Sanders ('History of Shenstone,' p. 237) states that he left Lynne Hall to ". . . . Lydiatt, his mistress, and to his son by her for their lives."

John Pershouse of Pershouse Hall. = A

* The will of this John is dated 14 Sept. 1677 and was proved in London. Besides the issue here named, he had a son Richard Persehouse, who, by Susannah his wife, had issue John, bapt. at Walsall Aug. 1689; Ralph, bapt. March 1693; Anne, bapt. April 1696; and others. Of the daughters of John, Catherine was married to .... Stone, and Mary (in Feb. 1698) to William Scott, or Stott, of Woodend, Walsall.

† "John, son of John and Elizabeth Pershous," was bapt. at Walsall Oct. 1655. He married (licence dated 17 Aug. 1681) Hester, daughter of Sir Edward Littleton, Bart., by whom he had issue several sons and daughters; but the only son who left issue was William, bapt. at Walsall March 1691, who died (according to the 'Gentleman's Magazine') 16 March 1749, leaving by his first wife, the da. of .... Parker of Bloxwich (his second wife Elizabeth, da. of Rev. Robert Townshend, Rector of Hanbury, co. Worcester, died s.p.), a son Richard, and two daughters, one married to Rev. .... Burgess of co. Hereford, and the other, Dorothy, married 7 Nov. 1752 to John Douglas, D.D., Bishop of Salisbury, and died s.p. in the same year. The son Richard, of Reynolds Hall, was twice married, but died s.p. 16 Jan. 1772 ('Gent. Mag.') and left the estate to Mr. Walhouse of Hatherton.

2. Margaret, wife of John Derby.

3. Joane, wife to Rowland Harwich, Citizen of London.

4. Jane, wife of Robert King of Caresley in com. civitat. Coventriæ.

* Shaw (ii., 74), quoting Degge, states that the family of Persehouse acquired Reynolds Hall "in marriage with one of the daughters and coheirs of . . . . Walker of Reynolds Hall, who had married the daughter and heir of Reynolds." This is confirmed by some undated Chancery Depositions in the Public Record Office, from which it appears that John Persehouse had married Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Richard Walker of Reynolds Hall, who on the marriage had settled Reynolds Hall, and lands in Rowley, Tipton, Brewood, and Darlaston, upon himself for life, with remainder to John Persehouse and Elizabeth his wife, and the heirs between them lawfully begotten. Of this marriage there was issue an only child Isabel, who, it is stated, was born at Hurst Hill, the abode of John Persehouse's father, and died there at the age of seven, the mother having died five years previously. The defendant in the suit was one Pemberton, who had married a sister of Richard Walker, and it was apparently a suit in connection with a claim by Pemberton to the property on the death of Isabel Persehouse.

* The will of Edward Persehouse [he signed "Parkshouse" in 1652] of Nether Gornall, Sedgley, gent., is dated 27 Dec. 1682, and was proved in London on 30 Sept. 1685 by his only surviving son and sole executor Peter Persehouse, who at the date of the will was under 21. He mentions his daughters Dorothy, Margaret, Jane, Elizabeth, and Anne (the two latter unmarried and under age), his son-in-law Thomas Gibbons, and his brother-in-law Jonas Astley. The will is witnessed by Robert Kinge, Thos. Gibbons, Edward Persehouse, and Tho. Kinge. Mr. Persehouse was buried at Sedgley, where is the following inscription: "In memory of Edward Persehouse of Lower Gornall, gentleman, who lieth interred betwixt his two wives, Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Bradley of the Wood in this parish, gent., his first wife, and Margaret, daughter of John Asteley of Bushbury in this county, gent., his second wife. He entered into rest May 13 A.D. 1685, ætatis suæ 75." Another tablet in the same church bears the following inscription: "Here lie the bodies of Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Bradley of the Wood, gent., and of Elizabeth their daughter, wife of Edward Parkshouse of Nether Gornal, gent. The mother entered into rest the 12th day of December 1627, and the daughter the 23rd day of August 1650." Edward is referred to by Dud Dudley in his 'Metallum Martis' as "Richard Parkehouse's son, my nephew Edward Parkshouse;" and Lord Dudley, in a letter dated 1619, calls the father "Parkes." Of Edward's issue named in the pedigree, John married a lady whose christian name was Joan, but died s.p.; Edward, died young, and was buried at Sedgley 9 July 1665 as "Edward, son of Edward Persehouse, Esq.;" Dorothy was the wife of John Underhill; Margaret, mar. Thomas Gibbons, and was buried at Sedgley as "good old Margaret Gibbons of Ettingshall, widow, much lamented by all who knew her," on 27 Jan. 1732; Jane, mar. . . . . Ball; and Elizabeth, mar. . . . . Burches. There were two other children, born since the Visitation, viz., Anne, who was mar. first to the Rev. Michael Nickins, Incumbent of Tipton, and secondly to John Higginson of Stafford; and Peter, a barrister and Serjeant-at-Arms to the House of Lords. This Peter was admitted to a copyhold in Sedgley in 1685 as "son and heir of Edward Persehouse, deceased, and brother and heir-apparent of

* He was created a baronet 25 Nov. 1614. The title became (apparently) extinct on the death of Sir Thomas, the third baronet, in 1712, but about the year 1770 the Rev. John Pearsall (the descendant of a respectable yeoman family seated for several generations at Hawn in the parish of Halesowen, co. Worcester) changed his name to Peshall, and assumed the style and designation of "Sir John Peshall, Bart.," alleging his descent from one Humphrey Peshall, whom he affirmed to be the second son of the first baronet. † It is difficult to understand why Dugdale allowed this branch of the Port family to quarter the arms of Montgomery. It appears from the Visitation of 1583 (Giffard pedigree) that Sir John Port of Etwall married Elizabeth, da. of Sir Thomas Giffard of Chillington, and heiress of her mother (Sir Thomas's first wife), Dorothy, who was daughter and coheiress of Sir John Montgomery; by which marriage Sir John Port had three daughters only. According to a pedigree in the Harl. MS. 6128, the John Port of Ilam who heads this pedigree (and who married, it is there stated, Elizabeth, da. of George Meverell) was son of Richard Port; which Richard was son of Henry Port of the city of Chester, merchant, and brother of Henry Port of Chester. This last-named Henry was father, by Anne his wife, da. and coheir of Roger (? Thomas) Barrow of "Flowkersbrooke," co. Chester, of Sir John Port, Knt., Justice of Chester, whose son, by Jane his wife, da. and heir of John Fitzherbert of Etwall (and widow of John Pole of Radborne), was the Sir John Port who married Elizabeth Giffard. It may be added that John Port of Ilam was "disclaimed" in 1583, and that the pedigree is entered without arms in 1614.

* He was Sheriff of London in 1610. He was buried in the church of St. Laurence Jury, and, according to his M.I., died 19 Jan. 1619. His wife Margery, who was da. of Richard Floyer, died 28 Feb. 1624. The arms were exemplified to the Alderman by Camden, and "registered in the books of Certificates." (Vis. Essex, 1634.)

† Humphrey Robinson is stated, in Dugdale's Visitation of Yorkshire in 1665, to have died in Sept. 1626, and to have been son of John Robinson, Alderman of London, "descended from the family of Robinson, sometime of Drayton Bassett in co. Staff." In the Visitation of Yorkshire taken in 1612 John Robinson, the Alderman, is called son of Thomas Robinson of Darlaston, co. Stafford. He died Feb. 1599.

‡ John Pyott was of Low Leyton, Essex, and entered his descent at the Visitation of that county taken in 1634.

§ According to the pedigree of Pyott given by Shaw (ii., 364), Anne, wife of John Dalton, was da. of Alderman Pyott, and baptized at St. Werburgh's, Derby, 27 Feb. 1585, which is a blunder. It appears from a M.I. at St. Werburgh's that she was "interred 16 Oct. 1673," and that John Dalton, her husband, died 30 Aug. 1679, aged 69.

Rugeley of Shenstone.

[1614.]

The pedigree of this family entered in 1614 is an exact copy of that entered in 1583, continued as follows:—

Rowland Rugeley* of Shenston and of Smallwood, co. Staff. ═ Ellen, da. and sole heir of James Thirkeld of Smallwood. [Ped. of Thirkeld given as in 1583, and in Adderley ped., ante, p. 2.]

- Jane, marr. to Thomas Rowley of Heykley.
- Rebecca, mar. to Raufe Rugeley‡ of Dunton.
- William Rugeley§ of Shenston, living 1583. ═ Elizabeth, da. of John Knottesford of Malvern, Esq.
- Thomas, 2 son, marr. Jane, da. of . . . . Pegg of Tattenhall, co. Staff.

A	4. Henry Rugeley.	3. Anne.	6. Frances.

* His Inquisition post mortem was taken at Uttoxeter 5 Nov. 24 Eliz., 1582, when it was found that he died in January 23 Eliz., 1581, seised of the manor of Callingwood and of lands in Shenstone, and that William was his son and heir and aged 46. It appears from the same record that Ellen his wife, da. and h. of James Thirkeld, had died 4 Dec. 20 Eliz., 1577. (Cole's Eschaets, Harl. MS. 760, p. 470.)

† The third son was named George. (See Vis. of 1583.) George Rugeley, gent., was buried at Shenstone 29 April 1598.

‡ Ralph Rugeley of Dunton, co. War., was eldest son of John Rugeley of Dunton, by Joyce (mar. at Beoley 30 Nov. 1542), da. of Ralph Sheldon of Beoley, co. Worc. Ralph and Rebecca were the parents of Sir Rowland Rugeley of Dunton, who died in 1629. ('Mis. Gen. et Her.,' N.S., iii., 201.)

§ William Rugeley, Esq., was buried at Shenstone 14 June 1602. His wife Elizabeth was one of the five daughters and coheirs of John Knottesford of Great Malvern, co. Worc., and of Studley, co. War., Serjeant-at-Arms, who died 23 Nov. 1589.

‖ The will of a "Rowland Rugeley of Fowtherley, in the parish of Shenstone, in the county of Stafford," dated "the last day of June 1619," was proved at Lichfield 28 July 1619. The testator directs his body to be buried in the parish church of Shenstone, mentions his son Thomas Rugeley, his son-in-law Thomas Higson "and Elizabeth his wife my daughter," and his (testator's) sister Ellenor Hardinge. Appoints his wife Elizabeth sole executrix, and James Fletcher and Thomas Grendon overseers. Inventory made 1 July 1619 by William Prieste, James Fletcher, Thomas Grendon, and John Addams. It would appear from the will of Richard Rugeley (see p. 257) that Ellen his sister was unmarried in 1623. If therefore this testator was Rowland, brother of Richard, the sister Eleanor Hardinge was probably sister of his wife. Thomas, son of Rowland Rugeley, was bapt. at Shenstone 8 Jan. 1590, and Elizabeth, da. of the same, in April 1591.

* Richard Rugeley also possessed the Hawkesyard estate in right of his wife Mary, who was da. and coheir of Thomas Rugeley. Her sister Katherine married "meanly" (says Sanders, 'Hist. of Shenstone,' p. 37) "to John Aspinall, a tailor." Erdeswick calls him Francis Aspinall, which is no doubt correct; for it appears from Nichols's 'Leicestershire,' iv., 35, that the second wife of John Cotes of Callow Hill, who was aged 26 in 1619, was Elizabeth, da. of "Francis Aspinall by Katherine his wife, dau. and coheir of Thomas Rugeley." The will of Richard Rugeley of Hawkesyard, Esq., is dated 28 June 1623, and was proved in London by Mary, his relict and sole executrix, on the 18th of November following. He mentions his eldest son Symon, his second son Thomas, his third son Rowland, his fourth son Walter, and his fifth son Benjamin; his daughters Anne Weaver, "Feales" Price, Jane Littleton, Anna Smith, Margaret Price, Elizabeth Stone, Mary Rugeley, and Odilia Rugeley; his sisters Frances Hawkins, Jane Phillips, Penelope Walker, and Ellen Rugeley; his father William Rugeley, deceased; Thirkell Rugeley "my brother"; Richard Browne, "the son of my brother-in-law Anthony Browne"; and Thomas Aspinall "my kinsman." By a codicil, dated 4 July 1623, he gives divers lands in Shenstone to the poor of that parish. The following copy of his Funeral Certificate (which I transcribe from Harl. MS. 1077, fo. 32) is more complete than that printed by Shaw, i., 213*:—

The worshippfull Mr Richard Rougesley, of Shenston and Hawkesyard in the County of Stafford, Esqr, marr^d Mary d. and heire of Thomas Rougsley of Hawkesyard, of the same place (sic), by whom he had yssue lyving at the tyme of his death 5 sonnes and 9 daughters, vizt, Symon, sonne and heire, mar^d Jane da. of Hen. Staff.; Margrett, 6 daughter, mar. to John Price of Nanton in Co. Radnor; Mabill, 7 daughter, mar. to Thomas Colman of London; Mary and Odelia unmarryed.

The said Mr Richard Rougesley departed this mortall and transytory life on Satterdaye at night the 5th of July 1623, at his house at Hawkesyarde; whose funerall was worshipfully solemnized according to his degree on Tuesday the 23 of September following, at the parrish church called the Armitage in the said County, the cheife mourner being the sonne and heire Mr Symon Rougesley, his assistants Mr Thirkell Rougesley, brother to the defunct, and Mr Rowland Rougesley, his kinsman. The Penon of his Armes borne by Thomas Rougesley his 2 sonne, his Coate of Armes by Samuell Thompson, Wyndesor Heraulte, who marshalled the said funerall, and is Testified to be true by us whose names are heare under written, the 24 of Sept^r, an^o 1623.

* Joseph Sanders married secondly Mary, daughter of Samuel More, Esq., of Linley, co. Salop, and died 20 May 1691, in his 65th year. (M.I. at Tatenhill.)

† Copied from Dugdale's Visitation of Derbyshire, 1662, C. 34, in Coll. Arm.

‡ According to a pedigree recorded (by Joseph Sanders) in the Visitation of London, 1634, this Thomas Sanders (whose father Thomas, it is there stated, was seventh son of Richard Sanders of Charlwood) married "Alice, dau. of .... Toone," and by her was father of Calingwood, Henry, Peter, and Joseph. This is corroborated by the parish registers of Clifton Camville, which record the marriage on 6 Nov. 1575 of "Thomas Saunders of Lollington parish, gent., and Alice Toone of Clifton." Alice their daughter was bapt. there 9 Nov. 1576. (See Shaw, i., 399.) But it is stated by Mr. Glover ('Hist. of Derbyshire,' 8vo edit., ii., 81) that Peter Calingwood, who acquired the manor of Caldwell in 1565, "died 29 Eliz., 1587, and left his estate to his two nieces, daughters of his brother Ralph; Ellen the elder married John Stone, clerk, and Margery the younger Thomas Sanders of Little Ireton, Esqr." In Cole's Eschaets (Harl. MS. 758, p. 104) is an abstract of the post mortem inquest on Peter Calingwood, taken at Derby 1 Aug., 29 Eliz., from which it appears that he died 2 Sept. 28 Eliz., seised inter alia of the manor of Caldwell, and that the two daughters of his brother Ralph, viz., Helen, then aged 29, wife of John Stone, clerk, and Mary Calingwood, then aged 27, were his coheirs. It also appears that Peter Calingwood had a wife Alice, who was mother by a previous husband of "Thomas Saunders de Lullington." It would therefore appear that Peter Calingwood married the widow of Thomas Sanders, senr., and that Calingwood Sanders was the son of her son Thomas by Alice Toone. According to a pedigree given by Shaw, ii., 107*, Calingwood Sanders, in addition to the children above named, had an eighth son, Anthony, of Milwich, ancestor of Sanders of Shareshill and Sutton Coldfield.

* At Caldwell, co. Derby, is a M.I. to Major Henry Sanders of London, silkman, younger son of Mr. Thomas Sanders of Lullington, long Captain of Cripplegate Ward Company, who was born 1 May 1592, and died 3 Jan. 1666. He had issue, by Susanna his wife, da. of Christopher Alleston: Thomas, factor for the East India Company, who died at Bantam; Daniel, a silkman, who died at Stockerton; and others who died s.p. "He hath surviving: Henry, a silkman in London; George and Christopher in New England; and Susanna, m. to Mr Robert Mellor, secondly to Mr Simon Ash, thirdly to Thomas Woodcocke." (Glover, ii., 182.)

Those of Acquilate have become all very civill and honest, and are now, 1671, almost of as good an estate as those of Norbury, who (with the said James) have become all whore mongers as it is sayd."

25 Dec. 1694, Thomas Smith devised his estates to his brother Samuel. This is repeated by Mr. Ward in his 'History of Stoke-upon-Trent,' p. 543, where there is a tabular pedigree brought down to Charles John Smith, living 1841, son of John Smith of Elmhurst and Great Fenton, High Sheriff of Staffordshire, 57 Geo. III., and stated to be fifth in descent from the said Samuel. Both Burke and Ward assert that Edmond and John Smith were sons of the Bishop of Lincoln, but there is no connecting line in the Visitation of 1614 from him to them; and, as a matter of fact, the Bishop (being a Roman Catholic prelate) was never married.

* There is a handsome monument to Sir William Sneyde in Wolstanton Church, a woodcut of which is given in Ward's 'History of Stoke-upon-Trent,' p. 119. The

At the same church Samuel, son of Mr. Richard Terrick, merchant, was bapt. 10 March 1661-2; Sarah, da. of the same, 31 Dec. 1659; Anne, da. of the same, 9 Nov. 1663; and on 13 Nov. 1663 Samuel and Anne, children of Mr. Richard Terrick, were buried.

† She married secondly William Brereton of Swinnerton. See that pedigree, ante, p. 54.

‡ Married secondly to Thomas Lovatt of Clayton. (Harl. MS. 2156.)

A pedigree of this family was entered at the Visitation of London, 1633-4, by Samuel Terrick (husband of Eleanor Layton), who at that date was a merchant in London. There is also a pedigree of the family, certified by Henry Lilly, Rouge Rose Pursuivant, in the Harl. MS. 2156. It appears from these two pedigrees that John Terrick who heads the above pedigree was son of James Terrick of Clayton Griffith, by .... da. of .... Wood of Staffordshire, and grandson of Richard, also of Clayton Griffith, by Jane, da. of .... Leigh of the Hall of Leigh, which Richard was "descended out of Lincolnshire of the Tirwitts there." Katherine Tarbock's descent is also given in the Harl. MS. 2156. She was, it is stated, the daughter of John Smith alias Tarbock, by Eleanor, da. of .... Calveley of Cheshire, and the granddaughter of Edward Tarbock of Newcastle-under-Lyme, which Edward was "sonne of Sr William Tarbocke of Tarbocke, co. Lanc., by .... da. of .... Bould of Bould." I do not find this John Tarbock, son of Edward, named in any of the published Lancashire or Cheshire Visitations, nor is he mentioned in the pedigree of Smith alias Tarbock in the Staffordshire Visitation of 1583.

The singular bearings here marshalled upon an inescutcheon are "arms* of conquest." In the MSS. above referred to they are tricked quarterly 1 and 4 with Terrick, and above the trick is written as follows:—

"A shield of Armes after this forme was atchieved and taken from a Spanish Commander in bordinge a shipp in Cadiz voyage by John Terricke of Clayton Griffeth, gent., 1596, at w^h tyme the Earle of Essex was generall; and alowed to be borne by this family of Terrick as under."

The assertion that the Terricks derived from the Tyrwhitts of Lincolnshire must be taken cum grano. It is far more probable that the name is a corruption of Tellwright, i.e. Tile-wright, which, as Mr. Ward, in his 'History of Stoke-upon-Trent,' shews, is in the various forms of Tylret, Telryt, Tyright, and Terrick, a very old name in North Staffordshire. The claim was, however, admitted by the Heralds, since the family was allowed to bear the Tyrwhitt arms differenced by a bordure.

* "If a man being no gentleman of bloud or Coat-armor, or else being a gentleman of blood and Coat-armor, shall captivate or take prisoner in lawfull wars any gentleman, great Lord, or Prince, he may beare the shield of that prisoner, and enjoy it to him and his heires for ever." (Gwillim, 1611, p. 260.)

* Mr. Joseph Foster (who in his 'Pedigrees of Lancashire Families' gives a genealogy of the family of Thicknesse) states that this Ralph was married to Catherine Wolfreston at the age of 75, and by her had issue a son, Ralph, whose son, Ralph Thicknesse, was father of two sons, (1) Ralph, aged 28 in 1691, and (2) John, Rector of Farthinghoe in Northamptonshire. The former was ancestor of Ralph Anthony Thicknesse, M.P. (ob. 1854), whose daughter and heiress, Anne, was married to the Rev. Henry Coldwell, who in 1859 assumed the surname and arms of Thicknesse. The Rev. John Thicknesse, younger son of Ralph and Catherine, was father of Philip Thicknesse, who, by the Lady Elizabeth Touchet his wife, had issue a son, George, who succeeded his maternal uncle as Baron Audley.

† Bishop Thornborough died at Hartlebury Castle 3 July 1641. He has a "fair alabaster monument" in Worcester Cathedral, erected, says Dr. Thomas ('Survey of the Cathedral Church of Worcester,' pub. 1736), fourteen years before his death, on which are his arms, Ermine, fretty gules, a chief of the last. He had also a brother named Giles (see Vis. Worc., 1682-3), who was sub-dean and one of the canons of Sarum in the latter end of Queen Elizabeth, as also Rector of Orcheston St. George in Wilts, who died in 1637, leaving a relict behind him named Jane. He also had a nephew of the same name, Prebendary of Worcester in 1629, ob. 1663." Sir Thomas Thornborough, called in the above pedigree second son of the Bishop by the da. of .... Bayles, was of Elmley Lovett jure uxoris Ellen or Eleanor, da. and coheir of Sir John Acton, Knt. According to a monumental tablet in St. Andrew's Church, Worcester, erected in 1750, the Bishop had another son, the Rev. William Thornborough, Canon of Worcester, "son of the pious and learned Doctor Thornburgh, formerly a worthy Bishop of this Diocese," whose elder daughter Anne married James Nash, Attorney-at-Law, by whom she was mother of a daughter Elizabeth, who died in 1748, aged 69, wife of Francis Oldnall. One of the Bishop's wives was Anne Beswick. She has a M.I. at Holt, co. Worcester, in which she is called "the lady Anne Bromley, dau. of William Beswick, Alderman of London." "She was married, first to William Offley, merchant of the staple (vide ante, p. 225), secondly to Sir Henry Bromley of Holt Castle, Knt. [who died in 1615], and lastly to the Right Reverend Father in God John Thornbrough, Lord Bishop of Worcester; she lived 81 years and 9 months, and departed this life 1st January A.D. 1628." by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Sir William Bowyer of Knipersley, Knt., was father of an only daughter and heiress Elizabeth, born 1637, wife of Bryan Cockayne second Viscount Cullen. She died 30 Nov. 1713, and is described on her monument at Rushton, Northamptonshire, as heiress of "the rich Lordship of Rosceter" in Staffordshire. She was one of the ladies of the bedchamber to Queen Catherine, and her beauty was the theme of much admiration among the wits of the court of Charles II. (scil. B. 3 fleurs-de-lis or), and so use it in seals. Qu. therefore as to the coate here entred, whether the crescent in the middle be a distinction or part of the bearing? If part of the bearing then the crescent for distinction is omitted; and qu. the authority of the arms.—G. K., R. Dr., 20 Nov. 1685." In the Lans. MS. 857 it is stated that no fee was paid, no arms proved, "and therefore not entred." A pedigree of Unwin of Clough was entered at the Visitation of 1583 by Thomas Unwin, then of Clough, who derived his descent from John Unwin, a younger son of William Unwin of Chatterley; but the Simon Unwin, who was of the same place in 1663, belonged to a different family altogether. A "Founder's Kin" pedigree, certified in 1704 by Laurence Cromp, York Herald, in the possession of Charles Perrott Noel, Esq., of Bell Hall, Worcestershire, shews that Symon Unwin of Clough House was second son of Symon Unwin of Horton, co. Wilts, and Yavington, Hants, by Eleanor, sister of Sir Henry Blomer of Hatherope, grandson of John Unwin of the same places, by Jane, da. of George Hampton of Alcanings, Wilts, and great-grandson of John Unwin of Horton, by Jane, da. of . . . . It appears from that Visitation that Simon of Clough (husband of Barbara Davenport) "ob^t sine prole masc'," and that John his brother married Elizabeth, da. of . . . . Ferris of Horton, and died 2 July 1685, æt. circa 69, having had issue, John of Yavington, Esq., æt. circa 30 and "cœlebs" in 1686, who entered and signed the pedigree; and Charles, who had died in his infancy. Lyme, and was buried 8 Jan. 1698-9, having had issue a son Thomas Burslem, born 20 Feb. 1685-6. There appears to have been another daughter (of Daniel and Rebecca) Elizabeth, born probably since the date of the Visitation, who was married to Isaac Hawkins of Burton, Barrister-at-Law, and had issue a daughter, and at length sole heiress, married in 1705 to the Rev. William Browne, Prebendary of Lichfield. (See Erdeswick, 521, and 'Mis. Gen. et Her.,' N.S., iii., 44.) † "Over against Rudyard (writes Erdeswick) is Herracles, where one John Wedgwood, who advanced himself from a freeholder's son to the estate of a gentleman, hath now seated himself. But his son, seeking further to advance himself, enters into a course contentious, and, I doubt, will prove nothing commendable, if it be true what I hear." In Horton Church is a brass to the memory of this John and his wife, with the following inscription, which I copy from Mr. Sleigh's 'History of Leek' (2nd edit., p. 161):—"Hic jacent sepult. corpora Joh'is Wedgwood, de Haracles, armigeri, et Mariæ uxoris ejus, filiæ Thomæ Egerton de Walgrange, armigeri; qui obierunt, hic sexto die Aprilis A.D. 1589, illa quinto die Septembris A.D. 1582; sobolem post se reliquentes filios tres, filiasque quinque, quorum animas cum justis remanere speram'. Joh'es duxit Margaret Forde; Egerton cœlebs mor'; Rad'us duxit Aliciam Leighe; Maria nupta Ambro' Arden; Anna nupta Jacob' Gibson; Marg'a nupta Tho' Smith; Eliza' nupta Ric'o Foxe; Felix nupta Ric'o Hilders." The Visitation of 1663 is therefore in error in making a Margaret Bowyer mother of John Wedgwood's children. On reference to the Bowyer pedigree in the Visitation of 1583 it will be found that Anne, daughter of William Bowyer, married a John Wedgwood. She was I suppose John's first wife, but according to Mr. Sleigh she was his mother.

* The pedigree though entered in the Visitation Book of 1614 does not appear to have been recorded till 1619. St. George regarded John Wedgwood as "Ignobilis" in 1614, because the arms he bore "were given by Clarencieux," whereas his estate was in Norroy's province. * In the pedigree of Weston given by Harwood, in his edition of Erdeswick, James Weston's daughter Catherine is stated to have been married to "Robert Welles de Whorecross, Arm." But this is clearly a mistake; for James Weston of Lichfield in his will, dated 2 May 1589, mentions his son-in-law "Humfry Wells," and makes him one of his overseers.

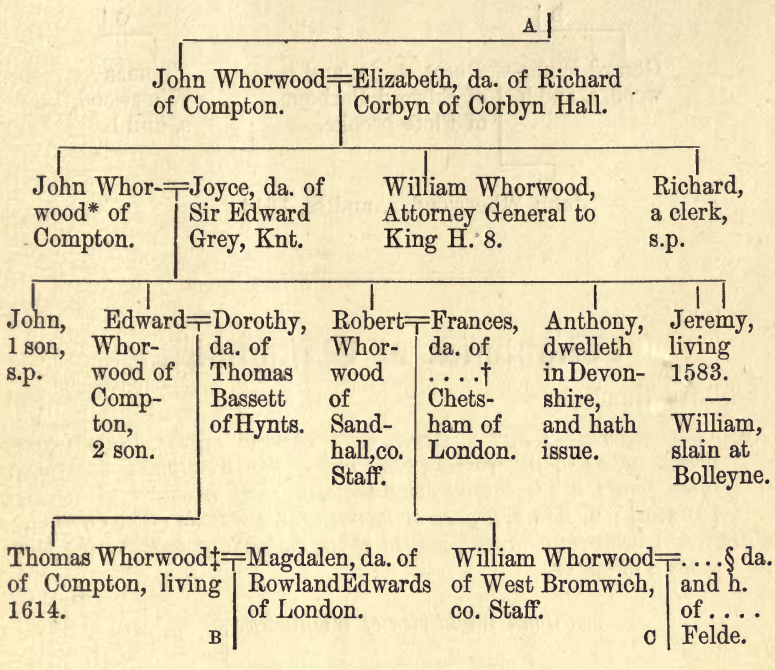
* This was the gentleman who "serenissimum regem Carolum Secundum, prælio Vigorniensi (anno 1651) devictum, sibique fugâ consulentem, in suis cedibus Mosleanis protexit." (M.I. in Bushbury Church.) A copy of his interesting narrative, from the original in his own handwriting, is printed in Burke's 'Commoners,' iv., 559. According to his tablet at Bushbury he died 14 July 1702, aged 84, which would make him about 45 years old in 1663.



* According to Cole's Eschaets (Harl. MS. 756, p. 427) the post mortem Inquisition of John Whorwood, Esq., was taken at Pattingham on 30 Sept. 19 H. 8, 1527, when it was found that he died 4 April last, leaving a wife Joyce, a daughter Agnes, and a son and heir John then aged 11 years. He died seised (inter alia) of the manor of La Horewood in Compton, and lands in Sedgley and Kinver. According to the Visitation of 1583 John, son and heir of John and Joyce, "dyed before his father, s.p."

† Shaw (ii., 129) calls her da. of "Sir Walter Che*l*sham," but the Visitation of 1583 has "William Chelsham."

‡ Thomas and Magdalen Whorwood had also a da. Elizabeth (see Visit. of 1583), who was married to John Sutton alias Dudley, younger son of Edward, Lord Dudley. In the year 1647 this Elizabeth filed a bill in Chancery in which she states herself to be the widow of John Dudley, Esq., and only daughter of Sir Thomas Whorwood, deceased. She had married without the consent of her father and had no jointure. Had by the said Dudley "one son and four daughters." Anne, one of these daughters, married Edward Gibson, third son of Sir John Gibson, Knt., of Welburn, co. York, and had issue a son Edward Gibson, who in 1660 claimed, as heir, the castle and lands of Dudley. It appears from his petition to the House of Lords that John and Elizabeth Dudley had issue (besides Anne) a son Edward and a daughter Elizabeth, both of whom in 1660 were dead and s.p.

§ According to the Visitation of 1583 she was Anne, da. of John Field, but her M.I. in West Bromwich Church, as given by Shaw, calls her da. and heir of Henry Field of Kingsnorton, co. Worc. Nash, in his 'History of Worcestershire,' under "Ripple" (ii., 298), states that Holdfast in that parish was sold to Henry Field of Wederoke (Weatheroak) Hill, Kingsnorton, "whose niece and heir marrying Sir William Whorwood it came into his possession."

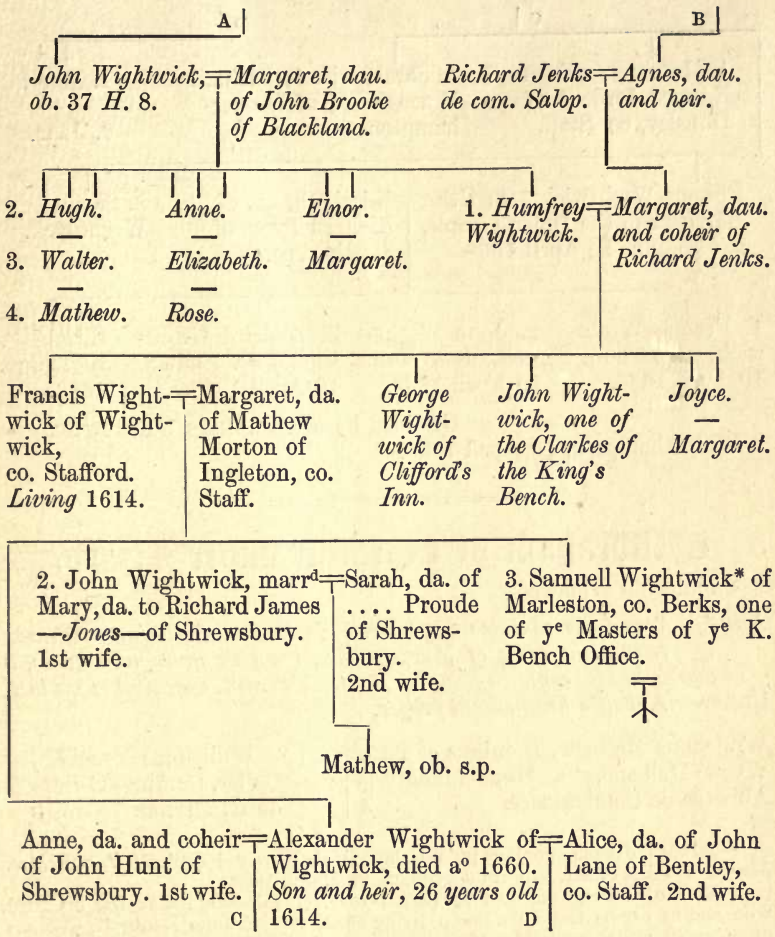
* Afterwards Sir Thomas, of Sandwell, and of Holton, Oxon, in right of Ursula his wife, da. and heir of George Brome of Holton, Esq. Sir Thomas died 22 Sept. 1634, and has a M.I. in Holton Church. His funeral certificate is printed in Howard's 'Miscellanea,' N.S., iv., 38. His son and heir Brome Whorwood, Esq., was buried at Holton 24 April 1684, aged 69; he married Jane, da. and coheir of .... Ryder of Kingston-on-Thames (Fun. Cert.), and had issue (says Mr. Booth in his additions to the Stukeley MS. in the W. Salt Library) "a son drowned by the Ile of Wight 1657, ætat. 20, a very handsome man," and another (son or daughter) "a crookt deformed person." Brome, son of Brome Whorwood, was bapt. at Holton 29 Oct. 1635, and buried there 19 Sept. 1657. (See Vis. Ox., Harl. Soc. edit., p. 242.)

† The pedigree given by Shaw (ii., 201) makes this John son of a William and Elizabeth, and grandson of John and Alice, who was son of John and Agnes.



* Samuel Wightwick of Clifford's Inn, son of Francis Wightwick, was admitted a student of the Inner Temple in 1629. It appears from a pedigree recorded at Ashmole's Visitation of Berkshire in 1664 that Samuel Wightwick married Abigail, da. of .... Wright of co. Essex, and died in 1662, having had the following issue: (1) John Wightwick of Mareston, æt. 34 ann. 23 March 1664, who mar. Jane, da. and coheir of Edward Prichard; (2) Francis, mar. Thomasine, da. of .... Denys; (3) Humphrey, mar. Letitia, da. of ....; and a da. Abigail, wife of Henry Williams of Gwernevit, co. Brecon. In the Harl. MS. 1439 there are additions made to the Visitation pedigree of 1614, and there the wife of Francis Wightwick is called da. and coheir of .... Dennis of Weymouth, and four other children of Samuel are given, viz., Peter, Samuel, George, and Mary. It appears from the (printed) list of admissions to the Inner Temple that Samuel, son and heir of Samuel Wightwick, "a member of this Inn," was admitted in 1644; Peter, son and heir (sic—Samuel must therefore have died s.p.) of the said Samuel, in 1649; Francis, "youngest son," in 1652, called to the Bar in 1659; and George, third son, in 1654.

* Edward Jorden, gentleman, was buried at Kinver 4 Sept. 1667, and Mrs. Margaret, relict of Mr. Edward Jorden, on 24 March 1680.

† Richard Bracegirdle died 29 March 1667. Sarah Wightwick was his third wife, and by her he had a da. Sarah, living 1682, wife of John Bearcroft, who was of Shernock Court, co. Worc., and æt. circa 33 at the Visitation of Worcestershire in 1682.

‡ Francis, son and heir of Alexander Wightwick, was admitted to the Inner Temple 1634, and called to the Bar in 1646. His father Alexander was also of the Inner Temple, having been admitted a student in 1609.

§ According to Shaw's pedigree Richard Wightwick married Martha, da. of Thomas Willett of Fulham, Middlesex, and had issue Thomas, Francis, and Martha. In Burke's 'Commoners,' iv., 372, under "Wightwick of Bloxwich," a third son William, stated to have been born in 1647 (!), is added. This William, we are informed, was of Albrighton, and was ancestor of Stubbs Wightwick then (1838) of Bloxwich. Richard Wightwick is also stated to have succeeded his father, although he was third son, and both his elder brothers were married and had issue. (For their marriages and issue see the pedigree in Shaw, ii., 201, and App., p. 4.) Thomas, the eldest son of Richard and Martha, was made York Herald in 1717; and Noble ('Hist. of the Coll. of Arms,' p. 359) informs us that he died in 1722, leaving an only sister and heiress Martha, wife of Charles White of Mapes, co. Middlesex, Esq.

Wilkes of Willenhall.

Seisdon Hundred.

ARMS.—Paly of eight . . . . and . . . . on a chief . . . . three lozenges . . . .

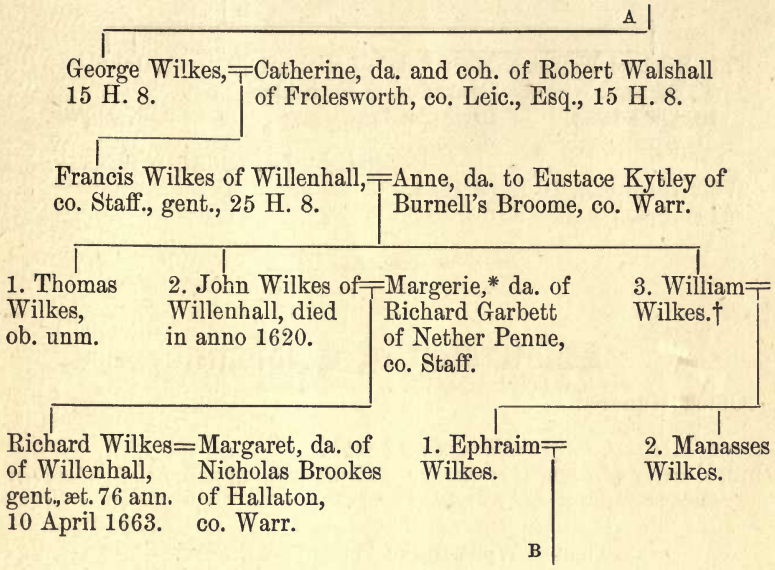
This Cote is proved from an ancient Seale.‡

William Wilkes of Willenhall, co. Staff., Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas 15 H. 8. = A

* See 'Staff. Coll.,' i., 375 et seq. The three daughters and coheirs of Sir Thomas Wilbraham married, respectively, Sir Thomas Myddleton of Chirk Castle, Lionel Tollemache, Earl of Dysart, and Richard Neuport, Earl of Bradford. There was a fourth daughter, Cecilia, born 1667, who died young.

† Mutton Davies was the son of Robert Davies of Gwynsany in Flintshire, by Anne his wife, daughter and coheir of Sir Peter Mutton, Chief Justice of North Wales. He was admitted to the Inner Temple in 1652, and died in 1684, aged 53.

‡ On the mural monument of Dr. Wilkes in Willenhall Church the arms are, Paly of eight or and gules, on a chief argent three lozenges of the second. According to Harl. MS. 6104 the coat was altered by Sir Edward Walker, Garter, who substituted "for ye 3 lozenges 3 roses gules." The same coat (sometimes with roses and sometimes with lozenges) was borne by a family of Wilkes of Leighton Buzzard, Beds; but that family also bore a totally different coat, which is ascribed to them in the Visitation of Bedfordshire, 1634 (Harl. Society's edit., p. 150), viz., Per pale or and argent, a chevron between three eagle's (? raven's) heads erased sable.



Crest: On a mount vert, a crossbow erect or; with the motto "Arcui meo non confido." These last-named arms and crest (the field of the arms being or) are tricked in the Harl. MS. 1570 as appertaining to "Wilks of Wolverhampton," but no genealogical particulars are given; and they were borne in the last century by the celebrated John Wilkes, who is said to have been descended from a family resident at Aldersley or Autherley in Tettenhall. Shaw, ii., 201, states that the house and part of the estate belonging to the upper farm at Autherley "were formerly the residence and lands of the Wilkes family (said to have been ancestors of the celebrated patriot of that name), where they lived for many generations on a decent competence in quiet." John Wilkes was born in London 17 Oct. 1727, and died 26 Dec. 1797, aged 70, and we learn from the 'Gentleman's Magazine' for Jan. 1798, p. 81, that the arms, crest, and motto as above described were engraved on his coffin-plate. A curious work, published in 1800, entitled 'City Biography,' containing memoirs and anecdotes of the Aldermen and other conspicuous City men, states that John Wilkes "was son of Mr. Israel Wilkes, a distiller, who was the son of another Israel Wilkes, who was the son of a third Israel Wilkes. The great-grandfather, grandfather, and son (sic) were all alive at the same time, and all flourishing tradesmen." At Ribbesford (Bewdley), Worcestershire, on 23 Aug. 1688 Israell Wilkes and Sarah Palmer were married. The Rev. J. R. Burton, in his 'History of Bewdley' (pub. 1883), p. 13, states that this Israel was "grandfather of the notorious John Wilkes." Sarah Palmer (he adds) was the daughter of Walter Palmer, an eminent capper; and another daughter of the same Walter Palmer married Dr. James Douglas, physician to Queen Caroline. In the 'Gentleman's Magazine' for 1752, p. 384, is recorded on 10 August the marriage of "Israel Wilkes, jun^r, Esq., to the daughter of Josias de Ponthieu, merchant." Heaton, or Eaton, Wilkes, brother of the "patriot," had a son of the same name, who died "suddenly" in 1808 ('Gent. Mag.,' 1808, p. 755), and a daughter Anne, married to John Hickman Barrett of Oaken, co. Stafford, grandson of John Barrett (b. 1685) by Anne, da. of .... Hickman of Oaken.

* She was widow of John Persehouse of Sedgley. Vide ante, p. 238.

† According to the pedigree given by Shaw, ii., 149, this William Wilkes had issue, by Rose his wife, a son "John, Rector of Lunn," who was father of Ephraim and Manasses.

William‡ Wollaston of Perton.

B

* Should be Mercy. Richard and Mercy were the grandparents of Dr. Richard Wilkes, the Staffordshire collector, who died s.p. 6 March 1760, aged 70. (Shaw, ii., 147.)

† In the Visitation Book, C. 36, Coll. Arm., Thomas Wollaston of Walsall and William Wollaston of Perton had been originally linked as brothers, both being made sons of William of Trescote; but the pedigree has been subsequently altered as above, with a reference to "Orig. Vis."

‡ For William read Henry. Mr. E. Chester-Waters, who has carefully investigated the genealogy of the Wollaston family, in 'The Chesters of Chicheley,' shews clearly that Richard, Henry, and Edward were sons of Henry Wollaston of Perton, and not of William. William Wollaston really existed, but he was the elder brother of Henry, and lived at Trescote Grange. According to Shaw (who cites the Burton MSS.) and Mr. Chester-Waters he died 7 Jan. 1603-4, 1 Jas. I., but Cole (Eschaets, Harl. MS. 410, p. 66) states that his post mortem Inq. was taken at Stafford on 17 April 37 Eliz., when it was found that he died 7 Jan. 1595, 37 Eliz., and that Hugh his son and heir was aged 50. He had issue, by Jane his wife, da. of . . . . Jorden of Dunsley (who was buried at Penn, 5 May 1591), several children, of whom, Elizabeth married her cousin Edward Wollaston of Perton, and Alice was the wife of Henry Wollaston of London, woollen draper, also her cousin, brother of Edward. This last-named Henry Wollaston Mr. Waters regards as the real founder of the wealth and consequence of the Wollastons. He was ancestor of the Wollastons of Shenton and Waltham Abbey, and he acquired considerable property in his native county of Stafford. On 10 July 1616 he obtained from Camden, Clarenceux, by the name of "Henry Wollaston, Citizen of London, second son of Henry Wollaston of Perton, co. Stafford" (see Nichols's 'Leicestershire,' iv., 541), a confirmation of his paternal arms and a grant of the demi-griffin crest. There is no doubt that this so-called "confirmation" was really a grant, for, as Mr. Waters justly observes (p. 561), it was a common practice for the Heralds in those days to disguise new grants of arms by calling them "confirmations." Besides Henry and Sir John (who was Lord Mayor of London in 1644, and died s.p. in 1658), Edward and Elizabeth Wollaston had an eldest son William, who, says Mr. Waters, "was, like his father and grandfather, a yeoman at Perton, where he inherited the farm which had been the birthplace of four generations of the Wollastons. His two younger brothers were apprenticed in London, where his brother John rose to wealth and eminence; but William did not live to witness his success, for he was buried at Tettenhall 5 April 1629." He married at Codsall 19 Feb. 1609-10 Eleanor Greene, and left four daughters, Elizabeth, Sarah, Mary, and Judith.

* Sir Hugh Wrottesley had a previous wife Mabel, da. and coheir of Sir Philip ap Rees, who, according to several pedigrees, was mother of John his successor; but the Visitation is correct in making John the son of Isabel Arderne. The Harl. MS. 6128 (fo. 46) gives a document, dated at Hereford Easter 48 E. 3 (1374), in which it is stated that Hugh de Wrottesley, Knt., "qui Mabillam unam filiarum et hæredum Philip' ap Rees, Ch'r, duxit in uxorem, tenet de jure dict' Mabillæ medietatem villæ et dom' de Talgarthe Engleys; et Adam de Peshall et Eliz' uxor ejus, altera filiar' et heredum dicti Philippi ap Rees et Johannæ uxoris suæ revenerunt alteram medietatem." Below this is tricked a shield, headed "Phill. ap Rees," of the following arms: Gules, a chevron azure between three garbs or, which is really the coat of Baron of Reading. (See notes to Vis. 1583, 'Staff. Coll.,' iii., pt. 2, p. 152.)

† Isabel was sister of Sir Thomas Arderne, who mar. the heiress of Stafford of Pipe (see ante, p. 55). Sir Thomas was, however, born before marriage. (See Earwaker's 'East Cheshire,' i., p. 322.) A writ, dated 16 March 2 H. 4, orders Richard de Mauley, the eschaetor of Cheshire, to return what lands and tenements Isabella who had been the wife of Hugh de Wrottesley, Knt., deceased, held in his bailiwick on the day she died, and, if she had an heir, whether the heir was married or not. The return to this writ is dated 22 March 1401, and, after giving an account of lands held in Budworth, in le Fryth, in Tyresford, and in Kelsall, by the said Isabella, states that she died on the Monday after the feast of St. Michael the Archangel 5 R. 2 (30 Sept. 1381), and that John the son of the said Hugh and Isabella is the heir of the said Isabella and was 21 years of age on Michaelmas day last past, and that the said John had been married by the Abbot of Evesham to one Elizabeth the daughter of Robert de Standysshe, chivaler, on the Monday after the close of Easter 8 R. 2, inasmuch as the said Hugh the father of John held the manor of Wrotteslegh of the said Abbot by knight's service on the day he died. John de Wrottesley was therefore married when only six years old. Robert de Standish was son of John de Standish, and one of the esquires to the king. The Chronicles mention him as having despatched Wat Tyler, after Walworth, the Lord Mayor, had given the first blow. (Ex inf. Gen. Hon. G. Wrottesley.)

‡ The Inquisition on the death of John de Wrottesley was taken at Kelsall on 26 Oct. 1402, and states that he died on the vigil of the nativity of the Virgin last past (10 Sept. 1402), and that Hugh the son of the said John is his nearest heir and was two years of age on the feast of the exaltation of the Holy Cross in the said year (14 Sept. 1402). The wardship of the said Hugh was granted in the following year to Robert de Standish. (Ib.)

‡ Richard Whethill, or Whithull, of Shepey, died, according to Nichols ('Leicestershire,' iv., 932), 18 March 1639, "having lived 61 years in wedlock." Nichols calls his wife "Joan, d. of . . . . Wriothesley of Staffordshire," and adds that she died 10 Oct. 1640. The Visitation of Leicestershire, 1619, also calls her "Wriothesley," but does not give her baptismal name.

* Shaw, ii., 110, quotes the following from "W. Booth's MS.":—"The Wyrleys have not kept constant to any one coat of arms, for some of them have borne Argent, three horns sable, tipped and chained or. I think in this coat should be a chevron engrailed sable, for so it is in Handsworth Church. Another hath borne Sable, two lions passant crowned or, and holding in each fore-paw a fleur-de-lis. This was given them by a friend of theirs, in whose memory they bear it. Another hath borne Argent, a chevron gules between three lions rampant vert. These three coats they have severally borne as their paternal coat. They quarter Argent, a bend between a rose and a flower-de-liz, gules (ALDERSEY) ; and Sable, a fesse between three swans [sheldrakes] argent (SHELDON). And I have a deed made by Roger Wyrley concerning land in Witton, dated 36 Edw. III., and this seal to it, six fleurs-de-lis, and the crest a wing which these Wyrleys now use ; and because in Handsworth I have seen this coat in the windows, Gules, six fleurs-de-lis argent, 2, 2, and 2, I think this may be the ancient coat of Wyrley." The "friend" in whose memory the Wyrleys bore the two passant lions was Thomas, son of Sir John de Heronvile, Knt., who, by deed dated at West Bromwich 31 (or 41) Edw. III., grants to Roger de Wyrley a coat of arms which he had by descent after the death of his brother John, viz., Sable, two lions passant argent, crowned or, with a fleur-de-lis azure in their paws. * It will be seen from the list of those summoned in 1614 that Thomas Young of Charnes was "Ignobilis;" and in 1583 John Young of Charnes was disclaimed. They appear, however, to have borne for arms, Azure, a buck's head cabossed or, a chief sable; which is given as their coat in Plot's map. A similar coat, but in different tinctures, was quartered by Broughton. Vide ante, p. 58, note *.

† There is a pedigree of Young in the London Visitation of 1568 (Harl. Society's edition, p. 70), from which it appears that James and Anne Young had issue two other sons and three daughters, viz., (2) Richard Young of London, "Packer to the Strangers," who married Joan, da. of . . . . ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

Page 12. The Funeral Certificate of Edward Revell "of Carnethwaite, alias Carlingthwaite, in the parish of Normanton and county of Derby, Esq.," is printed in 'The Genealogist,' N.S., ii., 86. He married, it is stated, Dorothy, da. of Roger Columble of Darley, and widow of Henry Chaworth of Annesley, Notts, and had issue (with a son Francis) a daughter Mary, "married to Randall Ashenhurst of Ashenhurst in the county of Staff., Esq." It would seem therefore that Mary was his legitimate daughter by Dorothy his wife. Mr. Revell died 5 July 1639, and the certificate is signed by Francis Revell "only sonne and heire to the defunct."

Page 15. Note *, for Thomas Ashmole read Symon Ashmole.

Page 18. Note *, for Ottley read Offley.

Page 32. The father of Richard Barnfield of Wolverhampton, and of Robert and Thomas, was Robert Barnfield of Newport, Salop, and their mother was Ellen, da. of Thurstan Woodcock. See a pedigree of the family in Harl. MS. 1396, fo. 23.

Page 43. In that curious work, Gough's 'History of Myddle,' co. Salop, written in 1700-1, we read that "Mr. Zankey," Rector of Hodnet, "left two sons Robert and Jerome. Robert, the eldest son, was clerk to Mr. John Birch of Cank, who in his time was accounted the ablest Attorney-at-Law in England. He married Mr. Birch's daughter, a proud, passionate dame as ever lived. He went for a soldier in the Parliament Army in the beginning of the wars in the reign of King Charles I., and was made a Colonel, and his brother Jerome was a Captain under him; but he died in the beginning of the wars, and his brother Jerome was made a Colonel in his stead." An account of the family of Sankey (now of Coolmore, co. Tipperary) will be found in Burke's 'Landed Gentry.' It appears that Col. Jerome (or Hierome) Sankey died s.p., and was succeeded by the son of his brother Robert, viz., Richard Sankey, who was a Colonel in the army of King William III. Edward Birch, or Byrch, of Leacroft, was afterwards a Serjeant-at-Law. His representative in the last century was Dr. William Byrch of Leacroft, Chancellor of the Diocese of Worcester. Dr. Byrch married Elizabeth, da. and eventually coheiress of Thomas Savage of Elmley Castle, Worcestershire, and by her (who was born in March 1701) had issue an only son, Thomas, and two daughters, Elizabeth and Jane. The son Thomas Byrch succeeded to the Elmley estate, and thereupon assumed the additional surname and arms of Savage, but dying s.p. in 1776, his two sisters became his coheirs. Of these, Elizabeth married John Perrott (brother of George Perrott of Pershore, co. Worcester, a Baron of the Exchequer), and died 16 Dec. 1786, aged 60, leaving issue; and Jane became the wife of Robert Clavering, Esq., whose son, Robert Clavering, also assumed the surname of Savage on succeeding to the Elmley estate.

Page 46. The wife of Richard Bowes, living 1614, was Margaret, da. and h. of Henry Kebell of Humberstone, co. Leicester. John Cookes, husband of Jane Bowes, was of Harbury, co. Warwick; and it appears from the Cookes pedigree in the Visitation of Warwickshire, taken in 1682, that he died 4 May 1665, æt. circa 60.

Page 47. Note *, for "son and heir of George Bowes" read John Bowes.

Page 73. Note *. The Visitation pedigree is correct in calling the wife of Robert Chadwick Alice, but she was sister and not daughter of Alexander Butterworth. See the Butterworth pedigree in St. George's Visitation of Lancashire, 1613, which is corroborated by an agreement dated 22 Oct. 1581 (quoted by Mr. Joseph Foster in his 'Pedigrees of the County Families of Lancashire,' sub "Chadwick") whereby John Chadwick of Healey, gent., covenants with Alexander Butterworth, son and heir of Edward Butterworth, late of Belfield, gent., that Robert, son and heir-apparent of the said John Chadwick, shall, before the Feast of St. Michael, espouse Alicia Butterworth, sister of the said Alexander.

Page 77. Joan, the wife of Richard Peshall, was clearly the da. and h. of another Reginald Chetwynd, viz., Reginald, son of John, son of Adam Chetwynd of Cublesdon. The post mortem Inquisition on Sir John de Chetwynd was taken in 9 E. I., 1280, when it was found that Reginald was his son and next heir and then aged 16. Being under age, Adam de Chetwynd of Cublesdon purchased his wardship. (Rot. Fin. 9 E. I.) Reginald was Lord of Chetwynd and Weston juxta Standon in 1284, and Rector of Chetwynd in 1318. Being a priest, he settled Chetwynd and Weston on John, son of Adam (Fines 12 E. II.), and by a later concord, on John for life, with remainder to Richard, son of Adam de Peshall and Joan his wife, "fil' Reginaldi fil' p'dic'i Joh'is de Chetwynd" (Fines 17 E. III.), by which these estates went to the Peshalls. (Ex inf. H. Chetwynd-Stapylton, Esq.)

Page 85, line 15. That Sir Philip Chetwynd died without issue is proved by the inquest taken on his death in 24 H. VI., when the jury found that John Chetwynd of Alspath was his next heir and then aged 50. (Ib.)

Page 104. Robert Crompton, son of Thomas, was of Elstow, co. Beds, in 1669, and bore the arms of Crompton, quartering, (1) Argent, a chevron ermines between three crosses formée fitchée sable, stated to be for BOUGHTON; (2) Gules, three falchions barwise argent, pomelled or, for HUDSON; and (3) LOVETT (not described). See the 'Visitations of Bedfordshire,' pub. by the Harleian Society, p. 210.

Page 124. Note †. It appears from Cole's Eschaets (Harl. MS. 760, p. 362) that there was an inquest taken at Warwick, 3 Oct. 1 James (1603), after the death of Sampson Erdeswick, Esq., when it was found that he died on 28 June last (1603) and that Richard was his son and heir and aged 9 on 26 April last. Also that he had daughters, of whom Margaret was the wife of Henry Francis, and Helen of Thomas Coyney, gent. This inquest had reference to lands in Church Over, co. Warwick. Harwood states that Erdeswick died 11 April 1603, which is manifestly incorrect. The warrant of the Court of Wards referred to in this note runs thus: "Forasmuch as the office found after the death of Sampson Erdeswick, Esq., deceased the 28th day of June in the first yeare of the reigne of our late Sovereign Lord Kinge James," etc. The date is no doubt that of the death of Erdeswick and not of his Inquisition.

Page 125. Note *, line 17. The marriage of Henry Bowdon to Mary Erdeswick is not recorded in the parish registers of Wolverhampton. The parties, it is believed, were Roman Catholics.

Page 148. Note *, line 5, for four read three daughters. There is no doubt that they were daughters of Henry White, who died in 1572, and granddaughters of Sir Thomas White of Swanborne, or Southwanborne, Hants, Master of Requests to Queen Mary. See a pedigree of the White family in Berry's 'Hampshire Pedigrees,' p. 243.

Page 175. Edward Hill of Rushall, gent., was Plaintiff in the Exchequer suit referred to in footnote to p. 163. It appears from the proceedings that his wife Joan was the da. of Joan Worsey, widow, and sister of John Worsey of Rushall.

Page 178. Hoo. In the parish registers of Wolverhampton (which commence 25 March 1603) are several entries relating to this family. Among the burials are William Hoo of Bradley, gent., on 21 May 1604; Mr. Anthony Hoo of Bradley, on 23 Sept. 1614; and Mr. Humfrey Hoo, on 18 July 1616. Of Anthony Hoo's issue I find: John, bapt. 17 Jan. 1603-4; Elizabeth, bapt. 30 April 1606, and buried as da. of "Mrs Margaret Hoo" on 10 Jan. 1619-20; Anthony, bapt. 17 May 1607, bur. 2 June 1621; Margaret, bapt. 13 May 1610; William, bapt. 25 May 1612; and Joseph, bapt. 29 May 1615. The last was probably a posthumous son, and was no doubt the "Joseph Hoo of Bradley" who was buried 4 Nov. 1635. Michael, son of Mr. John Hoo, was bapt. 8 April 1626. He may have been a son of John (son of Anthony) by a first wife, for John was not married to Jane Coton till 1656, when he was upwards of 50. His marriage is thus noted in the registers: "The purpose of marriage between John Hoo of Bradely, in the parish of Wolverhampton, gentleman, and Mrs. Jane Coton, the dau. of Thomas Coton, gentleman, of Woodford, in the parish of Woodford, was published three severall Lord's Dayes in the parish church of Wolverhampton (Nov. 9, 16, and 23, 1656), and they were afterwards married at Walsall, Decemb. 23, 1656, before Henry Stone, Esquire. HEN. STONE." John, their son, was bapt. 17 Dec. 1657. (For these extracts I am indebted to Col. Fletcher of Lawneswood.)

Page 186. Note *, for 1556 read 1566; and after Cozwood add "or *Orpe*wood."

Page 196. Administration of the personal estate of Venables Keeling, M.A., Student of Christchurch, Oxford, was granted by the Chancellor's Court of the University, 31 May 1677. (See 'Index to Wills proved in the Court of the Chancellor of the University of Oxford,' pub. 1862.) It appears from the Catalogue of Oxford Graduates that Venables Keeling of Christchurch proceeded M.A. in 1675.

Page 221. Note *, line 5, for 1619 read 1639. Humphrey Lowe was son and heir of Humphrey Lowe of Cakemore. ('List of Admissions to the Inner Temple,' 1877.)
